The second annual ball of the Capital City Cycling club was given in the Lansing hall on Friday evening. Miss Willoughby furnished enchanting music for the dancers. Card tables were arranged for those who preferred a quiet game of cards. The ball was a success in every way.

Sorosis met last Saturday at the home of M s. J. P Maule. It was decided to send delegates to the state federation meeting at Omaha, but no action was taken in reference to joining the organization. The subject for discussion was "Foods" and the paper presented by Mrs. Parbour was very interesting. The subject was presented under these topics: History, Cook Book Lore, Cookery of various Nations, Nature and Elements of Foods, Physiological Effect, The Science and Economy of Cookery, Adulterations and Legislation, Food Supplies- Foreign and Domestic, The Food Supply of the Future. A subject of so great interest bro ght forth an animated discussion in which the visitors joined. Sorosis adjourned to meet December 27th with Miss Lichardson at the Windsor.

The ladies of the Century club invited about two-hundred of their friends to a lecture by Prof. Fossler at Curtice Music hall on Wednesday evening, December 12th. The hall was made attractive by rugs, flowers, banquet lamps and other home adornments. The lecture was full of interest and held the audience in close attention as Professor Fossler told of the origin and subject matter found in the Neibelungenleid. After the lecture ices were served and an hour spent in social enjoyment. It was a most successful undertaking and those favored with an invitation were grateful to the ladies for sharing so intellectual a feast.
