

that the Fourth ward next spring will present a bundle of political intricacies to its residents for solution.

In the Fifth ward John Giesler will again solicit the aid of his former allies in his endeavor to be renominated, but if conditions portend anything, they indicate that Mr. Giesler will discover that his list of constituents has greatly diminished. This great falling off of Mr. Giesler's supporters should not be attributed to any fault of his. Since his election to the council two other campaigns—one city and one county—have occurred, the operations of which have left the Fifth ward, especially, in a chaotic condition. Few Fifth ward statesmen really know "where they are at." The bad feeling, which is always a potent and apparent factor in the Fifth, has been greatly intensified since last fall and spring's campaign, and Mr. Giesler will, of course, be dragged in to undergo his share of the turmoil and trouble. Besides, there are a host of men in the Fifth—there always are—who aspire to any office they can secure, and these will not befriend Mr. Giesler in the least.

But what will injure Mr. Giesler the most is the candidacy of the three Fifth warders for mayor. Having been in office, he will naturally be given credit for exerting a little more influence with some elements than the average citizen, and each of the three mayoralty candidates will insist on being given the same, as each of them are justly entitled to political assistance from Mr. Giesler. And there is where the rub comes in, for upon Giesler's refusal to support any one of the three, under the pretense of maintaining a neutral ground, he will at once forfeit the friendship of Mr. Woods, Mr. Maule and Mr. Barr Parker. If he concludes to assist any one of the three candidates the remaining two could certainly defeat him by combining their forces on some other candidate.

It is not impossible that an understanding may be effected between Mr. Giesler and the mayoralty candidates in the Fifth, but those most familiar with the workings of "understandings" and "reconciliations" are aware of the little benefit they are to any candidate.

Mr. E. R. Guthrie of the Sixth ward will probably be re-elected if he is content to keep his hands off the affairs of other candidates.

The Seventh promises a hot and confused engagement. H. D. Ewan, now councilman from that ward, W. H. Kingery and G. H. Harper will do battle for votes. Mr. Kingery has been ward committeeman from the Seventh for some years, and is popular with all who know him, as is also Mr. Harper, the present committeeman from that ward.

H. D. Ewan, as is well known, will have questions other than of an official nature to contend with, and it is presumed that much of an amusing character will transpire when the proper time comes.

As every one is aware, Henry Myers will "make Rome howl" with his faction. He has not had his cravings satisfied as yet, and next spring will afford him a most auspicious opportunity for doing so. That Mr. Myers has a certain and inseparable strength is a well known fact; that he will devote it to a candidate who is an anti-administration man is also well known. Mr. Ewan will, in all probability, have the entire influence of Mr. Comstock, though this assertion should not be accepted as positively certain, as it is impelled by conditions and not well founded information.

"That tired feeling" must have recently possessed the popocrats of this section, lately, since they are not so much in evidence and enthusiasm as they were some time back.

Mr. Bryan may be as honest as the day is long, but the platform upon which he stands does not resemble him in the least in this respect.

A very significant and encouraging feature of the present campaign is the return to the fold of a large number of local republicans who were "a little off" for a while.

The conduct of the popocrats has become so cowardly and vacillating that it repugnant.

If there is one feature—or in other words, an innovation more than another which is adding interest and renewed vigor to the campaign, both local and national, it is the ladies, young and old, who are so actively participating. Ladies republican clubs of all kinds are not only enthusing, but impressing the whole mind with the sterling worth of republicanism. The wholesome influence and the great power the women exert cannot be gainsaid. In future, as at the present time, the women of this country will be a much sought power, and they, in turn, will demand recognition accordingly. And they should do so.

It is true that Governor Holcomb controls the state "Patronage," but Jack McColl, without any patronage at hand, has the people with him.

AMUSEMENTS.

Chauncey Olcott's audience at the Lansing on Thursday night was smaller than he deserved. But it appreciated his singing with the enthusiasm of a full house.

His singing of "Believe me if all those endearing Young Charms" had the fervor and the sweetness of the lines themselves in it. And Thomas Moore's love lyrics can only be sung by one whose temperament corresponds to the author's. The instant response of the audience to the song showed that the combination was all right. Chauncey Olcott's acting was not up to the standard of his song singing. He has a graceful, strong figure and a face that recalls Dixey's but he speaks his lines as though his mind were somewhere else, and the effect is of one who has played the role until it is perfunctory and dead. He was ably supported. The company has not a weak member. Kitty Coleman as the Widow Blake was vigorously piquante. The play is hackneyed no new situations and no new characterizations; but it pleased the audience which shows that novelty is not always necessary.

COMFORT TO CALIFORNIA.

Every Thursday morning, a tourist sleeping car for Salt Lake City, San Francisco and Los Angeles leaves Omaha and Lincoln via the Burlington Route. It is carpeted; upholstered in rattan; has spring seats and backs and is provided with curtains, bedding, towels, soap, etc. An experienced excursion conductor and a uniformed Pullman porter accompany it through to the Pacific Coast. While neither as expensively finished nor as fine to look at as a palace sleeper, it is just as good to ride in. Second class tickets are honored and the price of a berth, wide enough and big enough for two, is only $5. For a folder giving full particulars, call at the B & M Depot or City office Corner Tenth and O street.

$100 DOLLARS REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for anyone that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.
