Last week's issue of the Courier mentions the trolley ride of August 27th as having been enjoyed by the wrong party. It was given in honor of Miss Kathryn Kearns of Chicago by Miss Laura Cauger. After the ride through the noisy McKinley demonstrations dainty refreshments were served on the lawn at her home, 1645 Twelfth street. The Chinese lanterns in the trees gave a pretty fantastic appearance to the entire affair which was a decided success.

Miss Lytle of Greenwood gave a house party to the young ladies of the Pi Beta Phi fraternity and their friends four days of last week. The mothers were invited to spend the first day, the 20th of August. Several Lincoln girls who were not members of the fraternity together with some from Ashland were invited to a picnic on the 24th. The numerous picnics, parties and dinners which were given to the young ladies is sufficient proof of the royal hospitality extended to them at the Lytle home. Mr. and Mrs Lytle were assisted in entertaining by Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. Quackerbush. The following were invited: Misses Bessie Turner, Mae and Jessie Lansing, Ana and Oda Closson, Annie Stuart, Freeda Shell, Jean Tuttle, Kate Walker, Lincoln; Belle and Grace Reynolds, York; Netta Bunting, David City; May and Martha Catlin, Ada De Bols, Belle Von Mansfield, Veda and Hallie Wilson, Ashland; Gertrude Branch, Omaha. Mesdames Lansing, Turner, Closson, and Walker spent one day with the young ladies.

Last Wednesday afternoon the members of Holy Trinity choir and congregation returned from their delightful ten days' camping on the Chautauqua grounds at Crete. The Rev. Percy A. Silvers was more than successful in his plans to make the time pass pleasantly. Boating, driving, reading, fishing and outdoor sports of all kinds made the day of departure come too quickly to the following people: Rev. Percy A. Silvers, Messrs. and Mesdames H. J. W. Seamark, Mariner, Ralston; Mesdames R. H. Oakley, Leeting, Sizer; Misses Marie Hoover, Helen Hoover, Maud Oakley, Agnes Sewell, Belle Beachley, Jessie Lansing, Maud Tyler, Annie Betts, Olive Seamark, Stella Rice, Helena Lau, Fannie Geeting, Buncher; Messrs. Owen Oakley, Keenes, Herbert Beachley, Arbor Barth, Taylor, Lau, Bert Betts, Lau, Will Sizer. Visitors: Mr. and Mrs. Lansing; Mesdames Ewing, Cowdery, Ker; Miss Cowdery; Mr. W. D. Robinson; Master Ivan Lansing.

The season wanes, and now the good housekeepers are so busy with the fall sewing and preserves that the parties this week are conspicuous for their absence. This lack of gaiety may be due somewhat to the fair. The Ak-Sar-Ben ball attracted a few Lincolinites last night. Now the summer girl, wearied with travelling and the pleasures of life at fashionable watering places, packs her innumerable bags and trunks, into which she has made a vain attempt to crowd the dozens of photographs, autograph fans, college pins and other trophies, representative of scalps which hang from her belt, and which she has captured during her outing before she bids her last farewell. In a very short time the autumn festivities will commence, and a large number of pretty buds, who will be giving their coming-out parties, will make Lincoln society exceedingly lively from now until the winter season comes in with its club dances, brilliant receptions and cotillions.
