

Slayer of Airman Concealing Facts. Prosecutor Says

X-Ray Photograph Indicates Lieut. Col. Beck Not Looking at Former Judge When Killed.

Oklahoma City, April 7.—County Attorney Forrest Hughes, in a signed statement to newspaper men today concerning his investigation of the slaying of Lieut. Col. Paul Ward Beck by Jean P. Day, prominent local lawyer and oil man in the latter's home here last Tuesday, said he believed Day fired in defense of his home and not of his life, and that the X-ray photograph of the dead man's head indicated that the army officer was not looking at Day when the fatal shot was fired.

Day had previously stated that when he found Beck in the act of attempting to assault Mrs. Day he struck the officer on the head with a pistol after the latter had made a motion as if to strike him with his fist.

Day said also that the revolver was accidentally discharged from the impact of the blow.

"Swept Off Feet."

The county attorney's statement said that before any gun was fired or any blow was struck "Day saw something that swept him off his feet." He added that in his opinion Judge Day had not told the whole truth concerning the tragedy.

"I am frank to say," Hughes continued, "that if Judge Day should tell the whole truth, no jury of red-blooded citizens would ever render a verdict against him. I am equally candid to say that I believe that so far Judge Day has not told the whole truth."

The handkerchief which Lieut. Col. Beck clutched in his hand when the body was taken over by authorities has a significance in the case which has been overlooked so far, the county attorney said. He added that he did not believe there were other persons present at the time Beck was killed except the three principals in the tragedy and that the only purpose in bringing out the statements from other people who attended the party in the Day home which preceded the slaying was to determine the mental attitude of Day toward Beck.

Best of Friends.

"Previous to the shooting Day and Beck had been the best of friends," Hughes said. "What extraordinary occurrence changed the mental condition of the one toward the other? What caused Mrs. Day after the shooting to moan 'oh, my honor'? These two are the vital questions in the extraordinary tragedy."

"In my opinion," Hughes continued, "there is no doubt that intoxicating liquors were indulged in at the Day home during the fatal night and morning. However, I don't think that Judge Day was in any way under the influence of liquor at the time the shot was fired."

Mr. Hughes stated that one thing "absolutely certain" in his mind was that the gun was discharged "while

Former Supreme Court Judge of Oklahoma Kills U. S. Airman

Jean P. Day.

Lieut. Col. Paul Beck.

The code of honor which should protect a woman from the amorous advances of her husband's friend was invoked by Judge Jean P. Day, one of the foremost lawyers and oil operators of Oklahoma and former supreme court justice, when he killed Lieut. Col. Paul W. Beck, assistant commandant of Post field, the aviation center of Fort Sill. Day, according to dispatches, killed Beck in his home when he found Mrs. Day struggling in the army officer's arms.

immediately adjacent to the head of Paul Beck.

"Whether or not Beck was shot from the front or back," added the county attorney, "is one of the greatest questions involved in this case. The position of the lead in the head of Paul Beck, as shown by an X-ray photograph would tend to indicate that Beck was not looking at Judge Day at the same time of the firing of the fatal shot."

"Judge Day asserts he fired in self-defense. My judgment is, if the shot was fired in self-defense it was in defense of home, and not of his life."

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Prichard and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Anderson, prominent in local society circles, who were present at the party at the Day home, were questioned at a special court of inquiry held in the office of W. R. Withington, county evidence attorney, today. Prichard made a sworn statement at the inquiry, according to Withington, that there was no trouble during the night and that when they left "everything was agreeable and pleasant." Anderson corroborated Prichard's statement.

It was brought out at the inquiry for the first time that Day took the Andersons home first in his motor car and then before dropping the Prichards at their door, returned to the Day home. This, according to Withington, was related by Prichard.

Maj. R. B. Paddock, who was the guest of Prichards, said he wanted to see Lieut. Col. Beck about the return trip to Fort Sill the following day, according to Prichard's testimony. Day then drove the Prichards and Paddock back to the Day home, where they stopped a few minutes before going to the Prichard home around the corner.

This was the message that Mrs. Tom Dolphin, 2124 Clement avenue, Alameda, would have sent to Miss Coghlan today, but, uninformed of the address' address in New York City, she appealed to the Associated Press, whose wires this morning carried the story of Miss Coghlan's plight.

"Please tell Miss Coghlan that she is wanted right here," said Mrs. Dolphin. "There is a big home here to which she is welcome, and a car we'd like to take her riding in; and she needn't get her costumes nor bother about getting new clothes. We want her to come right away."

