

Harding to Urge Help for Marine

"Now or Never" Is Platform of Executive and Advisers in Regard to Ship Subsidy.

Aid Will Be Insisted on

By GRAFTON WILCOX. Omaha Bee Lead Wire.

Washington, June 10.—"Now or never" is the platform of President Harding and those who support him, in his determined stand that congress must stay in session this summer to legislate for the relief of the American merchant marine.

Question Is Serious One.

The matter is unquestionably one of the most serious governmental problems of the Harding administration. Developments in the situation indicate a downright tug-of-war between the executive and the legislative branches of the government.

Union Pacific Would Buy C. P., if Terms Agreed On

President Carl Gray Declares Move Would Be Logical One and Would Provide Transcontinental Route That Congressional Acts Passed in 60's Provided for.

President Carl R. Gray of the Union Pacific system issued a statement yesterday commenting upon the recent decision of the United States supreme court which held illegal the control of the Central Pacific railroad by the Southern Pacific.

Mr. Gray asserted that the Union Pacific is willing to buy the Central Pacific if fair and reasonable terms can be agreed upon. In any case, he said, the Central Pacific should be operated as a part of a continuous railroad from Omaha to San Francisco, independent of the influence of any competing line.

Confirms Bee Forecast.

The statement confirmed the exclusive forecast by The Bee two weeks ago, relative to the probable results of the court decision. Mr. Gray said: "Both the Union Pacific and Central Pacific constituting the first transcontinental line, were constructed under the Pacific railroad acts of congress passed in the 60's, which provided for a continuous line of railroad from the Missouri river to the Pacific ocean, and provided further that they should be operated and used for all purposes of communication, travel and transportation, as far as the public and government are concerned, as one connected, continuous line."

"Essential to Each Other."

"The Union Pacific lines were constructed westwardly from the Missouri river at Omaha and Kansas City, about 1,000 miles eastwardly from San Francisco, and the Central Pacific was constructed westwardly from Sacramento about 800 miles eastwardly from San Francisco. They are essential to each other and constitute the shortest and best line across the continent between San Francisco and the east."

"But they have never been commonly owned, or under common control, except during the period from 1901, when Mr. Harriman, for the Union Pacific, bought control of the Southern Pacific, to 1913, when the supreme court decided that the control by the Union Pacific of the Southern Pacific was in violation of the anti-trust law, and required its release."

Held Defense Unsuccessful.

The Union Pacific in that case sought to justify its control upon the ground that it had to buy the Southern Pacific in order to get control of the Central Pacific, and prevent discrimination against it by the Southern Pacific in favor of the latter's southerly line via New Orleans and Galveston.

The supreme court held this defense insufficient and paid that under the Pacific railroad acts, discrimination against the Union Pacific, the owner of the line from Ogden to the Missouri river, by the westerly end of the line from Ogden to San Francisco, would be a violation of the anti-trust law.

Rickenbacker to Remain in Omaha to Make Repairs.

Party Lands at Ak-Sar-Ben Field Saturday After Battling Hard Wind From Dexter, Ia.

Battling a heavy head wind, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker and his party, flying across country in a junker all metal plane, landed on Ak-Sar-Ben field at 2:50 Saturday.

They hopped off from a field two miles east of Dexter, Ia., at 1:55, after being forced to land there Friday because of fusion of parts of the plane from effects of a bolt of lightning which struck the ship at Detroit Wednesday.

The fliers planned to proceed Saturday afternoon, but engine trouble developed. It is probable the party will have to remain here over Sunday while motor repairs are made.

Eddie Stinson Pilot.

Piloting the ship is Eddie Stinson, who broke the world's continuous flying record at Minota, N. Y., last December after piloting a Larsen monoplane in the International Aero meet in Omaha last November.

Theodore Lovington is the mechanic for the fliers. In the party also are two newspapermen, Steve Hannagan of New York, who is going to make the trip, and Rickenbacker, and Sam Blair of Chicago, who is flying only as far as Denver.

Next Stop Denver.

Hannagan is securing information for a number of magazine articles on the Rickenbacker flight. Rickenbacker is making a tour of the principal cities of the United States, which would consume seven months by train, in the interests of an industrial and aeronautical survey.

