

ELEANOR'S LETTER

Mrs. Manning and her class gave a field program to the ladies of the faculty club and junior Sorosis on Thursday afternoon in Union hall at the university. The room was full of ladies and the afternoon was an enjoyable one.

There is some talk of a leap year party to be given in the next ten days. Some of the girls who are in what is known as the Pleasant Hour crowd, are discussing it.

The two card parties given by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Clark at the Lincoln hotel last Friday and Saturday evenings were rather large affairs. Nearly everybody got a bid to either one or the other of the parties. There was a jolly crowd both nights.

Olive Latta has not returned from Omaha at this writing. She is very popular in that city, as her sister was before her.

Katharine Weston, of Beatrice, has been here several days. She is a frequent visitor to Lincoln, as you know.

Monday there was an excursion to Kansas City to hear the god of the golden hair. Going a couple of hundred miles to hear Paderewski might be enjoyable under certain conditions. These certain conditions did not exist Monday, and I concluded not to go. The truth is Jack couldn't go. He says he has to work and cannot afford to be running around after strange gods. Some of the girls who did go say that Paderewski's hair is beautiful. I notice that most of the people who went down to Kansas City had a great deal more to say of Paderewski's hair or some other feature of his personal appearance than they did of his playing.

Miss McClure left for Mt. Pleasant last Saturday.

Miss Slaughter visited in Omaha several days this week. She was the guest of Miss Mount.

Did you ever stop to think of the thoughtfulness of the Lansings and Olivers in taking their friends into their private boxes at the theatre? Every time there is an entertainment at the Lansing theatre these two families have guests in their boxes. They go the whole circle of their friends, which is certainly nice of them.

My dear if you find my letter specially uninteresting this week, I must remind you that there is nothing to write about.

Yours lovingly,

ELEANOR.

Lincoln, Neb., Friday, March 13.

GENERAL MANDERSON.

Ex-Senator Manderson spent twenty-four hours in Lincoln this week. He was called upon by many friends. He talked frankly of his candidacy for the presidency, and gave assurance that he would not stand in the way of McKinley's nomination.

McKINLEY.

The Lincoln McKinley club was organized in Y. M. C. A. hall Tuesday night. W. Morton Smith was elected president, E. E. Spencer secretary, and J. D. Knight, treasurer and a central committee of fourteen was appointed by the chair. Arrangements were perfected for the expression of preference for president at yesterday's primary elect on. Thursday night there was an immense McKinley mass meeting in the Funke opera house. It was presided over by W. Morton Smith, and addresses were made by T. P. Kennard, O. W. Webster, ex-Judge Reese, Fred Woodward, I. M. Raymond, F. W. Collins, A. J. Burnham of Auburn, Tom Smith, Squires, C. M. Parker, L. L. H. Austin and E. E. Spencer.

THE COURIER has received from Longmans, Green & Co., New York, "Coleridge's the Rime of the Ancient Mariner," edited with notes and an introduction by Herbert Bates, of this city. The book will be noticed in these columns next week.

CHOICE FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.

B. G. Dawes: "If the fight Manderson is now making against McKinley should divide the Nebraska delegation then Nebraska cannot hope for the second place on the ticket but it will go to that locality which does furnish the needed help. Very possibly California and the extreme west will swing solidly into line and in case they do they should be entitled to the second place on the ticket. On the other hand if McKinley is nominated on the first ballot as the eastern papers are now predicting then the second place will go wherever it will help the ticket most. I am of the opinion that the strongest ticket would be McKinley and some man from California. If the republican party goes to California for a man that man should be Harrison Grey Otis. Mr. Otis is a man of national reputation and one whose ability and integrity qualify him for the office of president as well as for presiding officer of the United States senate. If such a man as Harrison Grey Otis is nominated for vice-president there will have to be no excuses made nor any comparisons between the president and vice-president that are disparaging to the latter."
