The latest addition to our line is the ROSE High Pressure Lubricating System. This system consists of a high pressure nickel-plated screw grease gun, with a capacity of three quarters of a pound of grease, and locked to the fittings with a special patented connection, which will not leak under 2,000 pounds pressure. This patented connection has no springs or gaskets, but has instead a ground joint gas tight.

We manufacture replacement fittings, making it possible to equip practically every car, truck or tractor manufactured.
