The program follows:

42 Expensive Homes in Dundee Under Way

A survey of new houses in Dundee and Happy Hollow made last week by George & Co., shows 42 new houses now under construction. This survey was made only in the district known as "Dundee Place," and "Happy Hollow Circle," and does not include Lockwood, Evanston and other districts. other districts.

A conservative estimate of the value of these houses under con-struction is given as $15,000 each, making a total of $630,000.

Probably the most expensive of these houses is that being erected at the corner of Burt street and Happy Hollow boulevard, by W. F. Megeath, to cost between $55,000 and $60,000.

With flurried solicitude, she was $60,000.

Plans are now made, according to George & Co., for the construction of several more new houses in Dundee this year.

Here is a simple, dignified western home, with just a suggestion of English treatment in the stucco-paneled porch, gables and buffet projectors. While the foundation is projectors. While the foundation is economically small, the rectangular shape makes it possible to have a spacious living room, with plenty of windows, yet sufficient wall space for furniture. The wide opening into the dining room gives an inviting promise of true livability throughout. The cost close is throughout. The coat closet is right at hand, and every convenience is provided in the kitchen.

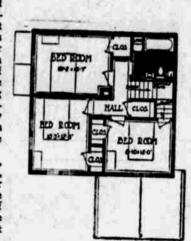

The second floor gives three fine, cheerful, easily-ventilated bedrooms, with closets for clothes, closets for linen and closets for storage. There is a stairway to permit full use of the storage space in the attic. These are things that assure real comfort in a home.
