Household Notes. Perhaps you do not find it irksome to keep a supply of mayonnaise on hand to make it two or three times a week in the old-fashioned manner. If you do, it is possible to buy mayonnaise of very good quality and flavor. But remember that because you have not liked one brand of mayonnaise that you have bought is no proof that you will like none. Some of the very large grocery stores sell a mayonnaise of their own and this may appeal to you. Remember, too, that often a little doctoring, by adding spices, onion juice or lemon juice will give mayonnaise quite a different flavor.
