

"Bud" Hyers' Long Trip for License Is to No Avail

License Issued in Bluffs No Good in Lincoln, State Sheriff's Son Finds.

"Bud" Hyers, son of the state sheriff, drove all the way from Lincoln to Council Bluffs yesterday for nothing.

"Bud," whose right name is Frances, and who was missing from his father's office in Lincoln today, got a marriage license on his flying trip.

Neither the girl nor Sheriff Gus knew anything about it, they claim.

"I certainly is a mighty pleasant surprise," admitted Miss Webb, shyly. "I worked all day yesterday."

"I didn't know a thing about it, either," agreed the state sheriff, "but I'm mighty glad to hear it. She's about the finest girl in the world."

It seems to me, though, Bud should have read up on the law a bit before he took that long ride, for as I recollect it, he must marry in the same county in which he gets the license.

"Maybe we can persuade him to spend another $5 for another license at Lincoln and have the wedding here. But I must find my wife first. She left the house as soon as she heard the news and I've been hunting for her three hours now, so we can make arrangements for the wedding."

Went to School Together. Bud is the sheriff's only son. He's 22. So is the girl. They went to high school together. Bud graduated this spring from the state agricultural college.

The sheriff planned to send him to California this summer and set him up in business there.

The sheriff also has a daughter. She is Mrs. Martha Huber of Lyman, Neb. She eloped, but Bud's apparent elopement plans seemingly went awry.

Omaha Man Beaten When Caught Peeping in Window

Grand Island, Neb., April 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Returning to his home last evening after hunting for some boys who had run over his 3-year-old child with a bicycle, C. A. Martin, automobile salesman, was attracted to a window of his own residence by the shadow of a man.

He approached cautiously and for a few moments observed the man peering into the room. The peeper had one eye closed and the other artistically tinted. Police were called and the offender gave his name as Ray Simpson of Omaha, who came here as telephone lineman. He was fined $10 in police court.

Why the Foot Has 26 Bones

Why wouldn't one bone, arched in the center, do as well? Because those 26 bones, set in sliding joints, held by elastic ligaments, make up a movable foot, a flexible arch. The muscles which support these small bones are intended to function with every movement of the foot. A stiff-soled shoe which forbids that movement is uncomfortable, harmful in many cases. But the Cantilever Shoe is flexible like the arch of the foot.

STRENGTHENED BY WALKING. There is no steel shank piece in a Cantilever as there is in ordinary shoes. In Cantilevers the muscles move freely; they grow strong from the exercise of walking. Cantilevers strengthen the arch because they strengthen the muscles that uphold the small bones of the foot.

The under-arch sole of a Cantilever is accurately designed to fit the curve of the foot and support the instep. The last provides room for the toes and allows the foot to lie in its natural position. The heel, of smart and comfortable walking height, is set to encourage good posture. The shoes are good-looking; they are in good taste for day-time wear. Try a pair this week.

All guesswork eliminated in fitting your shoes now. We have just installed an X-Ray machine and every shoe is now fitted by X-Ray without extra charge to you. Sizes 2 to 11, Widths AAAA to EE For Men and Women. ROSIER, SPATS AND RUBBERS Sold in Omaha Only by CANTILEVER SHOE SHOP 1708 Howard St. Opposite T. W. C. A. Bldg. Write for Free Booklet.

Reads Doble Stories; Stabs Wife for Ghost; Is Held Without Bail

New York, April 29.—Suicides in New York, Newark and Toronto by persons who had been reading accounts of spiritualist theories were followed yesterday by court action in Brooklyn to commit a porter, who was alleged to have become mentally deficient and to have stabbed his wife in mistake for a ghost. The wife was seriously wounded in the head.

Counsel for Frank Alessi, the porter, told the court that his client had been reading accounts of lectures by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and that Alessi's mental condition was such that he should not be allowed to be at large.

Auto Production Shows Increase During March

Chicago, April 29.—Production of automobiles showed an increase during March over the preceding month and the same month a year ago, according to the March business condition report of the federal reserve bank of Chicago.

The production of passenger cars during March by manufacturers reporting approximately 90 per cent of the total February production was 152,512, compared with 98,487 by identical companies in February. Truck production in March was 19,349 from companies reporting 12,861 trucks built in February. March shipments also show an increase, the report said.

Record of Divorce 46 Years Ago Used in Pension Case

Columbus, Neb., April 29.—(Special.)—Record of a divorce decree granted 46 years ago, was unearthed in the office of the clerk of the district court. On the strength of the record hinges the question of whether or not Mrs. W. A. Doggett of Lincoln will be granted a widow's pension by the federal government.

In 1876, Emma J. Doggett was granted a divorce from W. A. Doggett by Judge George W. Post in the district court here. Doggett later remarried and since his death his second wife has applied for a widow's pension, he having been a Civil War veteran. The government refused to allow the pension until she should submit proof that his first wife would have no right of claim to it.

