

Unceasing Toil Secret of Youth, Asserts Actor

Herbert Crowley, 38, who plays the leading role in the "Different Revue," at the World theater this week, declares he has found the secret of youth through unceasing toil.

When garbed in female attire as he appears in the act, Mr. Crowley does not appear a day over 28. This is Crowley's first appearance in Omaha since 1881, when he was here as a principal in the "Corinne Opera Company." Crowley is the oldest female impersonator in the profession. He has been on the stage 46 years.
