

Nation's Greatest Experts on Parks Gather for Meet

Delegates From Nearly Every State Expected for Bear Mountain Convention.

By The Associated Press. New York, May 20.—The second national conference on parks, which opens at Bear Mountain tomorrow, will bring together most of the country's greatest experts on parks and public reservations. The one big idea of the conference is to urge a series of state parks extending across the country, so that travel may be stimulated and a proper enjoyment of the reservations be provided.

John Barton Payne of the American Red Cross is chairman of the meeting. Delegates from practically every state are expected. Last year the conference was held in Des Moines and was declared by participants to be a great success. The hope of the week's meeting is that the delegates will be able to emphasize the need of preserving the natural beauty and the historic spots to be found in each state by making them into parks. It is pointed out that such systems, if developed in the right way, not only become attractive points for each state but also are stimulative of revenue.

Close Army Hospital. A hospital which has had a hectic career will go by the board Tuesday. Fox Hills, the army hospital on Staten Island, which was first greeted as a wonderful achievement, then questioned as being inconvenient and not well handled, and finally ordered closed because the work was not successful, will be sold at auction. The hospital was closed through the activity of the veterans bureau and condemned by army authorities shortly afterward.

Memorial Service Planned. A memorial service conducted by the American Legion will be a feature of next Sunday's religious services here. Bishop Manning will conduct the services in the cathedral of St. John the Divine and only gold star mothers, aside from legion members, will attend.

Ocean Supremacy Contested. The Majestic, White Star liner, largest ship in the world, has been having a week of reception at its dock. Beginning the day after it came to port when the officers gave a luncheon and official reception, crowds have visited the pier every day to look the big boat over. Officers said that on its return voyage it would not try to make any speed records.

Officers of the Majestic, however, are waiting for the first week in August. They admit quite frankly they are "laying for" the Mauretania, the Cunarder which now boasts the record for the quickest passage across the Atlantic.

That week the Mauretania is scheduled to sail from Liverpool for New York, and the Majestic is scheduled to leave New York for Southampton. The battle, in all probability, for supremacy among ocean greyhounds, then will be fought.

Fight Disease in Russia. The American Relief Administration, which is feeding starving Russians, has announced that a crusade will be made against disease as well as hunger in Samara. In a message received last week by the officers here, Dr. Foucar of New York, who is in charge of the work, declared that 200,000 persons in Samara need education in fighting disease and that already plans had been laid to instruct them on a broad scale.

Pastor of Lutheran Church Here Resigns

The Rev. A. Theodore Lorimer, for nine years pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, Thirty-sixth street and Lafayette avenue, has resigned to accept a call to the First Lutheran church at Monmouth, Ill.

Rev. Mr. Lorimer, his wife and four children, will leave Omaha next Wednesday to motor to their new home in Illinois. Rev. Mr. Lorimer came to Omaha in 1913 from Geneseo, Ill.

When he accepted the pastorate of Zion Lutheran church here, the membership was but 148, but during the nine years of his work here, this has increased to 610 members. Rev. Mr. Lorimer will preach his farewell sermon at the church Sunday evening at special services. A reception by the members of his congregation will be tendered Rev. Mr. Lorimer and Mrs. Lorimer at the church Tuesday evening.

New Type Mail Plane for Mountains Flown Here
Pilot L. H. Garrison arrived at the local air mail field from Chicago yesterday with a DH2 No. 255, a new kind of mail plane designed especially for use over the mountains.

It was put together here and then shipped to McCook field, Washington, for inspection. "It has a wing spread of 49 feet, compared with 42 feet in our present planes," said Superintendent Dunphy of the mail field. "After some adjustments here I will send it along the line to the coast for its trial over the mountains."

The plane is designed to carry 800 pounds of mail and is said to be a small gasoline user.

Artists Surprised to Hear Merchant Tell of Painting

Chicagoan Declares City May Yet Rival Nuremberg as Aesthetic and Commercial Center.

By The Associated Press. Chicago, May 20.—Chicago, known chiefly as an industrial center, may yet rival Nuremberg, as a romantic combination of art and business, Edward P. Butler, one of the city's leading merchants, said in a recent address before a gathering of artists. Expecting to hear Mr. Butler tell how to build up a business, the artists were surprised when he told them that art was a hobby of many of the biggest business men here. Mr. Butler himself is a painter, said by critics to possess unusual merit, and he explained that several members of the board of trade are painters or poets when not busy reading the ticket tapes.

Wants New Poetry Course. Teaching poets how to fit trochees, dactyls, hexameters and spondee together into real verse by establishing poetry schools is advocated by Miss Harriet Monroe, one of Chicago's leading exponents of art. "Not the classic verse structure of poetry which was conceived to fit ancient languages, but human rhythmic verse adapted to American speech, is the kind of poetry school that Miss Monroe believes and hopes will become a reality."

"Present courses in our universities which regard poetry as a holly of many of the biggest business men here, are all muddled up," she said. "Usually such courses are taught by those who have merely the technical understanding of poetry and who are not at heart real poetry lovers."

"My idea of developing poets would begin with a social gathering place for artists. A clubhouse in Chicago where artists could gather has been talked of and would be a great stimulus. Associating in such atmosphere with allied interests, a school in poetry would be a national development, I think."

Teacher Should Be Poet. "Of course, the way poetry would be taught would depend on the instructor. He ought to be able to write poetry himself, just as a music teacher must be a musician. The form of study would depend, too, on the instructor."

Rhythm, discarded by some of the more radical modern writers, is a universal principle, Miss Monroe says, and music and poetry have always been among the most direct human manifestations of the universal rhythmic impulse. The rigidity of classic verse-structure has proved a misfit in modern languages, Miss Monroe avers, especially in English. The rigidity has been a hampering influence in prosody—"a medieval remainder strangely anachronistic in this age of scientific research."

Picture Brings $60,000. The "Spirit of Autumn," an imported canvas about 30 by 45 inches, by George Innes, sr., has been sold to a local art collector for $60,000. It was one of the most valued in the collection of the late Mrs. Potter Palmer, which was bought at auction of her estate by a New York dealer. The picture, painted in 1891, is a typical Innes autumn scene.

He was arrested in Milwaukee and taken to the fort, where he will probably be tried, according to Post Adjutant Jackson of Fort Crook. He was awaiting trial here on a charge of desertion at the time he escaped.

Woman Notifies Police She Hit Girl With Auto

Mrs. Noel Wallace, 2501 Whitmore avenue, reported to police yesterday she had had a motor car accident Friday noon at Eighteenth and Farnham streets, striking Miss Gertrude Rodman, 23, daughter of Charles P. Rodman, 2509 Evans street, and an employe of the Urdike Grain company.
