

Minister Urges Open Forum for Vital Issue Talks

Rev. J. L. Beebe Says Omaha Needs Place Where Difference of Opinion Is Not a Crime.

"Omaha needs and open forum for the free and unselfish expression of opinion; where difference of opinion is not a crime and every man may discuss without fear any vital issue and be honored for it."

"We should frequently take an inventory of our mental furniture and our stock of opinions, not for the purpose of loading the public with obsolete notions, but rather for self-improvement."

"The world is suffering from an epidemic of economic delusions. Preaching calamity and chaos will prolong our misery and discontent."

Valley Hay Barns Damaged by Fire

Fremont Firemen Called to Extinguish Blaze in Stockyards and Wool Houses.

Fremont, Neb., May 6.—(Special Telegram.)—Fire of unknown origin committed damage estimated roughly at $20,000 at Valley this morning when several hay barns, and part of the stockyards were destroyed before help arrived from Fremont and neighboring towns.

Trio Burned at Stake by Mob of 500 Men

A bank for safe keeping, where it is alleged that he confessed to the mob that he had assaulted and murdered the girl and that in his confession he implicated two other negroes, J. H. Varney and Mose Jones.

Takes Keys. A mob gathered about and threatened to storm the building, whereupon officers spirited the prisoner through a rear window and started him in an automobile toward Mexico.

Bodies Burned. Wood saturated with oil to increase its inflammability was piled about the stake. Curry was burned first. Then Varney and Jones. There was some delay in burning the last two as they steadfastly maintained their innocence, but they were finally cremated on the strength of Curry's testimony.

After the third negro had been burned to a crisp, all three bodies were piled together and a mass of fuel and oil hung over them. This was ignited, the flames soaring 25 or 30 feet in the air.

Operation Fatal to Noted N. Y. Financier

son's eyes as he wheeled and walked off, the gardener said when he told of the incident today. And there were tears in the gardener's eyes. Until the hour for the operation drew near, the Davison estate was unguarded and open to the public, as it has always been.

For several hours after it was learned that the master of the house was dead, these guards relaxed vigilance. A stream of automobiles began to pour into the driveway, bearing messages of condolence to the Davison family.

Miss Pyrtle Talks to Women Voters

Says Real Job of Education Is Character Building—Discusses "Frills."

"The real job in education is character building, laying the foundation for the right kind of citizens," said Miss E. Ruth Pyrtle, principal of McKinley school, Lincoln, and a candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, who spoke on "Frills in Education" at the League of Women Voters Saturday afternoon in the Brandeis restaurant.

Miss Pyrtle believes in equal education and opportunities for the rural as well as the city child and the establishment of better rural schools.

"We should have better education returns for the money that is being spent," she stated. "Americanization is doing much toward the making of better citizens," said Miss Pyrtle, who says that the foreign born are eager to learn the language and customs of their adopted country.

William G. Ure gave a talk on "Taxation," and Mrs. H. J. Bailey, chairman of the local League of Women Voters, who returned Friday from the national meeting of the league in Baltimore, Md., told of the reception given the delegation of 900 women in Washington, D. C.

Illinois Congressman to Address Republicans Twice

Lincoln, May 6.—(Special.)—Congressman Graham of Illinois, who will be the principal speaker at the big republican meeting here May 11, will arrive in Lincoln in the morning in time to address the state central committee at its meeting as well as to deliver the keynote speech at the convention early in the day.

Famous Financier in Fatal Operation Omahan's Friend

Henry P. Davison visited in Omaha twice, the first time during the war, when he was here in the interest of Red Cross work; the second time, but six months ago, when he was returning home from California.

On his last visit here, Mr. Davison stopped at the home of H. M. Baldrige, Jr., who became acquainted with the famous financier through his son, Trubie, with whom Mr. Baldrige went to Yale university at New Haven, Conn.

Outstate Elks to Be Given Chance at Building Bonds

Seventeen Lodges to Be Visited—Banquet and Jollification to End Drive.

