

Tariff Bill Presented to Senate

Measure Will Not Be Called for Discussion Before April 20, McCumber Declares.

Long Debate Expected

Washington, April 11.—The long-awaited administration tariff bill was presented today in the senate.

Experts who assisted the senate finance committee majority to prepare the bill, estimate that the average of its rates is slightly higher than the average of the Payne-Aldrich law, the last republican tariff act.

While they have not completed all calculations, treasury experts say that the senate measure probably would raise about $300,000,000 and $350,000,000 in revenue as compared with the estimate of $300,000,000 for the Fordney bill and the $308,000,000 of revenue returned in the calendar year 1921 from the joint operation of the Underwood law and emergency tariff act.

In returning to the foreign valuation principle, the senate committee majority carried out suggestions of President Harding last December for a flexible tariff.

To modify tariff rates either upward or downward within prescribed limits (50 per cent) and in accordance with definite rules laid down by congress so that rates may at all times conform to existing conditions.

To change the basis for the assessment of ad valorem duties on selected items from the foreign value to the value of the domestic article in the American market.

To impose penalty duties or prohibit the importation of particular goods.

Say Norton on Verge of Hysteria

Must Explain Attitude Toward Hitchcock, Democrat, While Aiding Arthur Wray.

Bryan Gives Interview

Lincoln, April 11.—(Special Telegram.)—J. N. Norton, confessed political bigamist of Nebraska, must tell the voters whom he loves most, the third party, headed by Arthur G. Wray of York, third party candidate for United States senator, or Gilbert M. Hitchcock, admitted to be the democratic candidate for United States senator.

That was the statement of both third party and democratic leaders tonight on the eve of a statement to be issued tomorrow by Norton. The situation as outlined by members of both parties follows:

Norton has filed as democratic nominee for governor, and the head of the democratic ticket is expected to be Gilbert M. Hitchcock, charged by the third party chairman as being the "worst reactionary and political hypocrite on the political map of Nebraska."

Norton has admitted that he will accept the third party nomination for governor. As a result of his acceptance, Arthur G. Wray has withdrawn as the third party candidate, and has announced as the third party candidate for United States senator. Wray, in withdrawing, stated that he did so with the understanding Norton would be the third party candidate for governor.

Law Is Laid Down

Norton, who filed as a candidate 24 hours ago, is reported to be a man on the verge of hysteria tonight endeavoring to explain how he can ride the democratic and the third party horse to water. His original plan was to give a statement to newspaper men early Tuesday morning on Wednesday. There is some doubt whether he tonight as to whether he will have his explanation ready by Wednesday.

J. H. Edmisten, chairman of the third party central committee, who has been asked to determine today whether the third party has surrendered to the Hitchcock influence, said:

"Norton can't support Hitchcock and receive the support of the third party."

Bryan may become the democratic nominee for governor should Norton refuse to endorse Hitchcock, politicians predict.
