

THE FIELDS OF CLOVER.

Oh, for one more happy day
To run, and romp, and play,
Out in the fields, where over and over,
I could roll once more in the fragrant clover;
For never was joy
Like being a boy,
Out in the fields of clover.

Oh, for one more bare-foot run
When the long hot day is done,
Down in the fields of fragrant clover
While by my side, my old dog Rover
Runs after the cows
That stop to browse,
Out in the fields of clover.

Oh, for one more vigorous swim,
In the deep old pool where the light
is dim,
Where down I plunge, over and over,
And when I come up I smell the clover,
As the wind blows fresh
On my naked flesh,
Out in the fields of clover.

Oh, for one more rest at night
With my heart as free from blight,
As in the old, old days, now long passed over,
When I played in the fields of fragrant clover;
For never was joy
Like being a boy,
Out in the fields of clover.

POINTS IN POLITIGS.

Trompen is growing in strength.
And the Civic Federation—what of it?
It is probable that Baer will have a walk away.
The populist county convention will be held July 30.
Langdon is making a still hunt canvass for sheriff.
Miller and Baker will be renominated by the populists.
Charley Waite is covering any amount of ground these days.
E. E. Spencer is sincere in his candidacy for county judge.
The contest over the judgeships will be short, sharp and decisive.
Bryan and Allen (Tommy)! How is that for a presidential ticket.
A. H. Weir may ask the populists to nominate him for county judge.
"An Brer Rabbit, he lay low,"—that's Tom Cochran in the Fifth ward.
J. W. Johnson will probably remain secretary of the board of transportation.
The A. P. A. influence is beginning to be felt in the case of one or two candidates.
Morrill is undecided, but R. E. Moore is certain to be a candidate for governor next fall.
C. M. Copp, of the Seventh ward, is one of the latest candidates for justice of the peace.
J. W. Foxworthy, of the Fourth ward, is thinking about becoming a candidate for county judge.
Is it time now for the Fourth and Fifth wards to give some indication as to what they are going to do.
Gran Ensign is not neglecting his fences, although his farm and his business are taking a good deal of his time.
The republican candidates for justice of the peace are: L. A. McCandless, L. P. Gould, W. B. Price, C. M. Copp and Walter Leese.
It is said that Trompen will have South Pass, Saltillo, Buda, Certerville, Nemaha, Panama and probably Highland and Olive Branch.
The populists will endorse Judge Tibbets if nominated by the democrats, and the democrats will put him up if he desires the nomination.
What will they do with Rosewater in the coming state convention? Many people are awaiting the answer to this query with keen interest.
Some of the republicans who were elected delegates to the Cleveland convention and who did not go, did not increase their popularity by staying away.
There is a preacher down in Leavenworth, Kansas, who accuses Governor Morrill, Chief Justice Horton and other Kansas officials of drinking intoxicating liquors from soup plates.
Kelley, the Sixth ward candidate for sheriff, was for a long time in the office of the Woods Investment company, and the Woodses and their connections are among his warm supporters now.

Justice Gould, who through the sale of his residence property in the Sixth ward becomes a resident of the Seventh, is a strong candidate in both of these wards. Mr. Gould will probably be renominated.

The members of the board of education are having a sweet time of it since the announcement of the election of teachers was made. Friends of some of the teachers who were turned down are protesting vigorously.

Hoagland is a good man, and everybody concedes that he would be a proper man for sheriff, but the situation in the Fifth ward is such that he hasn't much show. The ticket would be strengthened were Hoagland on it.

Senator John M. Thurston rendered yeoman's service in keeping up the credit of Nebraska at the Cleveland convention. Thurston's policy of out and out Americanism, which is another name for patriotism, is pretty popular just now.

The republican candidates for the nomination for county clerk are: Ira Dawson, of Bennett; Doug Fry, of Panama; Frank Mitchell, of Centerville; George Lee, of Emerald; Pat Dorr, of Havelock, and Harry Wells of the Fourth ward.

A. C. Wright, of Elmwood, formerly in Governor Crouse's office, and a delegate to the league convention in Cleveland, expects to enter the employ of the republican national committee during next year's campaign. What he wants is to be placed in charge of the document room.

Tom Munger's moving out of the Fifth ward into the Third may have had some political significance after all. Tom, they say, will be a candidate for county attorney when the time comes, and it may be that he thought it would be a good idea to get out of the Fifth ward which will, in all probability, present the name of F. W. Collins.

Some of Ike Lansing's friends were disposed to resent the statements made in the daily newspapers as to his conduct in the matter of the Vornholt estate, but it was all satisfactorily explained and it is doubtful if anybody believed what the News and Journal so eagerly printed. Lansing is fair and upright, and his judicial acts will bear close scrutiny.

When Mayor Graham appointed S. M. Melick chief of police, with Hoagland and Langdon cared for, it was thought that at least three candidates for sheriff had been sidetracked. But this was a mistaken idea. The bee is still buzzing around these gentlemen's heads. The office of chief of police is a fairly good sized sop and Mr. Ensign and Mr. Keiley and Mr. Trompen and other aspirants for sheriff fondly hoped that it would quiet Mr. Melick. Cerberus, however, takes the sop, and then gets up and hustles for other and bigger sop. He and Kelley are having a warm time of it in the Sixth ward.

Harry Wells, the present deputy county clerk and candidate for nomination as Mr. Woods' successor, is one of those public officers whom it is unnecessary to commend. Everybody who has had any business with the county clerk's office in recent years knows the zeal and efficiency with which he has served the county, and should it eventuate that Harry should be nominated republicans throughout the county would be well pleased. "It is true Harry is in the Fourth ward and there are a good many candidates in that ward, but he has, nevertheless, a good chance to be nominated," remarked a Fourth ward politician to me. "Look and see what the ward got four years ago. The fact is Wells is strong, and while there are several candidates for the office scattered over the county, none of them is especially strong, and Wells is the second choice of most of these candidates' supporters."
