

Noted Educator Comes to Defense of Gen. Semenov

University of California President, Ex-Yank Officer in Siberia, Declares General Friend of U. S.

San Francisco, April 15.—General George Semenov, former attorney of the Cossacks, whose financial entanglements led him to a New York jail, was termed "a friend of the American troops in Siberia" in a statement published in the Chronicle today by David P. Barrows, president of the University of California.

The educator said, according to the Chronicle, "General Semenov is a human being, a man to whom death is a just, but he was the friend of the American troops in Siberia and just now is much misunderstood."

"A Man Without Fear." The charge that Semenov permitted American troops to be murdered was declared due to a misunderstanding resulting from the bitter feud between Semenov and Admiral Makar, another anti-soviet marauder.

The interview quotes Dr. Barrows as saying that Semenov was "one of the greatest fighting leaders in the world, a man absolutely without fear." On one occasion, according to the statement, Dr. Barrows saw the Cossack leader wounded four times by grenades in an engagement with the bolsheviks.

"The Americans held the western sector," he said, reverting to the feud between the leaders, "and it was necessary for Semenov to send troops across the road guarded by American forces."

Hated Bolsheviki. "Colonel Marrow, the American commander, who with the others recognized Colonel Kolchak of the Whites opposed to the bolsheviks, requested Semenov first to get Kolchak's approval. Semenov refused and his men were sent on. They were stopped at the American sector. Firing broke out. A few Americans were killed. Practically all the Russian force was wiped out. They were moved down almost to a man."

"I do not want to appear to defend Semenov. Neither do I want to condemn him. He was a man of iron, both in courage and leadership. More than once he told me of his intense admiration for American troops. I know he was earnest in his will and support of the American force and made every effort to enlist our aid before he accepted the offer of the Japanese. Whatever he did was with the sole aim of beating the bolsheviks, whom he hated."

I., April 15.—All National guard troops except a detail of 25, left to look after the handling and shipment of quartermaster stores and supplies, were withdrawn from strike duty in Pawtucket yesterday and demobilized by order of the governor.

Famous Old Frisco Restaurant Succumbs to Prohibition Laws. San Francisco, April 15.—The Old Frisco restaurant, a San Francisco institution since the gold days of 1849, has succumbed to the change wrought by prohibition and will be closed.

A sale of the furniture and fittings of upper rooms where private banquets and other celebrations used to be held will take place April 21 and the restaurant itself will cease operations soon afterward. It is the fourth well-known restaurant in San Francisco to close since the prohibition law went in force.

"How can a person with a palate, a stomach and a knowledge of cooking be content with laws that limit his diet as narrowly as nature limits the tastes of a cow?" asked Camille Maillabean, one of the proprietors, today. "Is he to be taught by law the simplicity of the cow? Enough! We go to France!"

Masons Build Washington Memorial

Masonic Memorial to George Washington at Alexandria, Va.

Alexandria, Va., April 15.—This historic little city on the Potomac, recently referred to by its citizens as the "home town" of George Washington, soon will have one of the most magnificent temples in the world, to be erected by the Masons of the United States as a memorial to America's first president.

After 12 years of endeavor on the part of the Alexandria Masonic lodge, of which at one time Washington was master, plans for the construction of the pretentious tower were approved formally at the 12th annual meeting of the George Washington Memorial association, and work was ordered begun immediately.

Situated on a ridge in Washington park, on the edge of Alexandria, the imposing edifice that will stand as a tribute to the father of his country will command a splendid view of the national capital, the city dedicated to him and which bears his name. It will be located so that all who make pilgrimage from Washington to Mount Vernon will pass by it.

The structure and surrounding grounds will cost approximately $2,500,000. The dimensions over all will be 100 feet in width by 230 feet in depth, exclusive of steps, terraces and approaches. The height to the summit of the covered observation platform, from which visitors may obtain a striking panoramic view of the country where Washington spent the greater part of his life, will be 200 feet.

In the center of the spacious structure will be an atrium, 70 by 100 feet, to form a memorial hall, which will contain a life-size statue of Washington. This memorial hall, 64 feet in height, will rise, by a clerestory, above the surrounding portion of the building and will be enclosed by a number of rooms dedicated to the use of Masonic interests, wherein every Masonic organization in the United States may have space.

Rising above the memorial hall and forming the second story of the tower will be a museum, to which will be transferred some of the most treasured possessions of the Alexandria-Washington Masonic lodge. Among the relics and heirlooms which will be placed in this museum are Washington's old bed chamber clock, an old hour glass and the chair occupied by Washington as worshipful master of the lodge. This chair was in use for 122 years and is held invaluable.

The cornerstone of the memorial, according to present plans, will be laid November 4 next, the anniversary of the day on which Washington was initiated as America's first president. When completed the memorial will be a fitting mate to the George Washington Memorial association's building to be erected in the national capital in tribute to the man who founded the government of the United States.

Both memorials will be among the most architecturally beautiful structures in the world and will stand as silent sentinels over the city which bears Washington's name and the state which produced America's foremost soldier and statesman.

Professor Scores Persons Who Scout Evolution Theory

Columbus, O., April 15.—Modern theorists who refuse to accept the doctrine of evolution were characterized as ignorant and prejudiced by Prof. R. C. Osburn, president of the Ohio Academy of Science, in an address before that body here last night.

Prof. Osburn, who is a member of the department of zoology at Ohio State university, said the more enlightened churchmen the world over accepted evolution as one of the great fundamental truths of science. "Only the ignorant and prejudiced among them are left to butt their heads against the wall of scientific evidence," he declared.

Levees Break, 5,000 Illinois Acres Flooded

Water 11 Feet Deep in Vicinity of Grand Tower After Ramparts Give Way—Hundreds Homeless.

Cairo, Ill., April 15.—A break occurred in the levee at Grand Tower this morning and the swollen Mississippi spread over 5,000 acres of cultivated land. The water 6 1/2 feet deep in some places and all residents have fled to high ground.

Chicago, April 15.—Flood waters in southern Illinois streams, higher than ever recorded for more than 50 years, today had made hundreds of families homeless, inundated many thousands acres of crops and threatened extensive property damage in half a dozen towns, principally along the Illinois river.

Although the gradual rise gave warning so that loss of life was minimized, efforts to protect property by strengthening levees proved futile. Several feet of water flowed today through Beardstown, Naples and parts of Peking and East Fordia, while residents of towns in drainage districts around Cairo worked frantically to strengthen their levees.

At Beardstown water has been higher than the dikes for several days. At Aldridge 200 feet of levee gave way, inundating 80,000 acres.

Worcester, Mass., April 15.—Ethel Harrington, Botaniast of Shrewsbury, a concert and opera singer, was granted a divorce from her husband, Pierre Botassi of Athens, Greece, by Judge Sanderson in the superior court yesterday. She charged desertion.
