

Tom Kelly Gets Two-Year Term in Canadian Prison

Ex-Deputy Sheriff's Career Marked by Gun Battles With Officers and Daring Escapes.

Tom Kelly, highjacker, former deputy sheriff and participant in several gun battles with Omaha police and federal agents, has been sentenced to two years in a Canadian penitentiary, according to word reaching police here yesterday from Regina, Canada.

The sentence officially terminates Kelly's career as a whisky runner across the Canadian border. Kelly was convicted on a charge of high-jacking following his arrest at Sioux Falls, S. D. He fought extradition to the last, but unsuccessfully.

Kelly's career is one of thrills and daring escapes. He eluded a squad of Canadian officers who swooped into Omaha a year or so ago by leaping into his last motor and heading for the Mexican border. Omaha police were instructed to arrest him if he ever returned to the city.

But, according to acquaintances, Kelly did return, bringing with him all the contraband liquor his car could carry, on numerous occasions. He was wounded in a gun battle with police at Twentieth and Cass streets some two years ago, but escaped prosecution.

Grocery Owners Charged With Selling Hops and Malt

They are charged with advertising and selling hops, malt extracts, bottles and other paraphernalia for the making of home brew. They were released late yesterday afternoon on $1,000 bonds. The trial is set for April 28.

How You Can Remove Every Trace of Hair
(Toilet Talks.)
A stiff paste made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on a hairy surface about 2 minutes will, when removed, take every trace of hair with it. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining delatone. No harm can result from this treatment, but be sure it is delatone you get and you will not be disappointed. Mix fresh as needed.

Star of "Foolish Wives" to Be in Omaha for Week

A chic and charming miss registered at the Hotel Fontenelle yesterday as "Miss du Pont, L. A." In a long heavy coat topped off in style with a nobby, beaded toque, she was the cynosure of all eyes.

"Madame du Pont of the movies?" the hotel clerk stammered.

"Miss du Pont, if you please," the young woman sweetly replied. She arrived in Omaha secretly yesterday enroute back to Los Angeles from New York city. She will remain in this city for one week. A coincidence of her personal appearance in Omaha is the presentation of her latest screen achievement, "Foolish Wives," at the Brandeis theater, beginning today, in which the star portrays the wife of an American ambassador.

Miss du Pont has been in the movies but two years. Asked what would keep her from the screen, she replied, smilingly: "A husband might, but—I don't contemplate marriage—yet."

"What good looking actor have you in mind?" the star was asked.

"No actors for me," was her curt answer. "You know, women consider it an inherent trait to powder and rouge, but when a man does so—he'll make no husband, not for me."

Like all women, Miss du Pont refuses to tell her age, though a guess would put it under 20.

Fined for Carrying Arms

Three men pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons before District Judge Leslie yesterday and were fined $10 each. The men, Joe Blakney, Robert Hardy and Robert Washington, were arrested during the recent butcher workmen's strike.

Husband Relents, Wife to Have Baby of Two Families

"I Feel I Must Take Child," Man Writes, but I Want to Get His Father."

The little "hypnotic triangle baby" is going back to its mother's arms. Edward Herbert, born to Herbert Edward Russ and Mrs. Archie Lambert, who ran away from her husband in Minnesota two years ago with Russ, now is at the Child Saving Institute.

After Lambert had refused to take the babe, but said he would welcome home his wife for the sake of their five little children, Mrs. Lambert boarded a train Monday night for Zimmerman, Minn. Russ was discharged in police court.

Yesterday, however, Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers, assistant director of the child aid division of the Nebraska Humane society, received a letter from Lambert which said:

"I have been wrong in asking her to leave the child behind. I feel that I must take it. It would be a terrible thing to deprive a tiny baby of its mother and leave it alone in the world. The child is not to blame. But—I want to get his father."

Mrs. Rogers said yesterday afternoon every resource of the Humane society would be bent toward getting little Edward Herbert back to his mother.
