

Money Not Paid; Wife in Second Suit for Divorce

Decree Once Set Aside When Husband Returns Child and Agrees to Make Settlement.

Mrs. Emma Tutin stood the loneliness and the toil of the farm in Stanton county, Nebraska, for 10 years. Her husband, Harry, not only made her work hard, early and late, but he beat and abused her, she alleges in an amended petition for divorce filed yesterday in district court here.

She had to wear clothes that were "a disgrace to a farmer's wife"; her husband even wouldn't let her keep the chickens and egg money which she earned, she says.

One morning in June while Tutin was out in the field she packed her suit case and stole away to the town and took a train for Omaha. She

Happy With Daughter.
She obtained work. She was happy with her daughter in rooms at 436 South Twenty-fourth street. After the toil of the farm, this seemed a life of ease and contentment.

On October 19, 1920, the telephone rang. She answered it and was startled to hear her husband's voice. "I have taken Mary from school and am going to take her where you will never see her again unless you dismiss your divorce suit," he said. She had filed suit for divorce soon after arriving here.

She learned that her husband had called at Central school, Twenty-second and Dodge streets, and taken Mary away.

Agrees to Return Child.
Soon the district court granted her a divorce and $25,000 alimony. She heard her husband had fled to Canada with the child.

"I don't want $25,000 if I haven't Mary," she wept. Eventually communication was established with her husband, who agreed to return the daughter if the divorce suit was canceled.

"He'll return the child unconditionally," declared Judge Sears. "After that we'll talk about the divorce."

Tutin returned the child to the mother. The divorce decree was set aside on condition that he pay a certain sum to Mrs. Tutin. He agreed to do this, giving notes for the amount.

But he never paid the notes. Hence the new petition was filed yesterday. Tutin owns 320 acres of land in Stanton county, worth $32,000, and stock and other property, worth $8,000, the petition alleges.

Humboldt Man Is Dry Candidate to Oppose Hitchcock

J. O. Shroyer Agrees to Enter Race for Senator as Anti-Saloon League Candidate.

Lincoln, June 9.—(Special.)—F. A. High, head of the Nebraska Anti-Saloon league, announced today he had begun circulation of petitions to put J. O. Shroyer of Humboldt in nomination for United States senator on the democratic ticket to run in the July primaries against Senator G. M. Hitchcock.

High announced several weeks ago he had a man who promised to make the race in the event no other "dry democrat" did and Shroyer is that man, he said.

Shroyer will make his campaign on the wet and dry issue, according to High, and his supporters intend to claim that Hitchcock will not back appropriations for law enforcement if he is returned to the senate.

J. O. Shroyer stated this morning that he will accept the filing of his name as democratic candidate for United States senator.

Mr. Shroyer is prominent in agricultural affairs of this state, being an officer of the Farmers' Union Co-operative association and identified with other farm organizations. The Humboldt man is in Omaha today. Last week he addressed the following letter to R. A. High, superintendent of Nebraska Anti-Saloon league, Lincoln:

"Since our conversation in reference to the situation for United States senatorship in the democratic party, I have decided to allow my friends to file my name as a democratic candidate for United States senator for Nebraska if they care to do so. If petitions are filed I will accept the filing."

The bank was closed May 2. Ervin Kleeman is the new president, and E. Birdsall, cashier.

Boy Dies, Mother Near Death From Burns; 2 Saved

Tragedy Marks Blaze Which Destroys Home—Two Children Rescued by Passerby.

Lincoln, June 9.—(Special.)—Donald Hutson, 6, died early this morning from burns received in a fire at his home in Belmont, two and a half miles east of Lincoln, last night.

His mother, Mrs. Forrest Hutson, is in a hospital here not expected to live because of burns she also received in the fire.

The flames destroyed the home. Charles Leland, a neighbor, driving by the house at the time of the fire, saw the boy rush out of the house, his clothing aflame. He took a blanket from his rig and wrapped the boy in it, smothering the flames, but the little fellow's flesh had been burned to a crisp in places.

James Hutson, brother of Forrest Hutson, also passing the house at the time of the fire, saw the mother run out from the house, her clothing also aflame, and jump into a tub of water underneath the eaves. She implored him to save her other two small children from the burning house.

Hutson ran into the house and found the children at play in a room not yet reached by the fire. They were saved. The kitchen was ablaze. A gasoline stove is supposed to have exploded. The father, Forrest Hutson, was down town at the time of the fire.

Important to Every Housewife—

Some New Uses of the "Old Standby" Kingsford's Corn Starch

If your recipe calls for four eggs to one quart of milk, use three eggs and for the egg omitted use one-half tablespoonful of Kingsford's Corn Starch. For smoother, glossier gravies and sauces use a dessert spoonful of Kingsford's instead of a tablespoonful of wheat flour. For lighter, flakier biscuits, pie crusts and muffins, make your pastry flour with one-fourth cup of Kingsford's and three-fourths cup wheat flour.

A little Kingsford's Corn Starch dusted on top of cakes before icing prevents the frosting from running off.

A quarter teaspoonful of Kingsford's Corn Starch put into each of your salt-shakers will keep the salt from caking.

FREE—Ask your grocer or write Corn Products Sales Co., 8th and Jackson streets, Omaha, Neb., for beautiful folder of the new Kingsford's Corn Starch recipes.
