

Rosewater May Tour Europe on Exposition Job

Philadelphia Evening Bulletin Carries Picture and Long Article on Former Owner of The Bee.

A picture of Victor Rosewater and a long article concerning his plans as publicity director of the Sesqui-Centennial exposition to be held in Philadelphia in 1926 to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, are in a recent issue of The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

"I shall devote myself, temporarily at least, to suppressing the nation with the importance of the exposition," he said after an interview with Mayor Moore of Philadelphia, who got him the appointment.

Republican Victory Forecast by Henning

(Continued From Page One.) netted them a gain of 70 seats. They can lose 89 seats in the coming election and still have a majority.

Strikes Might Cause Change.

That is the situation as I see it today. Whether it will be the situation next summer or fall no one can say.

No Secret Conventions in Treaty, Says Hughes

Washington, March 11.—Secretary of State Hughes in a letter today to Senator Underwood, democratic leader and arms conference delegate, took occasion to characterize intimations that the American delegates were induced to accept some plans under the four-power Pacific treaty, cunningly contrived by others opposed to American interests as "a very poor and erroneous conception of the work in connection with the conference."

Josephine Victor Replaces Schooler on Orpheum Bill

Through illness of the company of David Schooler, whose musical allegory was to have been the headline attraction at the Orpheum next week, the act has been cancelled.

Probable Rains This Week, Weather Forecast

Washington, March 11.—Weather predictions for the week beginning Monday are:

Native Son Youngest Omahan "for His Age"

"Keep Cheerful," Advises Harry Counsman, 60, Who Fools 'Em All.

Harry G. Counsman

The question, "How old is Ann?" has been scrapped. The new question is, "How old is Harry G. Counsman, county assessor?"

One of the most difficult things Mr. Counsman encounters in the day's work is to convince people that he is 60 years old or that, rather, he is 60 years old on August 24 of last year.

"How do you get that way?" asked a friend the other day, using the current exclamatory expression.

Taxpayers Rebel When Levies Are Excessive

No Reduction.

Township taxes here will not be reduced. The cost of labor on the roads will be less by about 20 per cent, according to W. Anderson, township clerk, who does all the hiring.

No One Appears.

The Edgar township clerk waited for an hour in G. A. R. hall, where a public meeting had been advertised, without any taxpayers or even another member of the board appearing.

Encouraging Signs.

More encouraging signs of decreased taxes are to be found in the basement of the courthouse before a single aged citizen and a newspaperman.

Carriages and Carried Away Jugs of the Water, which was believed to have curative powers.

"Boys, Be Cheerful."

Mr. Counsman remembers the soldiers returning from the civil war and going into camp in North Omaha until mustered out.

Retrenchment in School Expenses is more important.

Retrenchment in school expenses is more important. Go to Clay Center and ask for the school board and you are apt to be told that it is in hiding.

Biggest Saving.

Measured in dollars, the biggest saving of all will be in the county government. Ernest Frisch, county clerk, has announced the estimate of the new levy to be $46,000 less than the last.

Mrs. Obenchain Rests From Ordeal on Witness Stand

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—Madalyn Obenchain, in her cell in the county jail, rested today on the ordeal of two successive days on the witness stand in her trial for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, her sweetheart.

U. S. Out, Genoa Meet May Be Abandoned, Says Daily Mail

London, March 11.—The Daily Mail today says that the refusal of the United States to participate in the Genoa conference so greatly deprives the conference of importance that whether it will be held at all, and that its abandonment may be only a question of days.

Too Much Fun at Dietz Club, Says Ousted Member

Gambling and Private Rum Parties Charged by Former Director Who Seeks Injunction.

A receiver was asked for the Dietz club, a private pleasure club near Carter lake, by Bert Sorenson, who alleges in a petition filed in district court yesterday that a few members "have wasted, disbursed and converted to their own use money and properties of the club and have conspired, connived and consented to the use of houses in the grounds for disorderly purposes, and also for gambling and the disposal of liquor."

Defendants named in the suit are the Dietz club, Edward LaFerty, Gustave M. Ruggs, Roy Letman, John Hartman, Fred Lage, John J. McMahon, Edward Cox, Edgar Barrett and "Top" Salter.

Sorenson, who was a director of the club, charges also that these men conspired to deprive him of his membership and that he was ousted by action of a meeting on February 14.
