

Omahans Honor Victor Rosewater on Eve of Leaving

Give Luncheon for Former Owner of The Bee Who Goes to Important Exposition Post.

The scheduled departure of Victor Rosewater, former owner of The Bee, to Philadelphia tonight, to begin his new work as assistant to the president of the Sequentennial exposition, was made the occasion of a farewell luncheon in Burgess-Nash company's restaurant Saturday noon.

H. H. Baldrige, who presided, referred to Mr. Rosewater's new position as an honored post and spoke of The Bee as a potent force for the upbuilding of Omaha and Nebraska.

"We all wish Mr. Rosewater great success in his new undertaking and no doubt that he will return to Omaha when his work in Philadelphia shall have been completed," said T. W. Blackburn, who was identified with the editorial department of The Bee many years ago.

Says Experience Valuable.
John L. Kennedy expressed the belief that Mr. Rosewater's experience with the Transmississippi exposition at Omaha would serve him well in the work of promoting the Philadelphia exposition.

"My absence from Omaha on this occasion will be temporary insofar as I can say at this time," Mr. Rosewater asserted in his response. "But none can tell what five years may bring forth. I wish to state in behalf of Philadelphia that I was there last month and I found it more wide awake than many are willing to give it credit. This exposition will be commemorative of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence and it will reflect the progress made in the arts and science and industry during the 50 years since the Centennial exposition was held in the City of Brotherly Love."

Prominent Men Attend.
Among those attending the function were: H. H. Baldrige, J. L. Kennedy, Judge A. C. Wakelcy, J. B. Haynes, C. E. Black, Paul W. Kuhns, Dr. W. R. McGrew, G. H. Payne, Dr. O. S. Hoffman, Edson Rich, Eugene Duval, Stockton Heth, B. A. Wilcox, T. W. Blackburn, Thomas F. Godfrey, B. Brewster, C. E. Young, Isidor Ziegler, R. I. Metcalfe, C. L. Saunders, Ben F. Smith, W. F. ### Farmers Win in Irrigation Suit

Upholding of Agreement to Cut Indebtedness Means $700,000 Saving.

Farmers of Scottsbluff county won a verdict in the United States circuit court of appeals yesterday which will be worth $700,000 to them. Word of the decision was received by Stout, Rose & Wells, attorneys for the Farmers' Irrigation district of Scottsbluff.

The suit was brought by the New York Trust company to break an agreement made by the bondholders to deduct $203,000 from the irrigation district's indebtedness, and reduce the interest on the remaining $2,000,000 from 6 to 4 per cent, said Mr. Rose.

This agreement was made when the irrigation district was in financial difficulties in 1915. Federal Judge Woodrough upheld the agreement and now the circuit court of appeals has affirmed his decision. The irrigation district comprises about 63,000 acres and this decision eventually will mean about $700,000 gain to the farmers.

Mother Becomes Whisky-Maker to Purchase Food

Tells Raiding Squad She Needed Money for Children—Claims Husband Innocent.

"The children needed food," Mrs. Anna Brown, 4017 Ohio street, said simply to police when she called at police station last night to surrender herself on a charge of illegal manufacture of whisky.

Police under Sergeant Williams raided the Brown home Saturday afternoon. They found a large still and a quantity of mash.

Mrs. Brown was not at home when the raid was made, and to ensure her appearance Sergeant Williams took the oldest child, Lee, 12. The sister, Helen, 8, was left sobbing.

"I wasn't going to let the children starve—laws or no laws," Mrs. Brown exclaimed while police were entering her name on the records. Their dad was out of a job—he hadn't had one until yesterday for the last eight months. We just had to do it, that's all!"

Mrs. Brown also told the officers her husband had no knowledge of the fact that whisky was being distilled at their home.

Mrs. Brown will be tried on the police charges and then will be turned over to federal authorities for disposition. She may face a term in Leavenworth prison, officers said last night.

Stephens Makes Good on Bus Line in Ohio

Opinions differ as to the relative merit of tests to which the average motor car is put, but there seems to be agreement in motor circles that the machine which becomes a bus has the hardest life.

The travel at a high rate of speed over long distances in all types of weather is regarded as the combination of factors that make the bus life of most cars a short one.

Certain autos have proved their worth, however, in the bus business. Mention was made yesterday at the Mid-City Motor & Supply company, Stephens distributors in this territory, of a Stephens Salient Six that plies between Youngstown and Warren, O.

H. L. Reed reported traveling this route at an average of 35 miles an hour and in the best of comfort, with 11 other passengers. The bus is a regular Stephens chassis with a few changes in body construction to afford larger seating capacity.

The owner said that he averages over 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline and 10,000 miles on his tires. The bus had run over 55,000 miles and was still going without a rattle or squeak to denote wear.

Cheney and his wife confessed, according to police, that they could not keep up the payments on the house and that money was needed to send Mrs. Cheney to the hospital.

Two attempts were made to burn the house, but in both instances the flames were extinguished by the fire department before much headway had been gained.
