Due Process of Law.

A Cass county farmer is about to open a question, the solution to which will be of general interest in the United States. He sues for return of $1,000, contributed by him under duress to the Red Cross during the war...

Under the constitution of the United States private property may be taken for public use, but only by due process of law. Acts of God or the public enemy exempt the government from payment for property damaged, destroyed or sequestered...

A few years ago the United States of America was confronted by the kingdom of Italy, the latter seeking reparation for certain subjects who fell victims of a mob at New Orleans. James Gillespie Blaine, then secretary of state in President Harrison's cabinet, pleaded that Louisiana was responsible for order within its own boundaries...

Relations Between the States. The decision of the supreme court of the United States concerning use of water in interstate rivers calls to mind that some of the things left unsettled by the Constitution of the United States are being firmly settled by the Supreme Court of the United States...

Nothing in the constitution deals with the right of a state to exclusively control its own internal affairs, not affected by the police power of the nation and the right of congress to regulate commerce between the states. For this reason a single backward state is enabled to nullify the will of most in the matter of child labor...

The Annual Drownings. The Aztecs, the Incas and many other ancient races offered up human sacrifices on the altars of their gods. The custom persists even among Americans of the present day. Human lives are offered up for the diety of profits, of science, of fashion, and of sport...

Good sportsmanship does not call for taking unwarranted chances or for attempting to keep up with those of greater skill. The lakes have had their votive offerings—and once more they have given their warning.

unwarranted chances or for attempting to keep up with those of greater skill. The lakes have had their votive offerings—and once more they have given their warning.

Lillian Russell. Another star of the American stage has been extinguished in eternal eclipse for Lillian Russell has died. She belonged to a past generation, a golden day in the annals of the American stage. She was not a queen of opera, as the press report characterized her, but did rank high in opera bouffe, in musical comedy and light comedy...

Along with Lillian Russell the world got Jessie Bartlett Davis, and Fay Templeton came about the same time, while Pauline Hall and Alice Oates were reigning in fame in the same line. Adelina Patti reigned supreme among American opera singers, with Emma Abbott shedding the glory of her voice and presence over the country. Emma Juch, Scatchi, Nilsson and others from abroad were already famed on the stage, both in opera and concert, while Lillian Norton was already making the name of Nordica familiar...

Reorganizing Government Service. The cover is about to come off another kettle of trouble which has been simmering for some time at Washington. The Smoot and Wood bills, lately introduced, represent the views of Herbert D. Brown, efficiency expert, who has been working out a plan for reclassification of employes, new adjustment of salaries, and the distribution of bureaus according to his ideas of what will produce the better service for the government...

Another factor that will probably enter into the debate is the opposition to the transfer of the forestry bureau from the Department of Agriculture to that of the Interior. Cross currents engendered by this are likely to roll over the main point for a time, but surface indications at present warrant the belief that the Brown plan is to meet with stormy weather all through its voyage.

Dust to Dust. The inventor of the vacuum cleaner is dead, a benefactor of womankind if ever there was one. Little recognition of his achievement is recorded in the meager dispatch from New York which announces that David P. Kenny was found dead with a cord tied about his neck, at the foot of Mount Beacon...

From the fact that nothing is said about a search for whoever is responsible for his death it is to be inferred that he was a suicide. The first thought is that in spite of his ingenuity he did not gain wealth. Inventors are not money-makers. Edison himself lost millions to the promoters of his patents in the forefront of his career. The man who originated the typewriter died in poverty...

Nebraska cattle owned by William Kuhlman of Chester topped the Kansas City market at $9.05 a hundred pounds the other day. This is one more indication of the supremacy of Nebraska in livestock feeding. The cattle had been on full feed since January. The ration most of the time was shelled corn and alfalfa, but at the last cooked corn was substituted. Although they did not come to the Omaha market, this makes it apparent why the Omaha stockyards receive a better class of cattle than any other terminal. Nebraska farmers give more care to their livestock than do those of most western states.

Canada's premier has announced that this is not an opportune time to negotiate a treaty with the United States for the construction of the Great Lakes waterway. If this be his way of opposing the project, it at least should take the wind out of the sails of those Americans who claimed the plan would give the Canadians an advantage. Sooner or later this channel will be opened, but delay is regrettable.

