American Tourist Vanguard Already in Berlin on Way to See Possion Play-Lang Refuses Offers.

By the Associated Press. Berlin, May 7 .- With the opening next week of the first season of the Passion Play since 1910, the vanguard of Americans booked to see it already has arrived in Berlin on its way to Oberammergau. Reports from that little Bayarian village, which has been off the tourist route for 12 years, indicate that preparations have been nearly completed to accommodate a record gathering for the current revival. Approximately 800 newspaper correspondents have been invited for Monday's press performance, after which dress rehearsals will be held or two days in preparation for the formal opening May 14. Visitors this year find a striking significance in the origin of the play ough the recent prevalence of contagious diseases resulting from the famine in Russia, for it was due to the terrible pestilence ravaging their country in 1633 that the survivors of Oberammergau the following year vowed to give a represen-tation of the life of Christ regularly thereafter as an atonement for their

"Your mother-in-law's windows have bars-you remember she had them put up after Junior was taken last fall. I'm going to ask her if I may put Marion in her bed for tonight, and when they get soundly to sleep I'll lock them in for a spell. After I've interviewed Katie I'm going to take the liberty of putting her on a cot in my room-she'll be so frightened time I get through with her that she'll be glad to be locked in— and you know that window in my room couldn't be reached unless by a ladder. The audience also objected to the presence of four "extreme looking" women in one of the upper boxes.

They were also requested to leave, as the audience demanded that they be thrown out.

Hide and Leather Improvement.

The present week brought a more decisive turn for the better in the hide trade and allied lines. Liquidation in this quarter has been extensive, with surplus stocks reduced, and the markets are clearly in a more favorable position. Renewed and more confident buying has developed in domestic packer hides, sales during the last fortnight approximating $60,000 hides, and the price list shows a number of advances this week. Not only has business been of larger volume, but demands have been more diversified, upper and sole leather tanners and harness, and helting makers being among those operating more actively. While fall shoe orders of magnitude have not yet appeared, leather tanners anticipate a better business during coming seasons. The call for patent leather, which has been an outstanding feature for some time past, continues.
