And Now Let's All Pull Together For a Bigger and Better Nebraska

- ¶ Sensing a NEW NOTE in the air of Nebraska, The Omaha Bee about two weeks ago sent Paul Greer, The Bee expert on farm economics, to cover the state and report his findings through staff articles in The Omaha Bee.
- ¶ The Greer series constituted perhaps the greatest newspaper series in the history of the state. Greer found conditions better than even the most optimistic had thought them to be. The Nebraska farmer with characteristic courage and industry had already hewed his way to better times, UNTIL ONLY THE SHELL REMAINED TO BE BROKEN THROUGH. Greer, through The Bee series--cracked the shell and awoke Nebraska to a realization of the prosperity that is at hand.
- ¶ Such great newspapers as The New York Times, Boston Transcript and Chicago Tribune reproduced many of the Greer series simultaneously with The Omaha Bee, and did much to set Nebraska right with the world.
- ¶ Only the Calamity Propogandist remains now to be overcome--he who for political or other purposes is willing to depress business, the prices of farm products, and even land values themselves. But even the Calamity Propogandist cannot long survive returning prosperity in Nebraska.
- ¶ For Nebraskans--it's just a question of "pulling together." Let each employer pull with his employes and each employe with his employer. Let the seller keep faith with the buyer, and let the buyer not "lay down" on the seller. Let each member pull with his organization and each organization with its rival organization.
- ¶ Let's do all of this "with malice toward none and charity for all"--FOR A BIGGER AND BETTER NEBRASKA and for an ARMISTICE of the CONSEQUENCES of the World War.