The supreme court declines to bother with ouija boards, thereby getting in line with a vast number of common people. Sid Smith's experience with Andy Gump proves that a good idea is a valuable thing to its possessor.

From State and Nation

Young Man on the Carpet. For two years or so the manners and morals of the modern girl have been attacked and defended without intermission. We know, as a result, that the modern girl is pulling the country down to ruin and that she is leading the country to more natural, better ways. We know that much before...

The college professors are at it, too. They say the modern college boy is effeminate and effeminate. The head of the alumni association of Northwestern University says his university is turning out "tea hounds" and "cake eaters" instead of athletes. Reports come from fashionable resorts in France give much space to the attention attracted by the men fashion models, with their waip-waist coats and stunning footgear, singing the praises of their tailors. There is material here for the critic...

Music in the Air. A warm current approaches. Indeed, in a limited way, it has already opened. Every body is, or will soon be, on edge. The stakes are large. The players are keen. The ins want to stay in the game, to get in, the worst kind. The issues, both foreign and domestic, are such as inspire oratory, and the orators are tuning up...

Champion Jack Dempsey, with his monocle, his manager and his puppy dog, has returned from Europe slightly like Alexander, for new pugs to conquer. The world, it seems, is a space inhabited only by the fabby muscled. Why doesn't Mr. Dempsey go home and run for the senate? He would make a good senator, according to the specifications of Senator Pepper, for he is a man who says little and does much. When Mr. Dempsey talks he talks to the point—in the chin or the jaw—and what he has to say is decisive...

Here's a Radio Broadcast. Commercial travelers may be interested in this list of eleven rules for success: To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind. To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet. To make all your friends see that there is something in them. To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true. To think only of the best, work only for the best, expect only the best...

The Federal Press Agent. "If through the dust of a workaday life you have pictures yourself sailing the blue southern seas; if you have dreamed of wandering through streets with romance and adventure on every hand, the strum of a guitar in the distance—eyes of youth, fire and passion peering from barred windows in the mystic night; if you have longed to gaze at the glorious beauties of nature and feel yourself overwhelmed by their grandeur—What then? Why dear reader, send the coupon below and let your government tell you of South America and the new ships that will take you there."

Heavy Tax Payment. Considerable publicity has been given recently to individuals in adjoining counties where county treasurers have reported collecting as much as $2,000 to $3,000 real estate tax from an individual and owner. In Fillmore county we find Frank W. Sloan of Geneva has paid the sum of $7,000 in real estate taxes. This is a revelation of what Nebraska will do for a young man willing to work hard and save his earnings. Mr. Sloan came to Fillmore county just thirty years ago, having borrowed the money to pay his railroad fare to Fairmont, near where he had been engaged to teach school. His first earnings went to pay off the mortgage on the farm belonging to his father and mother near Elkhorn. Since then he has invested his earnings in Fillmore county lands until he has just paid the largest individual real estate tax in our county.

For Taxpayers to Think On. Another thing the taxpayers might reflect upon: So long as they make demands upon the federal treasury, just so long will the government bring their pockets. Government economy logically begins with the citizen robbing against needless public expenditures, not at the increasing taxes.

Silk-Stocking Vote. Aren't the tariff makers in danger of forgetting that with the coming of woman suffrage the "silk-socking vote" became worth thinking about?

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS. Questions concerning hygiene, sanitation and prevention of disease, submitted to Dr. Evans by readers of The Bee, will be answered personally, subject to proper limitation, where a stamped addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Evans will not make a diagnosis nor prescribe for individual diseases. Address letters in care of The Bee. Copyright 1922.

MOTHERCRAFT TRAINING. When Sir Arthur Newsholme was retired from the position of chief medical officer of the government health department of England and Wales he came to the United States and remained at Johns Hopkins hospital studying our systems and teaching our health officers for a year. Shortly before his return he delivered a lecture in Philadelphia on the needs in America, if the women should demand a campaign to make safer the lives of women in confinement and babies being born and in the first weeks of life. He recommended maternity homes in small towns and country districts, the best maternity service, more maternity hospitals in cities and more prenatal work.

