Many Lincoln people have gone to South Dakota this summer making Custer City their headquarters for various side trips and expeditions. A correspondent of THE COURIER sends the following from Custer City: "The Lincoln colony at this point is unusually large this summer. There are many campers as well as numerous more or less transient visitors who make the surrounding country and spend a few days in Custer. A very successful camping party, out for all summer, includes: Edgar Morrill, Earl McCreery, Alfred Fussey, Bert Watkins and Harry Zehring. The boys are doing their own cooking and camp work and report a delightful time. C. B. Gregory was here for ten days, leaving for Lincoln Monday. T. J. Curtice was here for a day or two, and among the new arrivals is Elmer Merrill. Among the other Lincolmites noticed were: Mr. and Mrs.

following to say of the Nebraska Women's Club Federation day during the Crete Chautauqua assembly—"The managers of Crete Chautauqua are not as polite as might be desired or they would not invite women from all over the state to come to Crete and then give them only one hour on the program. It is possible that the women only asked for one hour, but it should not be necessary for them to make such a request at all, they should be invited to attend. There are over a hundred women's clubs in the state and if the Crete Chautauqua would give them an invitation it might be a good thing for the Assembly as well as the women. The meeting last Tuesday proved that fact. A more enjoyable occasion does not come often. The women expected were absent to a woman. That is the ones who were on the program to preside and make the addresses,—Mrs. Peattie, Miss Elliott and Mrs. Bryan. It is only greater credit to the federation that women were on hand who could do both with dignity and grace on the spur of the moment."