School to Reduce Salary Budget Without Pay Cut

Tecumseh, Neb., April 29.—(Special.)—At a special meeting of the Tecumseh board of education contracts were approved with 10 new teachers for next year, to take the places of 10 of the present force. There was no reduction of salaries in Tecumseh this year, but by doing away with two teachers and through other economies, the salary budget will be reduced more than 10 per cent.

Early Political Gardening Is on in Every State

Entire Membership of House, 34 Senators and 34 Governors to Run the Gauntlet.

Washington, April 29.—The beginnings of the party primary season, giving promise of unusual features for an "off year," already are turning the fancies of official Washington to thoughts of politics.

Amid abundant signs of an "early spring" politically speaking, the titular leaders of the great parties once more are diligently at work. Their efforts center in the national capital, but field reports indicate that early political gardening also is the order in virtually every state.

President Harding said that he intends to take no active part in the campaign, but members of congress are more restless.

In more than one district, "back home" fence mending has become a question of prime necessity.

The entire membership of the house, 34 senators and 34 governors of states, are to be elected next November. In all but six of the states, candidates must run the gauntlet of a primary election and the long series of primaries just beginning is credited with responsibility for the present unseasonable activity of the party chiefs.

Indiana Holds Spotlight

For the present, Indiana holds the spotlight, principally because the primary of next Tuesday will decide whether Senator New or former Senator Beveridge, a one-time leader of the Roosevelt progressives, is to be the republican nominee for senator.

Among the later primary elections, national party leaders find their greatest interest in North Dakota, where on June 28, Senator McCurtain, chairman of the senate finance committee, will measure strength with former Senator Gronna for the republican senatorial nomination. In Missouri, which on August 1 will decide whether Senator Reed, a democrat, is to be renominated; in President Harding's home state of Ohio, and California and Wisconsin, where Senators Johnson and La Fol-

Wife of Doctor at Grand Island Slays Herself

Woman, Worrying Over Condition, Shoots Self in Temple—Dead When Found by Husband.

Grand Island, Neb., April 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Distracted, apparently, over her condition, Mrs. J. E. Gelow, wife of Dr. Gelow, eye and ear specialist of this city, formerly of Hampton, shot herself through the temple, death being instantaneous.

Mrs. Gelow has suffered for the last several years from periodical mental disturbances. About two years ago she had suffered from an especially severe attack, but had gradually improved until a month ago.

It had been decided that she should leave for Arlington for a few days' visit with relatives, and then go to Chicago for treatment by a specialist. While the husband was

Wets Sunk for All Times, Bryan Asserts

William Jennings Bryan arrived in Omaha from Chicago at 9:40 yesterday morning, en route to Lincoln to attend the Nebraska democratic meeting.

Mr. Bryan scoffed at the idea of a repeal of the dry amendment. "If the wets could not keep more than two states from ratifying," said Mr. Bryan, "how could they expect to get 36 states to repeal the amendment?"

"What the wets want is something that will make them drunk, but they will not be permitted to turn back the clock. The old-fashioned saloon with a gambling house in the rear and a disorderly house above would be more popular with those who are advocating light beer and wine."

Mr. Bryan declined to discuss politics.

COME ON, MOTHS, HERE IS YOUR MENU

Drawn for The Bee by Sidney Smith (Copyright, 1922, by Chicago Tribune Co.)

Our Answer to Andy

DEAR MR. GUMP—

Andy, you can argue with Min, but you can't argue with a moth. However, we can tell you how to make a moth miserable.

Starve it, Andy! Our Dry Cleaning Process removes the material on which the moths feed. But that isn't all we do, Andy—

After we clean winter garments, if you so request, they will be sealed in boxes or bags, so no moth can reach them. Phone us Andy, to call for your clothes and Min's and Little Chester's, too.

Yours truly,
THE PANTORIUM.

THE TRUTH ABOUT MOTHS

Before a moth can appear in your garments, the moth-miller must deposit its eggs. In time these eggs hatch into larvae, which later turns into a miller. It is the larvae that feeds on foreign matter and oil in your woolen garments.

Both the egg and the larvae are so small as to be invisible to the naked eye.

Dry cleaning effectually destroys all moth eggs and larvae, and also removes all dirt, grease and germs that may be in your clothes, and on which the moths feed.

There is little danger of a moth-miller depositing its eggs in a dry cleaned garment, and there is absolutely no danger if the garment is left in the tightly sealed box, or bag, in which it is returned from the cleaner.

All woolen clothing, heavy drapes and hangings, furs, etc., should be cleaned and sealed for the summer. In the fall all you need to do is tear off the bag and slip on a clean, fresh garment looking like new. Right now is the time to send us your winter garments. Don't take chances.

IF YOU HAVE PUT THEM AWAY WITHOUT CLEANING, DIG 'EM UP
