

Sixteen Debates Are Reported in School Contest

Labor Problems Are Discussed by High School Pupils—96 Teams in League.

Lincoln—Sixteen more district debates—making 50—in the 15th year of work of the Nebraska High School Debating League of 96 schools, have been reported to the president, Prof. M. M. Fogg. The results follow, the 11 trained schools, each case maintaining an affirmative of the league question for the year. "Resolved that the movement of organized labor for the closed shop should receive the support of public opinion."

Delinquent Tax Brings Sarcasm From City Council

Members Inquire if Commissioners Know Omaha is in Douglas County—Treasurer Takes Part.

Do the county commissioners know that Omaha is in Douglas County? City Commissioner H. B. Zimman asked the question during city council meeting, in the presence of County Treasurer M. L. Fudres, and in connection with a discussion on the collection of delinquent special taxes.

The matter came up through a communication sent by E. P. Donahue, auctioneer, to the city council, stating that he has been holding $400 of city sewer warrants for five years and is now desirous of converting the warrants into liquid assets. These warrants accumulate 7 per cent interest until the special taxes are paid and the warrants called in.

What Taxes Collected. The city commissioners took the position that inasmuch as the city government pays the treasurer's office 1 per cent for collections an effort should be made by the county commissioners and the treasurer to collect the back special taxes.

Treasurer Endres admitted that the employing of a few competent collectors would justify such an expenditure, but he explained that he cannot hire collectors without the approval of the county board, whose position is that Omaha pays only 1 per cent to the treasurer for tax collections, as against 2 per cent by county and state.

Board Against Collectors. Treasurer Endres admitted that the employing of a few competent collectors would justify such an expenditure, but he explained that he cannot hire collectors without the approval of the county board, whose position is that Omaha pays only 1 per cent to the treasurer for tax collections, as against 2 per cent by county and state.

What Reaction Falls to Come. What reaction considerably more attention has been given to the fact that when professional speculators, having decided that prices were too high and did not take account of the fact that the coming coal strike, because of the coming coal strike, there could be no other obvious explanation of the coming coal strike, the people who would not sell their stocks because of the bad industrial balance sheets for 1921, or the coming coal strike, or the possible cut in railroad rates, or the new movement in the German market, or the announcement that reaction in the stock market was due on general principles, were more impressed with the signs of recovery than they were in 1921, are 15 points above the closing price of the year 1921, and the stock market has indicated the active presence of an outside public as the stock market has not done.

Promotion for Camp Sheldon Is Started; Camp Opens June 20. The finest boys' camp in the middle west is Camp Sheldon, located at Columbus, Neb., and it is this camp that the Omaha Y. M. C. A. takes its boys for their annual summer outing. Last summer, in competition between camps of the states of Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arkansas, the Omaha boys' camp won second place.

This summer the Omaha "Y" has three 10-day periods at Camp Sheldon and this is open to Omaha boys over 12 years of age, whether members of the Y. M. C. A. or not. Last summer over 50 boys were left behind for lack of space in the camp, and it looks as though it would be as crowded this summer.

Only 100 boys will be taken to each period and applications will be received after April 15. Camp booklets have already gone out to 2,000 Omaha boys, who will be interested in camp, and there is no doubt but that the camps will be filled to overflowing before the time comes to go.

The first camp will be held from June 20 to 30, the second from July 5 to 15, and the third, which will be for Hi-Y leaders only, will be held from August 31 to September 5. E. E. Micklewright will be in charge of all these three camp periods.

350 Elks to Act as Bond Salesmen in Building Drive

Seven Majors and 35 Captains to Report at Meeting Monday Noon With Lists of Workers.

A meeting of the majors and captains in the Elks million dollar bond selling campaign to erect a new club building will be held Monday noon at the Brandeis restaurant.

The seven majors with their 35 captains will report at this meeting with lists of their selected workers. Three hundred and fifty Elks will act as bond salesmen during the week of the campaign, April 24 to 29.

The Elks have a double purpose in desiring a million dollar club building, said Mr. Trimble. "First, it will place Omaha conspicuously on the national map of Elksdom, and it will furnish Omaha with another fine structure, another step to make this city a finer and better one in which to live."

Headquarters of the bond selling campaign are in the Brandeis restaurant building.

Winner High School Wins Many Honors. Winner, S. D.—Honors are coming fast to the Winner High School. The defeat administered to the Hot Springs debating team last week gave Winner the debate championship of the west half of South Dakota.

Rupert Reeves of Winner first place in the Rosebud oratorical contest. He will represent the Rosebud district in the division contest at Elk Point, April 7.

Scholastically, the Winner High School has also received marked recognition. The work being accomplished in Winner has recently been investigated by a representative of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Chadron Normal College. The new bulletin issued by the normal is the most complete revised edition the school has ever put out. Special emphasis has been placed upon some of the general subjects which will be carried out strictly in the school.

The New York Times

By ALEXANDER DANA NOYES. Omaha Bee Lensed News.

New York, April 2.—The foreign exchange market, the grain market and the market for investment bonds have so long held the center of the stage for all serious observers of the drift of affairs, that it was something of a novelty to find the stock market taking the central place. It is not that Wall Street or the general public had lost interest in the recent stock market. Quite aside from that, the market for investment bonds has been so long held the center of the stage for all serious observers of the drift of affairs, that it was something of a novelty to find the stock market taking the central place.

During many weeks, however, the market had merely testified in a desultory way that the general movement of apprehension and liquidation had ended. Professional speculators had, at intervals, rush in to buy stocks from one another, and when prices had risen sufficiently would sell them back to one another, and prices retained some of the advance after each occurrence of the kind.

This had no very obvious meaning beyond the fact that Wall Street calls "official sentiment" or "commission house opinion" was looking more favorably towards intrinsic values.

What Reaction Falls to Come. What reaction considerably more attention has been given to the fact that when professional speculators, having decided that prices were too high and did not take account of the fact that the coming coal strike, because of the coming coal strike, there could be no other obvious explanation of the coming coal strike, the people who would not sell their stocks because of the bad industrial balance sheets for 1921, or the coming coal strike, or the possible cut in railroad rates, or the new movement in the German market, or the announcement that reaction in the stock market was due on general principles, were more impressed with the signs of recovery than they were in 1921, are 15 points above the closing price of the year 1921, and the stock market has indicated the active presence of an outside public as the stock market has not done.
