The members of the party include Miss Pound and her little brother, Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Imhoff, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Woods and Prof. and Mrs. Lees.

There is scarcely a home in the city where there is such a constant coming and going of charming visitors as at Mr. Brad Slaughter's. This is cause for little wonderment considering his proverbial hospitality. The following have been their guests during the past week: Their daughter, Mrs. Gilmore and two children of Elk Point, S. D.; Miss Kate D. Harris, of Syracuse, Neb.; Mr. Farnsworth, of Council Bluffs, Ia., spent Sunday.

A few favored persons in this city have received beautiful yellow invitations to the Feast of Olympia, which will be celebrated in Omaha next week. The invitation reads as follows: "Ak-Sar-Ben, King of Omivera, Duke of the Seven Cities of Cibola, is pleased to command your presence at the Mystic Revelries and the state ball attendant upon his coronation before the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben at their den, in his beloved city of Omaha, Friday evening, September 4, 1896, at 9 o'clock, Samson, Lord High Chamberlain."

Wednesday evening Miss Charlotte Clark gave a straw ride for her guest, Miss May Lewis of Massachusetts. A four-horse hay wagon, well upholstered with straw and rugs, conveyed the party to the grove west of the penitentiary. While Miss Clark spread a delicious lunch on the grass, a campfire was built to boil the water for the coffee. The guests were the Misses Bertie Clark, Ena Ricketts, Anne Spurck, Katharine Brooks, Maud Hammond, Gene Getner and Mary Lewis of Massachusetts. Messrs. Otis Whipple, Alex Sheldon, Earnest Folsom, Harry Evans, Will Clark, Clark, Whitmore, Carl Marlay and Harry Barber; Mr. and Mrs. Meissner.

The many friends of Mr. Edwin Camack and Miss Minerva Hendrickson will be surprised to learn that they have joined their lives in the sacred bonds of matrimony. The wedding took place on Wednesday, at noon, in Columbus, at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Cunningham, where the happy bride has been visiting this summer. The Rev. Pulis, pastor of the Baptist church at Columbus, officiated, using a short but impressive service. Miss Hendrickson was known as one of Lincoln's most charming young ladies, and Mr. Camack is to be congratulated on winning so fair a prize. Mr. Camack is a member of the Lancaster county bar and associated with the law firm of Harwood, Ames & Pettis. After October 1 the young couple will be at home at 236 South Eleventh street. Their friends join in extending congratulations and wishing them a long and happy life.

Camping on the Blue river at Crete has been quite popular this season. It is there that the Rev. Percy A. Silvers has taken the members of the Episcopal choir. Also such members of the congregation who wished a little recreation. They report a very happy time and an enthusiasm which rains could not dampen nor excessive heat suppress. The time has been spent there in boating, reading, visiting and in roaming the very pretty grove along the river bank. Their is little doubt that all these campers will come home refreshed in body and mind. Their absence in the church tomorrow morning will make them better appreciated when they do return.

Miss Lottie and her brother, Bert Whedon, gave a very merry tally-ho ride Tuesday evening in honor of their guest, Miss Katharine Criley, of Kansas City. The young people met at Mr. Whedon's handsome residence about five and drove to Ensign's barn. Arriving at their destination due justice was done the abundance of good things which Miss Whedon had brought for the lunch. Singing and dancing furnished the amusement until 10, when the party started on their moonlight ride home. The guests were Misses Eleanor Raymond, Sadie Burnham, Ona Imhoff, Mabel Richards, Ellen Gere, May Bartlett of Omaha, Katharine Criley of Kansas City, Mo. Messrs. John Jones, Will Raymond, Harry Evans, Tom Wing, Ralph Haggard, Pillsbury, Will Westerman, Bert Whedon, Dr. and Mrs. Ladd, Emery Hardy, Mrs. Buckstaff and Mr. C. O. Whedon.
