

Miss Leta Trigg, Mrs. H. S. Town and C. G. Cone, sang quite sympathetically and beautifully "Oh, Wert Thou in the Cold Blast."

Mrs. Anna B. Winchester read a neat little poem, to which an appropriate prose preface was attached.

The brightest number was the prophesy given by Mrs. Lindley. It was filled with merry witticisms.

Miss Maria H. Lillibridge gave the charge to the graduates, after which all joined in singing a song whose words had been written by O. J. Wilcox.

The incoming president, Miss Mary Watson, was introduced and made a few remarks.

After the program an informal reception to the graduates was held.

Griffith returned this week from Valparaiso, where they spent a week on a farm.

Miss Grace Oakley is visiting Miss Harrison in Beatrice.

Miss Fannie Latham is the guest of Mrs. Pitcher.

Mrs. Leonard has as guests her aunt and mother.

Miss Cora Hardy gave a Kensington on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Lambertson, Mrs. Will Hardy, Mrs. Emory Hardy, Mrs. Ladd, Mrs. Pitcher, Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. Tilton, Misses Cox, Clark, Bertie Clark and Harris, were the guests. Mrs. Hardy leaves in a few days for the east, where she will spend most of her vacation.

Yours lovingly,
ELEANOR.

LEMONADE IN PACKAGES.

"You'd be surprised," said J. E. Riggs, the druggist, "at the demand for our lemon sugar. This hot weather people will drink anything. They must drink something. They find our packages of lemon sugar most palatable and convenient, and there is a great demand for it. The fact that you can make the finest lemonade in the world in two seconds' time simply by putting in some water, and the additional fact that the sugar is excellent for custards, cakes, etc., make it so eagerly sought for. Then people like it because it's cheap."

ELEANOR'S LETTER

Dear Penelope: I miss your letters very much and am sorry you concluded not to write any more this summer. In a small way, Lincoln society is active enough to receive comment.

If it were not for the tonic effect that visitors have on Lincoln society would be deadly dull. Mrs. Dave Baum and Mrs. Ed Baum from Omaha, Mrs. Frank Sheldon of New York and Mrs. Thompson's guest, Miss Huston, imposed obligations on their hosts, which the latter do not attempt to shirk.

Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Burr and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Leonard gave a large party for Mrs. Dave and Mrs. Ed. Baum at the beach. It was a large party and very enjoyable. I have said before and I am glad to be able to repeat it, that Burlington beach is the only comfortable place for a summer party. The moon and the water and the boats are cheap as air, and no amount of upholstery and chandelier effects can make up for their absence when the party is given in a private house.

Thursday there was a jolly lot of people at Meadowbrook farm. They drove out late in the afternoon and the ladies took things to eat, and the lunch was served in genuine picnic fashion.

I think it was the largest picnic that has yet been given at the farm. There were so many people that when it came to gathering around the long tables in the dining room there was a veritable crush. A number of people drove out after supper. The party returned at a little after 10 o'clock. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Dorgan, Mr. and Mrs. Ode Rector, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Curtice, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Baldwin, Mr. Branch, Mrs. Todd of Chicago, Miss Hudson of Cairo, Ill., Miss Quick of Port Jervis, N. Y., Miss Huston of Kansas City, Miss Rinehart of Lafayette, Ind., Marie Marshall, Hallie Hooper, Lucy Griffith, Florence Farwell, Henrietta Hollowbush, Mae Moore, Maud Oakley, Messrs. Joe Mason, W. A. C. Johnson, Huribut, Houtz, Smith, Honeywell, Mallaleu. The party was given in Miss Rinehart's honor.

Mr. Houtz and Miss Hooper were the objects of considerable attention at the picnic, but I could not see that they have changed any since the announcement of their engagement. They always have been particularly modest. All of the young people are their friends, and they have been the recipient of sincere congratulations and good wishes.

Professor Owens left Thursday morning for Chicago, where he will spend the summer vacation. I would be satisfied even with Chicago, but I am no nearer a summer trip now than I was last December. It is a good thing the fare to Burlington beach and Lincoln park is only 5 cents.

Miss Carson gave a card party this morning for her friends, Miss Quick and Mrs. Coffin.