Every one of the 17 lodges of the state will be visited by representatives of the Elks lodge here to give them an opportunity to invest in the bonds to erect a new Elks building and home here.

This announcement was made yesterday by Chairman Robert Trimble following the suggestion of State Secretary J. H. Cuddy. A committee consisting of Leonard Scheibel, T. E. Quinlan, Henry Moosky and D. E. O'Brien, manager, will meet this evening at the Scheibel home, north of Florence, to discuss plans for the state trips.

"Last $200,000 Hardest." "The last $200,000 is the hardest," said Chairman Trimble, "but we'll make it."

A banquet and jollification meeting will close the drive, Chairman Trimble said.

"It will be a relief jollification," said Henry Moosky, chairman of the speakers' bureau, at the noonday yesterday. "There were some who thought it couldn't be put over."

Large subscriptions and reports of unusual work among the salesmen continued to be received at the headquarters. Bert Le Bron sold $3,500 worth of bonds from Friday noon until Saturday noon. Chadron lodge bought a $500 bond. Several thousands of dollars worth of bonds already have been sold to Elks in the state.

Many Large Investments. Among the large subscriptions tabulated last night were: Dr. Herman Rainbolt, $1,300; McGraw Electric company, $1,000; Omaha Daily News, $1,000; Archie Love, $1,000; Frank Swoboda of Hess & Swoboda, $500; Gazette, the butcher, $1,000, which he later doubled; Walter Sherwood, $500, which he later doubled; Elmer Neville, $500; M. B. Bjornson, $500; Lohn Loftis & Sons, $500.

Prohibition Still Issue in Politics

"Another striking proof is the changed attitude of the editors and cartoonists, who, as ever, hold knows, reflect public opinion and are a true index of current events. The general character of cartoons and editorials, standing alone, is eloquent testimony that the law is being enforced and that the people want it enforced and are letting public agents and officials know it."

"Scores of other glowing facts of successful enforcement may be cited, such as helpful co-operation on the part of neighboring governments. Furthermore, most states have their own enforcement codes, through which results are being obtained in addition to federal laws and national organization."

Enforcement Shoe Pinching. "On the whole, there is every reason for satisfaction and progress. The 18th amendment is being recognized as a cardinal part of the constitution and the fact that antagonists are renewing with increased force, their well-defined and costly propaganda speaks for itself, in other words, the enforcement shoe is pinching."

The other point of view, presented by the Association Opposed to Prohibition, may be summed up in the following: "Crimes have increased, the courts are congested, and justice sadly suffers. Swarms of new officers have been sent to harass the people. The crimes and crookedness of these officers have been a disgrace to the nation and have brought law and justice into contempt."

"States, without their consent and against their wishes, have been deprived of their ancient right and subjected to the rule of petty bureaucrats. Our constitutional rights against search and seizure have been violated."

In the state of New York court records show that crime convictions have increased from 40,991 in 1920, to 55,516 in 1921. Convictions for intoxication in courts of special session are practically double."

Claims Increase in Crime. "In New York city the records show 5,691 public intoxication cases in 1920 and 6,679 in 1921. Arrests for drunkenness in Chicago were 45,414 in 1918, 35,608 in 1919, 32,859 in 1920 and 51,300 in 1921."

Figures compiled by the clerk of court's offices in Milwaukee show that up to November 1, 1921, there were 2,567 more cases in the criminal courts than during the entire 12 months of 1920.

In Los Angeles arrests increased from 86,036 in 1920 to 92,134 in 1921, and drunkenness cases increased from 3,377 to 6,839.

In Hamilton county, Ohio, (Cincinnati) the county prosecuting attorney shows that there were 326 cases prosecuted to conviction in 1921 against 225 in 1920.

Crime in the District of Columbia has increased 83.7 per cent in the last ten years, according to Representative Tinkham of Massachusetts.

"Nor is the end in sight. Business is paralyzed, men and women can find no work, the cost of living is calamitous while discontent and wrongs are breeding red radicalism."

