Don't Squeeze Blackheads

THERE, I hope, I have said that strong enough, squeezing out blackheads makes large pores, large pores make coarse skin and coarse skin makes wrinkles. The only safe and sure way to get rid of pesky blackheads is to dissolve them. This is simple. Get a little box of Epsom salts from your druggist, follow the simple directions on the package and after one application you will find that most, if not all, of the blackheads have been dissolved away entirely.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS.

RUTH: The electric needle is painful, slow and uncertain. I am very much in favor of the new method of dissolving hairs away. This can very easily be accomplished with safe solution, which you can get at any drug store. This is the only preparation I know of that does the work without any irritation whatever.

BETTY: Your muddy, oily skin will not worry you any longer if you will use a lotion made of zincine dissolved in water. Simply get a package of zincine from your druggist, dissolve it in a pint of water. Every night before retiring wash your face and arms with plenty of warm water and good soap, dry thoroughly and apply the zincine lotion generously, rubbing it until it disappears; after a few nights you will be surprised at the improvement in your skin.

UNITA: I have little faith in your olive oil treatment, from what you say I
