

Meiklejohn. One of these men will be nominated for governor. Without disparaging Judge Hayward in any way the opinion is freely expressed that Meiklejohn is most likely to be the nominee. It is felt that the congressman has the requisite ability and dignity and integrity, and that, moreover, he could make a more effective campaign than any other man who is a candidate after votes and he is getting them. He will come to the state convention with a large and enthusiastic following.

ELEANOR'S LETTER

My Dear Penelope:—You say you are going away for a little while. I wish I might go with you, but really Burlington beach and Lincoln park are such superior places that I can forswear the seashore with fairly good grace. Not many young people have left Lincoln for the summer yet, but the exodus is beginning, and I am afraid a good many will work the railroads or the banks and get away. Dr. Spahr left the first of the week for York, Pa., where he will reside in future, and Mr. Faucon said a permanent good-bye to Lincoln Wednesday. He goes to Boston, where they make beans. Guy Huribut is having thirteen large extension trunks made and just as soon as they are finished he will pack his wardrobe and leave for the summer. There is said to be a girl down in Massachusetts whose face will light up with a glad, sweet smile when Guy's trunks appear. Mr. McCloud, who for the past year has been instructor in the English department in the state university, left for the east this week. It is understood that he will not return next year. The remains of the swath that he cut in Lincoln society are still visible. Charley Magoon told me the other day that he would spend the summer in Hawaii, taking up the work begun by Kate Field, and spreading the movement for woman suffrage among the natives, but I imagine he was only joking. I suggested that he go to Cuba and put down the insurrection by stepping on it. Titwillow Jones will leave Monday for his native place on the Island of Lilliput. Frank Burr may spend July and August in Wyoming looking for gold and trout. Dr. White, of the university, will go home to Maryland. Prof. Owens will spend the summer east. Frank Zehring will spend several weeks decorating the Rialto in New York. The Baldwins are talking of moving out to Meadowbrook farm for the summer.

Last Fourth of July society, or rather the younger element, was rent asunder by two rival outings, one under the direction of Messrs. Frank Burr, R. M. Joyce et al., and the other headed by Mattson Baldwin. The feeling between the projectors of these outings was not so very pleasant, and there was a merry scramble to see which could make the biggest showing. Between the two the town was dragged, and both parties were successes, especially in attendance. This year there will, in all probability, be a repetition of the experiences of a year ago. Arrangements are already being made for two outings at South Bend and Meadowbrook by these two factions. Next year guests will be booked for the annual picnics as early as January 1.

The dance given by Mr. and Mrs. John T. Dorgan at Burlington beach last Friday night was one of the most successful out-of-door entertainments given thus far. Mr. and Mrs. Dorgan and Mr. Amasa Wilson and Miss Rinehart received the guests. The party was large, and the people danced with something like the enthusiasm of the early winter. The cool breezes blew, the floor was in prime condition, and the brave men and fair women made the most of the occasion.

Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock Mr. Edward B. Ransom was married to Miss Maude May McCain, daughter of George H. McCain, 1536 Vine street. Dr. Lasby performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by relatives and a small number of intimate friends. Mr. Ransom is the assistant cashier of the Lincoln Street Railway company, and is well known in the social circles of the city, while the bride is an exceedingly popular young lady. After the ceremony an informal reception was held prior to the departure of the young couple for Denver and Colorado Springs.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. George J. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Woods, Mr. Mattson Baldwin and Miss Rinehart left for Hot Springs, S. D. They will remain till the latter part of next week.

Mrs. A. S. Raymond had a Kensington on Monday afternoon. It was for the special entertainment of Mrs. Brown, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. Altkin.

Had you heard that Mrs. A. S. Raymond is going abroad with her children? She goes in a few weeks. She will meet Mrs. Andrew Raymond, who is already there, and the two families will travel in company. In the winter Arthur and Ruth are going to school and Mrs. Raymond will settle down in some quiet pension with her children.

Helen Harwood will sail a week from tomorrow, Saturday. Miss Ames of Boston chaperons and conducts the party, which consists of four young ladies. Miss Harwood means to do as much of Europe as she can comfortably this summer and spend the winter in Paris. When she is settled for the winter she has planned to continue work on her theses—the Bastille. She will have access to original documents and looks forward with much satisfaction to this especial plan.

Captain and Mrs. Gullfoyle gave a card party on Tuesday evening and another on Thursday evening. There were five tables, the game was whist—the north and south kind, you know, that Lieutenant Townley knows all about. Mr. R. J. Greene, Mrs. Ladd and Mr. Ogden took prizes for rapid and sound deductive reasoning, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Buckstaff gave an early morning card party on Wednesday. The ladies stayed to luncheon and got home in time for an afternoon nap.

Thursday evening the young men at Worthington academy gave a dancing party. The court of the school building was full of friends of the boys. Nothing marred the enjoyment of the evening except the last car home and that about broke it up.

On Saturday night Miss Henrietta Hollowbush will give a party for Miss Houston, Mrs. F. W. Brown's guest.

They say that the party given by the Lincoln club at the beach tonight will be the most elegant and lavish of all the club parties of the winter. It will probably be the close of a brilliant season for this new club. Mr. Cook, Mr. Green and Mr. Wilson, who invented the Lincoln club, certainly deserve choice praise. I have not missed one of the parties so far and I can truthfully say that there have been no functions so elegant and exclusive since Lincoln society drew its first conscious breath.

Yours lovingly
Friday, June 12. Eleanor
