An Open Letter to E. A. Higgins

Dear Ed:

When we first got you as a customer for The Pantorium, Ed. you were Office Manager down at Swift's. That was more than twenty years ago, wasn't it?

Much water has gone under the bridge since then. We were both normal, energetic youngsters in those days, with all our faculties, while today we are both stone deaf. But they can hardly class us as "dead ones" yet, can they?

I should say not! We are both good for another quarter of a century of hard work, and so far as I am concerned I expect to make The Pantorium grow and prosper more in the next twenty-five years than it has in the past twenty-five.

Well, Ed, I take this method of expressing my appreciation for the business you have sent us, but I guess I owe more to Mrs. Higgins than I do to you, for after you were married we began getting work from the Storz family, and now when one of the children gets married we immediately open a new account in our ledgers. It's nice to get 'em, but nicer still to hold 'em,

Thanks, all of you, and remember we are going to merit the continuance of your valued patronage.

Guy Liggett

P. S .- Ed, if you and Harry Morrill are not too busy selling furnaces, what do you say we get Henry Neely and go out and have a "noisy foursome" some day?
