

A Gentleman

Who formerly resided in Connecticut, but who now resides in Honolulu, writes: "For 20 years past, my wife and I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and we attribute to it the dark hair which she and I now have, while hundreds of our acquaintances, ten or a dozen years younger than we, are either gray-headed, white, or bald. When asked how our hair has retained its color and fullness, we reply, 'By the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor—nothing else.'"

"In 1868, my affianced was nearly bald, and the hair kept falling out every day. I induced her to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and very soon, it not only checked any further loss of hair, but produced an entirely new growth, which has remained luxuriant and glossy to this day. I can recommend this preparation to all in need of a genuine hair-restorer. It is all that it is claimed to be."—Antonio Alarrun, Bastrop, Tex.

SONG.

If I had thought thou couldst have died,
I might not weep for thee,
But I forget, when by thy side,
That thou couldst mortal be.
It never through my mind had passed
That time would e'er be o'er,
And I on thee should look my last,
And thou shouldst smile no more.

And still upon that face I look,
And think 'twill smile again,
And still the thought I will not brook
That I must look in vain.
But when I speak thou dost not say
What thou ne'er lef'st unsaid,
And now I feel, as well I may,
Sweet Mary, thou art dead!

If thou couldn't stay, e'en as thou art,
All cold and all serene,
I still might press that silent heart,
And where thy smiles have been.
While e'en thy chill, bleak corse I have,
Thou seemest still mine own.
But there I lay thee in thy grave,
And I am now alone.

I do not think, where'er thou art,
Thou hast forgotten me,
And I perhaps may soothe this heart
In thinking still of thee,
For there was round thee such a dawn
Of light ne'er seen before,
As fancy never could have drawn
And never may restore.

—New York Ledger.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.
