

3 Armed Women Seize and Burn Belfast Papers

Members of Irish Republican Army Plan Raid on Dublin Phone Exchange—Liquor Destroyed

Belfast, April 7.—Three women, armed with revolvers, left a train at the Dunfanaghy road depot in County Donegal today, held up the officials and burned the bundles of newspapers from Belfast. They then re-entered the train, which resumed its journey.

Gather for Raid.

Dublin, April 7.—(By A. P.)—It is reported that members of the Irish republican army in this city gathered during the night with the intention of seizing the Dublin telephone exchange, but that they withdrew on finding the building guarded by free state troops. No disturbance was reported. The troops today were replaced by an adequate force of police.

The "Mexican politics" which the newspapers have been talking about always will be rampant in Ireland under the treaty agreement, because the Irish people are against the treaty. Eamon de Valera declared in an address yesterday at Dun Laoghaire (Kingstown). "If the people do not want Mexican politics," he said, "they must remove the treaty by the roots, and if they want a stable government pending its removal they must allow the Dail Eireann to take its rightful place as the government of the nation."

"But if it (the dail) attempts to do what cannot legally be done, and establish the provisional government of the country, then I tell you such a government will not be obeyed and will not function."

Burn Newspapers.

Belfast, April 7.—The barracks at Faclaragh, seven miles from Dunfanaghy, have been seized by republican forces.

Liquor Destroyed.

Dublin, April 7.—(By A. P.)—Five hundred thousand gallons of wine and whisky were destroyed last night by members of the Irish republican army, who forced their way into the bonded stores of the custom house here, it was stated officially today by a Belfast boycott official. He estimated the revenue loss at nearly £2,000,000. A guard kept watch outside the stores, while volunteers worked inside throughout the night, smashing casks and letting their contents flow promiscuously.