Pardon Plea Criticized

"A pardon to Willard V. Matthews would be an outrage upon the people and a perversion of justice," declared Assistant Attorney General Dorsey Saturday. "He was sentenced to one to 10 years and has been in the penitentiary since the time he pleaded guilty demands adequate punishment."

"Follow Your Dollar Through"

What does your advertising dollar buy? Where does it "land" in results secured on the "follow through" test? These are the real questions for the advertiser to answer for himself. Newspapers sometimes fall into the habit of talking loudly about volume of advertising carried, arguing this as a reason for more advertising. This is a "lazy" argument at best, for it evades entirely the questions of results secured and cost in proportion to results secured.

It was but natural that the Associated Retailers arrived at the circulation where they desired to know the buying power of the circulation of the Omaha papers and the proportionate cost of advertising; i. e., "rate per 1,000 circulation."

The Sunday Bee at present circulation and rates was found to be the best buy of the three papers. The Sunday Bee showed a lower "rate per 1,000 circulation" than any other daily or Sunday paper in Omaha. The "rates per 1,000 circulation" were as follows: Daily News, $0.0218 (highest); Sunday News, $0.0217. Daily Herald, $0.0196; Sunday Herald, $0.0197. Daily Omaha Bee, $0.0200; Sunday Omaha Bee, $0.0179 (lowest).

The above figures show The Sunday Bee "rate per 1,000" 10% lower than any Omaha daily paper and 10% lower than any Omaha Sunday paper.

Fugitive Again Gives Posses Slip

Officers Have Only Blind Follow—Brown Had to Have Escaped Lincoln.

Farmer Shot by Picket

Possemen Saturday had only blind leads to follow in their hunt for Fred Brown, chairman extraordinary and fugitive of late.

The theft of a Ford touring car from an unlocked garage at the farm of W. E. de Shazel, four miles north of Lincoln on the road to Fremont at 10:45 Friday night, caused them to believe Brown has fled Lincoln again.

Fred W. Lundman, 50, Lincoln farmer, who was shot by mistake for Brown Friday night was reported singing Saturday. Attending surgeons said he had suffered so much loss of blood that his recovery is problematical.

Although Brown is believed to have been running rampant in Lincoln Friday night after fleeing to the capital city in a stolen automobile, residents of Benson and the territory west of the suburb still are inclined to believe he is in that vicinity.

Evidences of Visit.

The fugitive who has eluded posses for two weeks now is believed to have foraged at the farm of Al Anderson, five miles up the Little Pacific from Brown's shack west of Benson, according to the sheriff's office Saturday.

Deputies were called to this farm Thursday night. They were told by Anderson a mattress had been moved from one barn to the hay-mow of another and that egg shells, ginger snaps, crumbs and other evidence of a fugitive sleeping there had been found.

The officers left late at night, but were recalled to the place at 6:30 Friday morning. Anderson said the man had returned and moved the mattress to a clump of bushes.

Neighborhood Alarmed.

"The spot is ideal for Brown," said Deputy Sheriff Johnson. "He could go to the Anderson place from his shack through the deep bed of the creek."

"Mrs. Anderson is so frightened she will not remain at the farm day or night. All farm houses in the neighborhood are lighted up all night through fear of the man."

Lundman was shot by Howard Morris, national guardsman, and Waldo Dingman, brother-in-law of the divorcee who grappled with Brown in Lincoln last Sunday, at the Oak creek bridge near Lincoln shortly after midnight.

When he failed to halt his car for inspection, they fired. He said he thought they were holdups.

Holds Up Restaurant.

Two guardsmen halted Herbert Cornell on his way home to Raymond, Neb., at Salt creek bridge, when he drove at them and crashed through the railing, leaving the car half suspended over the edge of the bridge. He escaped injury.

A man believed to have been Brown held up Mrs. Edna Craig and Nettie Frederick in a restaurant in the Lincoln neighborhood where he used to live Friday afternoon, forced them to cook him a meal, ate it, bragged to them of having $6,000 in a bank, made them put up a lunch for him, and departed after paying for his food.

Stolen Goods Found.

They notified police. They said he told them he had dinner ready for him at 2 Saturday afternoon and gave them the name and address of Mrs. Ida Anderson of Seattle as his sweetheart.

Possemen found $300 worth of stolen goods in a basement at Twenty-third street, which a motorcycle officer searched Thursday night after he had chased a man he thought was Brown. On the floor of the cellar were receipts signed by "Gus Grimes," the alias of Brown in Benson.