Walk Five Miles Daily. B. M. A. writes: "I. How much should a woman 5 feet 2 inches, 28 years old, weigh? 2. Is walking a good remedy for obesity, and how much should I walk every day?" REPLY. 1. On hundred and thirty pounds is held to be a good weight. Much depends on the size of the bones and the build. The relative length of the legs as compared with the length of the trunk is an important factor in determining the weight that is proper. 2. Yes. Walk every day. Five miles a day will keep most people fit.

For "Flapper Slouch." Miss G. S. writes: "1. Should a round shouldered person wear braces? 2. Or should one exercise?" REPLY. 1. No. 2. Yes. Row, swim, climb a pole, rope or ladder; do gymnastium work on the bars, ladders and ropes.

A Sharp Lead. An eager-looking urchin approached a man who was hurrying toward the railway station. "Carry your grip, sir," he called. "'Til carry it all the way for a quarter," said the boy. "I tell you I don't want it carried!" "No, I don't!" "At that the lad broke into a quick trot to keep up with his victim's hasty strides, and in a tone of innocent curiosity asked, "Then what are you carrying it for?"—Youth's Companion.

SUNSET. We who see a thousand sunsets stain the sky. A serious paean of color in the west; Who see the flaming riot fade and die, As though some quiet hand his dying. We who sleep and wake and toil in noisy When night her sullen banner has unfurled. We know that throbbing sunset seen at close of day Is God's own avenging blessing to His world. Phyllis Noyes Van Slyck in the Kansas City Times.

Please, Is This a Puzzle? B. T. writes: "1. After a golfer has been removed by surgical operation, does it come back? 2. If a man eats a meal weighing three pounds will he weigh three pounds more after eating than before he ate the meal?" REPLY. 1. Yes. 2. Yes.

Those Round Shoulders. Dr. J. O. C. writes: "I am a young man of 22 and healthy, but I am round shouldered. I have no shoulders at all. Also flat chested and need some developing." REPLY. Among the best forms of work for you is carrying weights on your head and shoulders. Among the best forms of play are rowing, swimming, tug of war, climbing and parallel bar work. Whatever you decide to try, keep it up.

He Must Be Careful. J. H. writes: "My uncle, who is about 55 years old, is a sufferer from tuberculosis. He is at present in a sanitarium, but he says the doctor there says he will be in a condition to leave soon. 'Will you please let me know if there would be danger of infection in taking him into my home? I have a child 7 years old. Would it be injurious to him?' REPLY. If there are not bacilli in his sputum there is no danger. If he is very careful, and persons who have had a sanitarium training generally are, there is little danger.

ADAMS Yucatan Chewing Gum. "No fancy wrapper—just good gum". Delightful minty taste... peppery delicious flavor... you're sure to like Yucatan as you never liked a chewing gum before!

CENTER SHOTS. Even a one-man car on a one-track line is a great blessing to a one-horse town.—Boston Transcript. Wonder how the pretty graduates who have their pictures taken today will like their bobbed hair 20 years from now?—Joplin Globe. Now that the house of lords committee on privileges has refused to give Lady Rhonda a seat, her ladyship knows what it means to ride in a street car in a large city.—Arkansas Gazette. Comfort is the modern watchword. New Jersey has laid a flat egg. She expected to set.—Flint (Mich.) Journal. Mr. Ford was wise to make his Muscle Shoals proposal extend over a hundred years. He knew he had to get it through the senate.—Columbia (S. C.) Record.

For those who dance and those who don't. Some like a fox-trot. To others a waltz is still the best. Even the one-step has its followers—and some don't like to dance at all. What a difference when it comes to drinking Clicquot Club Ginger Ale! They all like it. Who shall describe the taste of it? The only true description of Clicquot Club is—a drink of Clicquot Club. Clicquot is made with pure spring water. Only real Jamaica ginger is used. The other ingredients—sugar and fruit juices—are just as pure as can be found. Buy it by the case for the home. Should you desire variety, in addition to Ginger Ale, we make Sarsaparilla, Birch Beer, and Root Beer. THE CLICQUOT CLUB COMPANY, Mills, Mass., U. S. A.
