Commissioner of Porto Rico Raps Governor Reily Charges Executive Lies If He Says First Official Act Was to Veto Increased Salary Act.

"lies, lies and knows he lies," Reily, if he stated that his first official act as governor of the island was the vetoing of an illegal act of the legislature by which the commissioner was to have received $20,000 in added salary during a four-year term of service.

The flarety over the row between the governor and some of the residents came at the conclusion of an hour's speech by Mr. Davila, who sits as a delegate in the house. In his speech the commissioner de-manded a congressional investigation of the governor's conduct, looking to his removal from office. He presented a series of charges and told how his people had appealed to the Hard-ing administration "for relief from Reily methods."

Says Governor Lies.

"That was long before President Harding's election and long before Reily was thought of as governor of the island." Mr. Davila exclaimed. "When he said it was brought to his attention and that he vetoed the bill I am compelled to say that he lies, lies and he knows he lies."

Having accepted the charges, Mr. Tincher, interrupting the commis-sioner, explained that his statement as to the veto was based on a statetion, Mr. Tincher held up a letter which members took to be from the governor, but which was not read.