Millionaire Aids U. S. Grain Growers

Washington, June 10.—Organization by the United States Grain Growers, Inc., with the assistance of a Chicago millionaire, of a subsidiary for the co-operative marketing of grain was detailed by James K. Mason of Milton, Ind., vice president of the Grain Growers, in testifying today before the special senate committee investigating the alleged activities of the United States Grain Dealers' association, to prevent co-operative marketing legislation.

Mr. Mason, who with other officers of the Grain Growers, appeared at the committee's request with books and records in connection with charges that the organization had marketed no grain for its members, said the new subsidiary was known as the United States Grain Growers' sales department.

The Chicago millionaire, whose name he did not disclose, was engaged in the sale of grain to the Board of Trade, he said. The millionaire, he added, is expected to loan the Grain Growers $50,000 to be used in obtaining a membership on the Chicago Board of Trade and otherwise financing the newly created sales department. The financier, the committee was further told, was willing to add $1,000,000 or more to make the undertaking a success.

Where Brown Held Up Two Women

Here is a picture of the interior of a restaurant in Lincoln where Fred Brown, manacle man of Benson, held up two women and a little girl Friday afternoon while he boasted and ate a meal. He sat in a chair, which is shown vacated in the picture, for nearly an hour while possemen searched eagerly for him but a few blocks away.

The other picture shows the doorway to the basement of a negro church near Twenty-third and O streets in Lincoln, believed to have been used by Brown as a cache and hiding place because of the discovery there of $300 worth of stolen goods and receipts signed by Gus Grimes, Brown's Benson alias.

France and Vatican Are Near Break

Poincare's Disapproval of Pope's Attitude Toward Russia Painful Surprise to Holy Father.

Both Sides Are Irritated

COPYRIGHT, 1922.

Rome, June 10.—Relations between the vatican and France are dangerously approaching a breaking point, according to a personage in close touch with the papal chancery. It is declared that Premier Poincare's declaration to the committee of foreign relations this week concerning France's disapproval of Pope Pius' attitude toward Russia has produced a painful surprise to the holy father and his entourage.

The informant said that since relations between France and the vatican were resumed about a year ago many incidents have occurred which have deeply irritated both sides.

It seems that some weeks ago when the French ambassador to the vatican, following M. Poincare's instructions, remonstrated against the pope for his friendly expressions towards Russia, the vatican seriously contemplated recalling Nuncio Cerretti and requesting M. Jonnart to leave.

It is rumored that Nuncio Cerretti will be recalled to Rome shortly to inform the vatican fully as to France's sentiments towards the pope's self-imposed mission of bringing about a permanent peace among the nations of the world.

Forms New Church.

Paris, June 10.—Maxime Adrot, one of 600 French priests who have been expelled from the Catholic church of France for marrying, announces the foundation of a national church.

"We consider marriage a necessary safeguard for a great number and it is an indispensable liberty for all," he said. "Marriage is only a question of discipline in the church and it is not dogmatic. Marriage was permitted in Catholic churches until 1905."

M. Adrot is finding support from among the other expelled priests who are not recognized by the church. They say they will wear clerical garments, conduct services and maintain themselves as priests.

Tropic Weather Works Hardship on Babies of Poor

Dollars You're Not Using Could Save Infants Sent to Bee Milk Fund

It's hot, yes. But think of the anguish of the many poor mothers who must watch their little ones suffer without being able to help them. Hundreds of these poor babies were gasping for breath yesterday as the mercury soared high and the hot winds blew.

And hundreds of poor mothers watched these babes, dearer to them than life itself, suffer from heat which made even the most comfortable homes very hot.

What a lot of good your dollars could have done in bringing the nourishing milk and cooling ice to these babies.

The Bee's Free Milk and Ice fund already has brought relief to many such. But much more money is needed for the hot days that are ahead. These little lives will be saved if you do your duty. There is no established means of giving them relief in all this big city, save The Bee's fund.

Contributions of any sum from 10 cents to $5 will be received and acknowledged. Every cent collected actually goes to buy milk and ice for the babes in the poorest homes.

Send or bring yours to The Bee office. Previously acknowledged $76.75. A Friend 5.00. W. E. Stenographers 5.00. Mrs. E. L. Turner 5.00. Helene Trimble 3.00. A. D. Mallory 5.00. Total $99.75.
