A Midwinter Hike With the Omaha Walking Club.

Cross country, following a path through fields.

Fences never worry Miss Harriett Mueller, club president. Women members wear short skirts and heavy shoes, or trousers and high top boots, for hiking purposes.

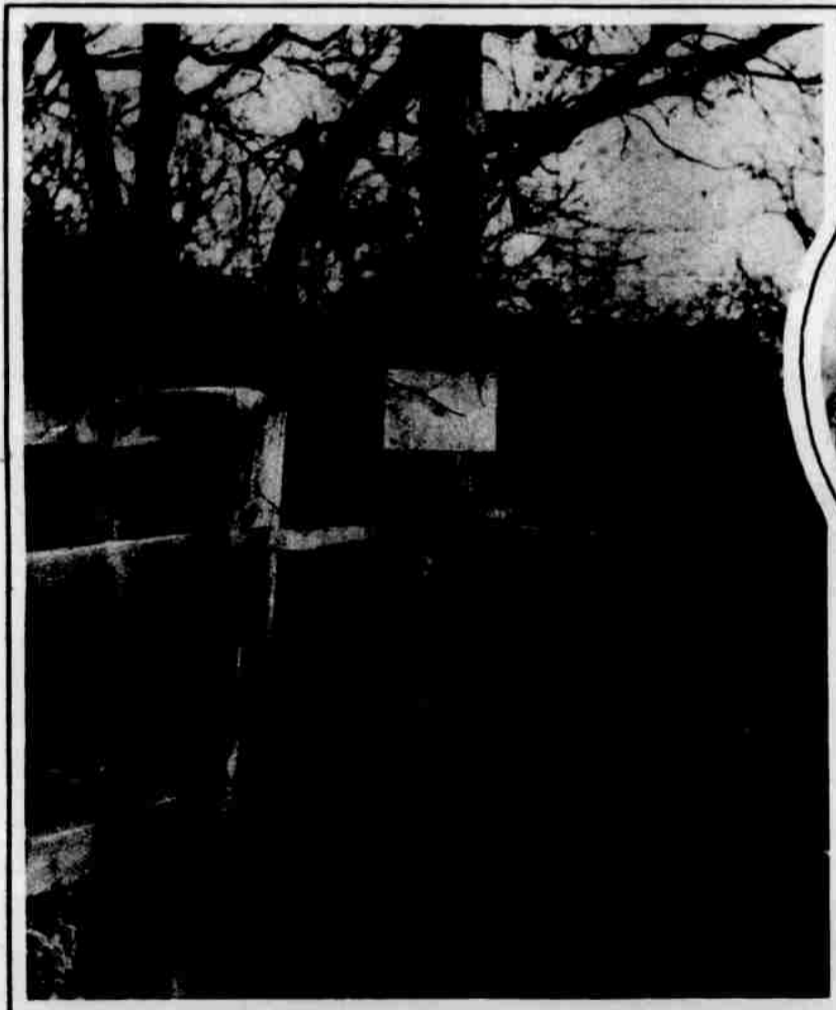

"Full speed ahead." They were getting hungry and looking forward to a hearty dinner. Left to right: Charles Lafferty, Miss Marie Mackin, E. M. Kennedy, Paul Mackin and Miss Lucy Garvin.

Coffee's ready on the club's private cook stove.

Six abreast along a partly overgrown country road. Left to right: Miss Irene Higbee, club treasurer; Dell Pierce, Miss Olive Frazer, Miss Harriett Mueller, William Weist and Edwin S. Jewell.

Club members have spent many pleasant hours grouped around the big fireplace at "the shack." Shows in the photograph are Homer Penneck, Miss Ellen Cameron, Miss Marion Corr, Miss Eleanor Rinnid, Miss Frances Prendergast, Miss Bernice Welch, Mrs. Harriett P. Tooke, Mrs. James E. Layton, Charles E. Lafferty, Miss Marie Mackin, Miss Olive Frazer, Lyman Williams, Richard Scholes, Miss Mary Maxwell, Dell Pierce, S. A. Beranek, E. M. Kennedy, Edwin S. Jewell, Miss Irene Higbee, Miss Harriett Mueller, William Weist and Harry Haberstroh.

Miss Allie Houston, president of the club last year, walked into the danger zone and the photographer "shot."

The club shack in Fontenelle forest, south of Omaha.

Everybody happy. Ready for the start homeward.
