POINTS IN POLITICS.

The followers of the Sizer-Maule combination in the Fifth have had one or two meetings this week, and they are conspicuously confident. A thorough canvas of the ward has been made and a complete system of organization has been effected. In the meantime A. D. Burr, Gran Ensign and Tom Cochran are not allowing any grass to grow under their feet, and they believe they are in with success. Cochran, despite talk to the contrary, has not withdrawn, and will remain a candidate for county judge.

In the Fourth there is little change in the situation. Rohman had a meeting of his more ardent supporters last week and followed it up by another caucus at the Lindell hotel Monday night. Alva Kennard, who has the promise of the deputyship, is one of the main pillars of the Rohman movement. Dominick Courtney is also understood to be allied now pulling together. The combination is a strong one, and there are many predictions that it will win. It was expected that John B. Cunningham would join this combination but he promptly joined the Melick forces. Melick and Cunningham are putting up a good fight. L. A. McCauldass is marching under the Melick-Cunningham banner, and will live or die with these two candidates.

John B. Cunningham has a large following in the Sixth, and he gives a considerable impetus to the Melick movement. He is a popular young lawyer, and would give excellent satisfaction as county judge.

J. W. Lansing, Harry Wells, J. H. Foxworthy and George Cook will submit their claims to the Fourth ward delegation selected by Judges Holmes and Hall.

with the Rohman forces. Mr. Rohman's meetings were well attended, and his lieutenants are very active. Mr. Low on the other hand, has canvassed the ward systematically and thoroughly, and the confidence felt by his friends a week ago is increased by later developments. Mr. Low has the support, not only of the young republicans, but of a large proportion of the veteran element, and his friends are working to win. There was a large and enthusiastic Low meeting last night.

L. P. Gould for justice, and J. J. McClelland for constable, expect to receive the incidental support of the First ward delegation.

Things were not going lively enough in the Sixth to suit the statesmen of that important precinct. So this week Dan Kelley and Hunger combined their strength, and secured the co-operation of A. W. Scott, candidate for district judge, who up to that time had remained neutral. Scott, Kelley and Hunger are

The populists and democrats held their county conventions this week, and certain predictions to the contrary, there was fusion. A full set of candidates was named, but the rest of the ticket will be sacrificed in the attempt to re-elect Tibbetts, Baker and Miller. If fusion had a binding effect on all pops and democrats these candidates might be formidable; but it is known that many members of both parties refuse to be bound by the action of the conventions, and unless the republicans should nominate very weak candidates they will stand no chance of election.

There are now six candidates for county superintendent—Baer, Corey, Kerns, Funke, Hawse, Waite. Mr Corey says he is not making his candidacy with a view to the future, but the present.

A. D. Burr and Kimmell are on the Ensign side of the Fifth ward scrap. They are both candidates for the same office and will each have a separate Ensign ticket.

Congressman Strode has returned from Thurston county where he participated in the congressional investigation into the affairs at the Indian reservation.

John Fawell and Will Lane are quiescent in their candidacy for clerk of the district court.

George Flippin is the chosen candidate of the colored republicans of the city for the office of constable, the selection having been made at a meeting of colored citizens held Tuesday evening.

Spelts will have the support of the Seventh ward for sheriff. Copp and Johnson are running a close race for justice of the peace.

It is now said that Pat Dore will have has few equals in anything that he engages in. He was elected before by over 3,000 majority. All republicans acknowledge that his nomination would add great strength to the ticket, as every one in the city of Lincoln and Lancaster county knows Ed and knows that in every interest of benefit to the community in which he lives he is the first in the battle and the last to leave the field. An old resident, a large tax payer, a standard republican, a competent official an honorable gentleman, genial alike to all men, he has everything in his favor and nothing against him.

no opposition in his own precinct, he and Corey being the only candidates in Lancaster precinct.

The colored republicans of the First ward at a meeting Wednesday evening endorsed Maxey Cobb and A. J. Cornish.

If the Ensign-Cochran combination is unsuccessful in the Fifth ward, and the Melick-Cunningham combination get downed in the Sixth, Lansing will have a walkaway.

Ed. R. Sizer, candidate for clerk of the district court came to Lincoln in 1873, and from that day since has been in the front rank of stalwart republicans, and one of the pushers and up-builders of the city of Lincoln. He has held the office of clerk of the district court, and made a record that he may well be proud of, and that is praised by every person who came in contact with the records of the office. The fact that every county in the state has adopted his system in the district clerk's office speaks well for his efficiency. From judge, lawyer and every patron of the office, is heard the same thing, that Ed made a model clerk. As a rustler he
