

1—She—Forgive me! Forgive me! I can never be your's. I am another's.

evening. The church was artistically adorned with chrysanthemums and palms, and dainty refreshments were served during the evening. Rev Howe gave the address of welcome and Rev. Doane followed with a very enjoyable talk.

At the meeting held on Saturday evening the new orchestra changed its name from "The Philharmonic" to "The Philharmonic Society." Mr. Willard Kimball was elected president. Mr. Hagenow, conductor; and Messrs. Robert Brown, Rudolph Strassman and J. G. Sayre members of the executive committee.

Miss Cora McDowell spent Thanksgiving in Fairbury.

Mrs. McKenzie, of Harvard, is visiting in the city.

W. H. Mallory, of Omaha, was at the Lindell Monday.

3—She—Great heavens! he has joined the army and is really going to the Sandwich Islands (faints).

Mrs. C. Hurd and daughter, Mrs. John Gilleapie arrived home Sunday after a six months visit in Michigan.

Miss Louise Adams went to Omaha Thursday.

Miss Kelley came down from Omaha Thursday to attend the Pleasant Hour party.

Miss May Moore has returned from a pleasant visit with friends in Newark, Ohio

Supt. and Mrs. Goudy left Wednesday for Crawford to attend the second annual meeting of the northwest Nebraska educational association.

The fifth annual banquet of the W. and H. debating society of the high school was given Wednesday evening in the high school building.

A jolly Thanksgiving spread was given by the Palladian society in its hall at the university on Tuesday evening. There were about seventy members present.

A very pleasant reception was tendered Dr. Huntington of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church on Tuesday

Ray Welch spent Sunday in Omaha.

W. E. Meyer was in Omaha Thursday.

The Cheese and Cracker club spent Saturday afternoon with Miss Mae Burr.

Henry Oliver will go to Atlanta, Ga., Monday, to be gone six months.

The Ladies' Banjo club has reorganized for the winter and meets every Wednesday evening at the Nebraska conservatory.

The university seniors gave a hop at the conservatory on Monday evening.

The first student's public recital of the conservatory of music of the university of Nebraska took place in the chapel Tuesday evening.

Miss Bain entertained a number of university students at her home on Wednesday evening. Dancing was the principal amusement and about twenty couple participated in the merry whirl.

Mr. Joseph J. Cox was tendered a most delightful surprise at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hargreaves on Tuesday evening. Several members of the Commercial club were present and presented Mr. Cox with a handsome leather couch. A course dinner was served at 7 o'clock to which all did ample justice. Mr. and Mrs. Hargreaves are noted for their hospitality; so it is needless to say that a delightful evening was spent by all present.

Hon. J. O. Cramb of Fairbury was in the city Tuesday.

Mr. A. V. S. Saunders of Denver was in the city one day the past week.

Miss Richardson will give a song recital Tuesday evening.

2—Ah, false heart beware! I will destroy myself! I will go to the Sandwich—

4—"To think that I should have driven him to it."