

House and Senate Are Far Apart on Tariff Measure

Judge Green of Iowa, Who Will Be One of Conferers, Will Work for Early Agreement.

By E. C. SNYDER.
Washington Correspondent Omaha Bee.
Washington, April 14.—(Special Telegram.)—Now that the tariff bill is in the senate and tariff experts have had a chance to get over the bill item by item the changes between the senate and house measures become more pronounced. A comparison of the ad valorem duties of the senate bill with those of the house measure is somewhat difficult owing to the fact that while those in the senate bill are estimated on the foreign valuation the house bill contemplates an American valuation. The specific duties in the senate bill, as a rule, are raised.

Judge Green of Iowa, ranking member of the ways and means committee, in a close and painstaking comparison of the house bill to the senate measure, said today:
Differ on Crockery.
"The duty on common crockery is 50 per cent ad valorem, and on china 70 per cent ad valorem in the senate bill, while in the house bill the rates are 28 per cent and 40 per cent on the American valuation. In the metal schedule the most conspicuous increase is in cutlery, including scissors and razors. The wood schedule is not essentially changed, nor is the sugar schedule. The rate on wrapper tobacco is raised. Nearly all the specific duties on agricultural products are raised. The duties on fresh beef and veal is 3 1-2 cents instead of 2 cents per pound; on fresh mutton, 2 1-2 cents instead of 1 1-4 cents; on lamb, 5 cents instead of 2 cents. Eggs are raised from 6 cents to 8 cents per dozen; oats from 10 cents per bushel to 15 cents per bushel; wheat from 25 cents to 30 cents; rye from 10 cents to 15 cents; and flour from 50 cents to 78 cents per 100 pounds. The addition to the duties on wheat and flour, to my mind, are entirely unnecessary. The duties on beans, peas, potatoes and tomatoes are also raised. Hides were on the free list in the house bill. The senate bill carries a rate of 2 cents per pound on green hides and 4 cents per pound upon dried, with compensating duties on leather and manufactures of leather. The opponents of the duty claim, that this will increase the prices of shoes and harness and that the packers will not pay any higher rate for the live animals.

Expects Higher Wool Rate.
"The rate on wool is estimated in so much a different manner from that of the house bill that it is very difficult to compare, but in my judgment it will result in a somewhat higher rate than is provided by the house bill and the system is an improvement on the plan of the house bill. The wool schedule has been almost entirely rewritten. The rates on nearly all the wool fabrics appear to have been raised from the house rates. The silk schedule, taking into consideration the change in the system of valuation, is not greatly changed although some of the duties are raised.

"It has been announced by some members that the house will never agree to the change from American to foreign valuation, but I have always considered that the main defect in the house bill consisted in taking the American valuation as its basis. It has seemed to many that this valuation would be easy to obtain, but the report of an investigating committee, made to the senators, showed just the contrary, and its use resulted in the imposition of higher duties in many cases than were really intended to be imposed. In fact, the objections are so numerous that they cannot be stated in an ordinary interview. The senate plan authorizing the president to require the American selling price instead of the foreign valuation, in cases where the funds of an industry in this country is likely to be injured, will, in my opinion, give all of the benefits of the American valuation plan without its impracticable features.

Says Haste is Urgent.
"The business interests of the country are rightly demanding not only that they should cease to be compelled to operate under the present low duties of the Underwood tariff, but that they should, at an early date, know under what conditions they can continue their business. The demand for early action is imperative. I shall be one of the conferees between the house and senate and will do my utmost to bring about an early agreement between the two houses when the bill has passed the senate."

Tucson, Ariz., April 14.—(Special.)—Beneath the wreckage of a heavy touring car when the automobile turned over while rounding a curve five miles from San Carlos, and held under the machine for over six hours before aid arrived, C. Woman Convicted of Murder Admits Confession a Fake

Mrs. Louise Peete, Serving Life Sentence, Says Recent Statement Made in Hope of Gaining Freedom.

Los Angeles, April 14.—Mrs. Louise L. Peete, formerly of Denver, now serving a life sentence at San Quentin prison for the murder of Jacob Charles Denton at his home here two years ago, has admitted to investigators that a "confession" made recently by her was untrue and was based on a hope of freedom.
Henry Dennison and Nettie B. Yaw, deputy sheriffs, brought the word of her last statement back from San Quentin today. It was supported by a similar statement from an attorney who has been engaged in trying to get Mrs. Peete a further hearing, either before the courts or the governor.
The investigators announced they would turn the statement over to the district attorney, in the belief that it had been instigated by persons who hoped to use it in blackmailing operations directed against the men mentioned in it. There were two men named, one a prominent manufacturer formerly of Los Angeles and the other an ex-official of the city administration.

The confession said to have been repudiated was made after Mrs. Peete was committed to prison. It told that one of the men named was infatuated with her and that the other found them together at midnight in the Denton home, where Mrs. Peete was employed. Denton came in at the moment, she said, and his death by shooting followed in the subsequent quarrel.

Martin Beck Re-Elected Head of Orpheum Circuit
Chicago, April 14.—The executive committee of the Orpheum circuit, at its annual meeting unanimously re-elected Martin Beck head of the organization. Thus many rumors were set at rest. The vaudeville world had been told of late that Beck would resign his leadership to rest for a year, after which he would devote his attention to his extensive list of theatrical and other properties.
Though the Orpheum has transferred its headquarters to Chicago, Beck will retain his office in New York.

Giant Airplanes to Start Trans-U.S. Service Shortly

Edith Rockefeller McCormick Announces Planes to Cost $2,000,000 Will Carry 200 Passengers Each.

Chicago, April 14.—A regular scheduled flying service between New York and Chicago has been planned and will be inaugurated soon, to be followed shortly thereafter by transcontinental passenger service, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick announced today.
The New York-Chicago service is expected to eclipse all previous records, Mrs. McCormick said, with a 10-hour schedule and rates as reasonable as those on the best transcontinental trains.
The proposed planes would cost $2,000,000 each and would carry 200 passengers and 25,000 pounds of freight, according to the plans Mrs. McCormick announced. When completed they will excel those now in use in Europe in capacity, appointment and comfort.

Total Victims in German Mine Explosion Number 23

Berlin, April 14.—The total number of the victims from the explosion of a mine a few days ago in a cemetery at Gleiwitz, upper Silesia, now has reached 23, says a dispatch from Breslau to the Vossische Zeitung. It is believed here that the interred authorities are convinced that the explosion was accidental but nevertheless, says the newspaper, the Poles continue in an aggressive attitude, accusing the Germans of authorship of the explosion.

One-Minute Store Talk

"It's certainly a relief to come here and buy clothes where organized experience is at one's service instead of unorganized experiment, which is so rampant in the ordinary run of so-called clothing stores," is the terse way in which a customer of ours sized up the situation that all clothing customers will do well to analyze.
