

A GOOD THING

The fire in the Clarke building Saturday night was the most disastrous conflagration that has visited Lincoln since the Buckstaff and Lincoln Paint and Color company fires of several years ago.

NEWSPAPER DEATHS

Since the hard times began the newspapers published in this city have shown a disposition to turn up their toes.

MOSHER A TRUSTY

It is even so as THE COURIER said. Those stories about the terrible hardships imposed upon "poor Charlie Mosher" in the Sioux Falls pen turn out to be pure fiction.

"THE SUNDAY RUN"

The cycle has brought with it a new and popular amusement feature, the Sunday run, and there is more or less discussion as to the propriety of these excursions a-wheel on the Sabbath day.

THE STATE OF BUSINESS.

While there is still a great scarcity of money, the people being as a matter of fact, harder up right now than they have been at any time during the last two years, and collections remain poor, there is a much better prospect for all part well. As to the success of the fair—that is another matter. The first year it will doubtless be as Secretary Furnas would say "better and bigger" than ever before "and a success," financially. Then the interest of Omaha people will wane, and in a year or two it will be apparent that the fair ought to be in a smaller city than Omaha and in a place more accessible to the people of the state.

"Mister," said Reginald de Bumme to the man who looked as if he must be a college professor, "have you the price of a shave to spare?" "Why, what do you want with a shave?" "I didn't say I wanted a shave. I said I wanted the price of a shave. The price of a shave being 10 cents, and the price of a drink being 10 cents, the two phrases are practically synonymous, and I merely took the liberty of substituting one for the other for the sake of euphony. See?"

Cold, for you can catch it. What gives a cold, cures a cold and pays the doctor's bill? A draft (draught.) What relation is a doormat to a doorstep? A stepfather. What grows bigger the more you contract it. Debt. When is coffee like the soul? When it is ground. What is the most dangerous time of the year to visit the country? When the bull-rushes out, and the cow-slips about, and the little sprigs are shooting all about. Why is the root of a tongue like a dejected man? Because it is down in the mouth.

A REAL TRIBUTE.

"That bicycle suit of yours," said the fiance, "is the most hideous article of wearing apparel man ever gazed upon. Honestly, it's a wonder that it doesn't cause cases of hysterics every time you appear on the street."

He paused for a reply, but she had drooped her blushing head and said not a word. She could not speak.

The eloquent compliment to her skill in designing a successful bicycle costume had overwhelmed her with joy.

EXCEEDING INSTRUCTIONS.

The curtain had risen on the third act and the momentary hush that preceded the resumption of the performance on the stage was broken by a stentorian voice from the rear of the auditorium: "Is Dr. Higginspiker in the house?"

A tall, heavily whiskered man occupying a front seat rose up.

"If Dr. Higginspiker is in the house," resumed the stentorian voice, "he told me I was to come here and call him out at 10 o'clock!"

Whereupon Dr. Higginspiker, looking very red, picked up his hat and cane and walked down the aisle amid loud and enthusiastic applause.

A RAT'S FEAT.

An odd sight was witnessed at the corner of Market and Broad streets, Newark, on Sunday night. From the roof of the Firemen's Insurance building a cable wire extends across Market street to the Postal Telegraph office. A rat was seen on the wire over the insurance building. He moved slowly along the wire, and by the time he had reached the middle of the street he had a crowd below him that would have delighted the heart of a Blondin. He paid no attention to the upturned faces, but continued slowly but surely on his way until he reached the Postal Telegraph
