Cost of $50,000,000.

"The project will cost in the vicinity of $50,000,000," said a Serbian financial expert today. "Jugo-Slavia would be ready to go through with the project from the Balkan end as we are in need of an outlet for our great surplus agricultural products, enough to feed entire Europe. Very little of these products now reach France, England or America, but with the opening of this through France, England or America, but with the opening of this through Europe waterway these markets could be developed.

"Before the war, because of unfavorable commercial relations through the domination of Austria, we were forced to send 90 per cent of our agricultural products to Germany and Austria. We still have no favorable.

OMAHA RECEIPTS AND SHIPMENTS. Austria. We still have no favorable access to the sea and this waterway project would aid us.

"But an international agreement would have to be formulated, signed by all European countries, placing this waterway open to vessels of all flags. This might need another European conference to untangle many of the present ideas of sovereignty over streams within a country. Genoa Conference.

"It is very possible that the projec will come up for discussion at the Genoa conference, as it has an eco nomic end, that of the Balkans aiding to feed Europe and Europe advanc-ing the finished products to the Bal-kan countries. You know that 85 per cent of the people of Jugo-Slavia live on farms. Therefore, we have an agricultural population. Manufactures only total, perhaps, 6 per cent Clothes, agricultural instruments nearly all manufactured products must be imported.

"So it may not be long now befor vessels flying the American flag stop off at the Belgrade wharves to unload America's products. It would help in getting American foreign trade a start in Jugo-Slavia. The products of the mines, oil fields and the forests which dot the southern part of the old Serbia would be opened to the outside world."
