Omahans Return From South American Travel.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Gifford returned Friday from a two months' trip to the West Indies and British Guiana. During their stay near Georgetown they were on a plantation which an enterprising Englishman had planted with rubber trees. The trees had been destroyed by a fungus and the Giffords found the place rapidly reverting to jungle. It was a beautiful place on the Mazaruni river with jungle on all sides. Dr. Gifford told of a strange meeting of a friend of theirs with a jaguar. While coasting down the main road into the plantation in a Ford she came face to face with the beast, which was making its toilet on a wayside log, but the meeting was of short duration.

Dr. Gifford and four other men took a 200-mile trip into the interior to the great Kaieteur falls, the last 80 miles of the trip being made in small boats with Indian paddlers. This interior is uninhabited except for a few natives whom they used to pass now and then in woods, a native boat of rough bark made without sewing or nailing. The river banks were covered with heavy forest and small boats made portaging necessary frequently. The Kaieteur falls themselves are 800 feet in a single drop and have cut their way through a stony plateau.

Morning Party.

A most attractive morning party was given on St. Patrick's day by Mrs. C. F. Pratt for her son, Charles Summer Pratt, who was celebrating his eighth birthday. The decorations were potatoes dressed as pigs and a green cake pig. Mrs. E. A. Holyoke and Mrs. Arthur Guioin were guests of honor. Assisting were Marcella Folda, Jane Stewart, Betty McGeath, Margery Adair, Pauline Crowell, Laura Dodge, Evelyn Austin, Margaret Bowen, Marian Foye, Ruth Cochrane and Dorothy Towle. A program was given by members from the School for Instruction. Pupils of the school who were guests included:

Madame Matzenauer

The World's Greatest Contralto

uses a

Steinway

"The Instrument of the Immortals"

The greatest artists use the Steinway, and Matzenauer is no exception. Her voice, which has been described as "The Voice of Gold and Purple," finds a Steinway accompaniment the very best to be had. She sings in Omaha, at the Auditorium, March 24th, under the auspices of the Tuesday Musical Club.

Hear her and note how beautifully her voice harmonizes with the glorious tones of the "Instrument of the Immortals"—THE STEINWAY.

A complete line of these matchless instruments can always be seen at our new warerooms. Instruments of other makes accepted as part payment. Visitors as well as intending purchasers cordially invited.

For the Evening Gown White Crepe Is Good

FASHION BLUE BOOK

by Corinne Lane

New York—(Special Correspondence)—A soft chiffon turn-of-thigh wrap—but not suitors. That is the system of philosophy which has prevailed successfully all winter and it will probably lose none of its force this spring. Chiffons and crepes, crepes and chiffons—it is "A Winter's Tale," just as it probably will be "A Midsummer Night's Dream." For the evening gown white chiffon and various white crepes have dedicated some of their former favor. They are nearly always fashioned after the simplest lines, and the only avenue for variety is provided through the trimming. As this is more closely confined than ever to heads and sequins, however, such individuality of effect is increasingly hard to achieve.

Comfortable Low Shoes for the New Season

Before you select the shoes you are going to wear this spring and summer, remember that Cantilever shoes possess certain desirable features not found in ordinary shoes. Cantilevers are serviceable, being made of the materials in one of our high grade shoe factories ("Edwin C. Hurt," Brooklyn, N. Y.).

They have the flexible arch which fits and supports your foot at its most delicate point. The support is natural and beneficial, for the flexibility of the arch permits your arch muscles to strengthen. Circulation is unimpeded.

They have room for your toes without crowding. The heels are sensible without being ungainly, and they are rightly placed for comfortable walking. There are different heights of heels, none too high for correct posture.

Cantilever shoes have the intelligent design which makes them favored by foot specialists, and the grace of contour which makes them preferred by women who wish to look well and feel well. How you will enjoy the springtime if your feet are free and easy in Cantilever shoes.

All guess work eliminated in fitting your shoes now. We have just installed an X-Ray machine and every shoe is now fitted by X-Ray without extra charge to you.

Sizes 2 to 11. Widths AAAA to EE. For Men and Women. HOSIERY, SPATS AND RUBBERS. Sold in Omaha Only by CANTILEVER SHOE SHOP. Moved to New Location, 1708 Howard St., Opposite Y. W. C. A. Bldg. Write for Free Booklet.