Mrs. Dolphin's husband, manager of an automobile repair agency, heartily concurred in his wife's request.

Neither Mrs. Dolphin, her husband nor her mother, who compose the household, ever saw Miss Coghlan on the stage.

Almost Goes Astray.

The badly needed new judgeship in New Mexico almost went astray, Senator Bursum, New Mexico, republican, offered the amendment for the new judgeship and the vice president announced a tie vote, 32 to 32. Bursum promptly demanded a recount. While the recount was being made he hurried to the rear of the chamber and held a quick consultation with Senator Dial, who had voted against the amendment. Dial arose and changed his vote, making the tally 33 to 31.

Senator Cummins, Iowa, republican, raised a point of order against the proceeding and Vice President Coolidge sustained it. It was noteworthy that a moment later, Dial offered an amendment for an additional judgeship in South Carolina, and Bursum supported it. The Dial amendment was rejected.

Bursum made another try for a judgeship in New Mexico and succeeded in getting his amendment adopted finally.

Cat Jumps 150 Feet Into Niagara Gorge

Niagara Falls, N. Y., April 7.—"Nig," a pet cat of customs and immigration officials at the American end of the lower steel arch bridge, jumped 150 feet into the gorge last night when chased by a dog and turned up today a little ruffled of fur, but otherwise little worse for the adventure.

After the cat plunged into the gorge, men employed on the bridge saw her crawl about on the rocks below and try to climb up the steel beams of the arch. Efforts to rescue her failed, but today she appeared, dragging herself up the edge of the precipice near the bridge.

"To think that a woman who didn't even know her would extend an invitation like that; it is wonderful."

Mrs. Pitman said her mother couldn't accept the offer, however. At least not yet. For she already has accepted an invitation to spend the summer in a big house on Long Island where all the old friends Rose Coghlan thought had forgotten her can watch over her recovery. She plans to go next week.

One of the letters Miss Coghlan received yesterday contained a $100 check from David Belasco, producer of "Deberan," the last play in which she appeared. Another brought $225 from Carl Hunt, an old friend.

Hungary Unable to Meet Demands for Reparations

Budapest, April 7.—The Hungarian government has sent a note to the reparations commission concerning the commission's request for deliveries of cattle to states formed out of the former Austria-Hungarian empire, the note setting forth that according to the treaty of Trianon such deliveries cannot be demanded later than three months after the treaty came into force. This time having expired, the deliveries can no longer be claimed, the note contends.

The note declares Hungary will be unable to meet the commissions demands unless a foreign loan can be floated.

Father of Boys Crushed With Ax Is Found Dead

Concordia, Kan., Farmer Committed Suicide, Police Believe—Collapsed Under Questioning of Tragedy.

Concordia, Kan., April 7.—L. H. Tremblay, five of whose sons were lashed with an ax early Tuesday resulting in the death of one of them and the probable fatal injury of three others, was found dead at the home of a neighbor early today.

Suicide Theory.

Officers expressed the opinion that Tremblay had committed suicide and advanced the theory that he took a drug last night. According to physicians, Tremblay's injuries were not sufficient to have caused his death, and until last night it was thought that he was recovering from them.

Tremblay's death took place at the home of a neighbor, Joseph Bachand, who found him lying dazed and bleeding in the yard. Bachand, who has been caring for the four younger Tremblay children, also found that a fire had been started in the father's room.

Tremblay, when questioned at length last night by a fingerprint expert, grew suddenly ill.

Farm Mortgaged.

The authorities yesterday began to delve into the financial affairs of the family, especially those of the father, who was a trustee of Shirley township. It was ascertained that a $4,000 mortgage on the Tremblay farm, held by a Beatrice (Neb.) firm, became due June 21 last and had not been paid off. Theodore, the boy who was slain in the barn, carried life insurance amounting to $5,000. No hope is held out by attending physicians at the hospital for Albert and Francis, Alfonso and Cleo, they say, may recover.

Offered Home in California.

Alameda, Cal., April 7.—Rose Coghlan, adored comedy star of two decades ago, who feared that "nobody in the world wants me" because of the tragic role of penury that late recently has cast for her, may know now that there is a home where she is wanted, and wanted eagerly, in this city on the east shore of San Francisco bay.

This was the message that Mrs. Tom Dolphin, 2124 Clement avenue, Alameda, would have sent to Miss Coghlan today, but, uninformed of the address' address in New York City, she appealed to the Associated Press, whose wires this morning carried the story of Miss Coghlan's plight.
