

New System for Judicial Election to Be Tried Out

Active Campaign Promised for Selection of Member of Supreme Court From Sixth District.

O'Neill, Neb., Jan. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—The Sixth Congressional district will be the scene of probably the only active judicial campaign in the state this year. The first year in which judges of the supreme court are to be elected by judicial districts finds vacancies in the three even numbered districts to be filled. In the First district Judge C. B. Letton, the incumbent, is not likely to have opposition in his candidacy for reelection, and the same is reported of Justice Day of Omaha in the Second district.

Justice James R. Dean of Broken Bow is the incumbent from the Sixth district and several candidates already are being groomed in the big district to succeed him should he determine to be a candidate. Because the legislature failed to define the supreme court judicial districts the districts under the new constitution conform to the present congressional districts.

Four of the most prominent district judges in the "Big Sixth" already are being mentioned by their friends as candidates at the primaries in July. In the south part of the district most frequent mention is being made of Judge Bruno O. Hostetler of Kearney in the Twelfth judicial district. In the northeast and the central part of the district Judge Robert R. Dickson of the Fifteenth district, resident of O'Neill, is being urged to become a candidate.

Judge William H. Westover of the Sixteenth district, resident of Rushville, seems to be the chosen candidate of that section. Down in the southwest end of the district Judge Ralph W. Hobart of the Seventeenth district, resident of Mitchell, is being mentioned.

Damato on Trial for Fogg Murder

Mike Damato.

County Attorney Shotwell will file the opening gun of his battle to convict Mike Damato of complicity in the murder of Frank Fogg in District Judge Leslie's court this morning.

Impanelling of a jury to hear the evidence was completed late yesterday. Damato's aged mother was in the courtroom during most of the day, which was occupied entirely by the questioning of prospective jurors.

Mrs. Margaret Burton, 17-year-old daughter of "Finger" Stevens, whose trial on the same charge will follow Damato's trial, remained in the courtroom during the entire day.

Although the state is expected to spring several surprises in its prosecution of Damato, County Attorney Shotwell declined to discuss the order in which he would introduce evidence.

Carnival of Fun Plans Announced

"Building an Ad on Analysis" was the subject of a talk by Charles E. Duffie, advertising counsel of M. E. Smith & Co., at the weekly dinner of the Advertising-Selling League in the Hotel Fontenelle last night.

The meeting last night was under the auspices of the advertising service branch of the league. W. F. Sheetz was the winner of a leather sales portfolio presented by the Corey-McKenzie company.

A detailed announcement of the "First Annual Carnival of Fun," to be held next Monday night at the Fontenelle by the league, was made last night. Martin Defends Norfolk Against Booze Charges

Chief of Firemen's Association Denies Recent Convention Was "Wild Orgy."

Fremont, Neb., Jan. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—John Martin, president of the Nebraska State Volunteer Firemen's association, issued a statement today in defense of the recent convention held at Norfolk and of the city itself regarding the various booze charges that have resulted from the gathering of fire ladders.

"Through a few ill-advised remarks carelessly made, the association and the city of Norfolk have been subject to undue censure by the papers of the state," said Mr. Martin. "These rumors, if allowed to spread, will make a wild orgy of our convention, which is not true. In these times of unemployment, a great many people are turning to the illicit making and selling of various concoctions as a means of livelihood, which is not a local condition but national in character."

"It is but natural in their anxiety to reap a harvest," Mr. Martin continued, "to concentrate wherever a convention is held of any character. It is but natural that in a crowd of 1,000 to 1,200 visitors some few of them will buy from these illicit dealers. And when they do there is bound to be some noise, at least till the victim is down and out."

"That was the case in Norfolk," says Mr. Martin. "There were about 1,200 visitors and among them were a few noisy ones. Being guests of the city of Norfolk, that city did as we would probably do in our own homes, should they unfortunately be called upon to entertain an unwelcome guest—put up with it—for a little while, as long as he remains within the bounds of decency."

Des Moines Woman Dies From Burns

Ignition of Medicinal Plaster Results in Death of Mrs. F. C. Hubbell.

Des Moines, Jan. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—Burns received from the ignition of a medicinal plaster proved fatal here today to Mrs. F. C. Hubbell. Mrs. Hubbell was seriously burned several years ago in an accidental fire and had never fully recovered from the injuries. She was doctoring some of these old wounds with medicinally soaked bandages and while striking a match to light an oil lamp, the head flew off and ignited the bandages. The additional burns, added to reopening of the old wounds, proved fatal.

Mrs. Hubbell was the daughter-in-law of F. M. Hubbell, recognized as Iowa's wealthiest citizen.

Mrs. B. H. Coffman of this city escaped uninjured in a 60-foot down plunge over an embankment in an enclosed car here Sunday. The car skidded and dove off the road down into a ravine without turning over. It came to a halt 60 feet below the highway when it struck a tree. Mrs. Coffman climbed out without a scratch.

Pupils of the University High school, a private institution here, after paying several hundred dollars for their winter tuition, returned to school today to find the doors boarded up and the proprietor, D. A. Evans, formerly connected with the Drake university, missing. Police are searching for Evans.

While her Daddy was away in the War

Drawn from actual photograph of little May Janette Martin, daughter of Mrs. J. Claude Martin, 1951 Felix Ave., Memphis, Tenn.

LITTLE MAY JANETTE was a "war baby" born while her father was in the service. Mrs. Martin, finding it necessary to return to her work, started her baby on Borden's Eagle Brand Milk. As May Janette's five little cousins were brought up on Eagle Brand, naturally Mrs. Martin had great confidence in it. And with good reason. For May Janette—now three-and-a-half years old—is strong, sturdy and full of life and energy—her mother says.

Don't experiment with your baby's food. Eagle Brand has been the standard infant food for many years. Countless mothers, like Mrs. Martin, have found that it made their babies strong and well. Thousands of physicians have recommended it for babies who were underweight and undernourished. For Eagle Brand is very easily digested.

Actually Borden's Eagle Brand Milk contains nothing but pure milk and pure sugar. It is the natural food if mother's milk is not available. It is always pure and uniform. You can get it anywhere.
