Canal Workers Threaten to Quit

Employes in Panama Zone Declare Perquisites Denied Through Order of President.

Washington, April 28.—The Pan-ama canal is to be wrecked be-cause the United States workers on the canal zone have been denied heir perquisites by an order of Harding, according Villiam C. Hushing, member of the Panama canal wage board and the 'anama , canal complaints board, the represents the canal employes and is asking relief from congress.

The canal workers do not intend to blow up the canal; but intend to leave the canal zone and return to the United States unless their perquisites are restored to them, Hushing said. They will tell other workers in the United States how unsatisfactory climatic and working conditions in the canal zone really are and they do not believe any one will go there to take up the work without perquisites, he assert-

Representative Cooper, republican, of Ohio, a labor member of con-gress, has taken up the cudgels in hehalf of the canal zone employes. He has introduced in congress a bill restoring conditions of employment on the canal zone as they existed up to January 1 last, at which time the perquisites were cut out by the president on the recommendation of special Panama canal commission, which spent a month investigating the canal in the summer of 1921.

The American employes on the canal, according to Representative Cooper, have been selected after rigorous physical and mental tests from the finest craftsmen and clerical workers in the United States. They were induced to enter tropical service by the customary 25 per cent differential in wages, and free quarters, light, fuel and sanitation, Service in the tropics entails from 20 to 30 days cumulative leave each year and 24 days annual leave, with seven days travel time to enable an employe to return to the United States periodically to resuperate his health. These perquisites are gone because of the order of the president, Cooper declared, Representatives of the canal employes assert that in the order revoking the perquisites there has been discrimination against the skilled American workman in favor of the executives and the alien negro workmen. The latter, mostly British, continue to receive free heat, light and sanitation, they say, while American workmen are required to pay a rental 60 per cent greater than that of the negro workmen for similar quarters, and are charged for heat, light and sanitation.

Panama canal zone fomerly received the same perquisites as the skilled workmen, but when these perquisites were revoked the officers had their pay increased $50 to $100 a month. The pay of workmen has been reduced in many instances, and further reductions are scheduled. The average pay of skilled workmen and the clerical staff of the Panama canal is $182 a month, which includes the differential of 25 per cent over compensation for similar work in the United States. Governor Morrow of the Panama canal zone, has sided with the employes in their protest. He has told Secretary of War Weeks that "adoptthese recommendations at once and in toto would ruin the Continuing, Governor Morrow says: "We would soon have a halting, limping service, damage bills to an incalcuable extent, a very con-siderable traffic loss, a wholesale desertion of highly-expert employes, resulting in a disorganized service that could never be restored to even a small fraction of its present efficiency; also, a valuable strategic asset would be almost totally de-stroyed. The net result would be an actual financial loss as well as a great loss in national prestige."