Children Prove Selves Heroes as Apartment Burns

Tot Saves Sleeping Sister, 2—Three Lads Rush in to Save Scotch Collie From Death.

"Kids" rescued everything from babies to dogs and left grownups but a small role to play when a $6,000 fire burned the roof from a series of frame apartments at Twenty-seventh and Dodge streets at 4 yesterday afternoon.

Margaret Wombles, 9, 2642 Dodge, rushed into the smoke rolling from her home and rescued her sleeping sister, Henrietta Jeanne, 2.

Billy Worthing, 12, 2711 Dodge, Bud Baker, 11, 2640 Dodge, and Carl McKinnis, 13, 2613 Dodge, ran to the backdoor of Bud's home and burst it down with their shoulders.

They came out with "Laddie," remote cousin to President Harding's Laddie, a half-grown Scotch collie dog, who leaped and barked at the end of a rusty chain.

"Oh, my costumes!" shrieked Daisy Helen George, 13, 2644 Dodge, as she rushed in after 20 garments that are assisting her on the way to a career as a classical dancer.

She fainted after rescuing three and watching the other 17 burn. Someone not identified found her inside the house and carried her to safety.

Elenore Morris, 8, 2707 Dodge street, and Howard Parsons, 14, 316 South Twenty-sixth street, both claimed the honor of having discovered the fire and turning in the alarm, but it was claimed also by Mrs. F. A. Baker, 2640 Dodge.

Mrs. Julia Bourk, 2648 Dodge street and her daughter, Elizabeth, had an uncounted sum of money on a table ready to pay bills, and lost it in the fire.

The apartments stand two stories and a half high and are numbered 2642, 2644, 2646 and 2648 Dodge street, and are owned by the Farnham Smith company. The roof was consumed by the fire, which smoldered for an hour and a half. Fire Chief Salter estimated the loss at $6,000, on both building and contents, after a cursory examination.

The blaze left more than 50 persons temporarily homeless.

Juvenile Research Bureau Appeal to Be Dismissed

Lincoln, May 6.—(Special.)—The attorney general and state board of control have requested the supreme court to dismiss the appeal taken from the decision of Judge W. V. Allen of Madison county, holding unconstitutional the 1921 act creating a bureau of juvenile research in charge of a clinical psychologist. This is interpreted as wiping the statute from the laws, for which $20,000 was appropriated for maintenance.

C. E. Convention

Nebraska City, Neb., May 6.—(Special.)—The annual convention of the Christian Endeavor society of District three opened a three-day session here. Features of the program were addresses by Rev. Paul C. Johnson of Lincoln and Harold D. Ramsburg of Omaha.

Man-Killer Shot by Texas Sheriff

Buck Garrett, Ballew's bosom friend. The passing of the gunman removes from the southwest, one of the few figures typical of the pioneer sheriff whose unique and fearless methods of enforcing the law and arresting western bad men made him the hero of many stories.

Ballew had come to Wichita Falls to act as judge in the annual southwestern round up. On the first day of the rodeo, he was introduced as "Bud" Ballew, the man who stayed through it all with Buck Garrett and says he's glad he did.

"Murder," Says Sheriff. Ardmore, Okl., May 6.—(By A. P.)—"Bud" Ballew was murdered; I am satisfied that. Five shots and all from the back. He did not have a chance." Tears glistened in the eyes of former Sheriff Buck Garrett as he emerged from the undertaking shop in which there had just been placed the body of his lieutenant, Bud Ballew, idolized by many as a hero and hated and feared as a killer of others.

"No man ever had a truer friend than Bud Ballew was to me," said Garrett. "He saved my life on numerous occasions, and I only wish that it had been in my power to save his." Garrett added, as he declined further questioning and departed. Ballew, former deputy sheriff here, the notches on whose gun bore testimony that he had killed at least eight men and had been the victim of countless other gun fights, was widely known for his quickness on the "draw" in the early days of outlawry in the southwest.

"Bud took in too much territory and for once was too slow on the draw" was the opinion expressed by many here last night.
