The Bible school of the First Presbyterian Sunday school completed a year's work in a most charming manner last Tuesday evening. The amusements were chiefly arranged by the primary department. The musical director, Miss Sallie Furnas, is complimented by all for the excellent drill and the success of the Christmas cantata—She has spent weeks in planning the program. Several children from the intermediate department assisted. Chester Parks as Santa Claus and Mildred Parks as Queen of the Fairies were excellent in their parts, both in acting and singing. They have sweet voices. There were pleasingly rendered solos by Alice Huntsinger, Annie Jones, Louise Barr and Nellie Tate. Besides the beautiful choruses by the little ones. The fairies went through some very dainty marches. They were Mildred Parks, Jessie Mosher, Helen Boggs, Joyce Broady, Ruth Bryan, Nannie Cunningham, Myrtle Christner and Lulu Saylor. Miss Clara Smith accompanied the singers sympathetically. Messrs. Walt, Curtice and Abbott rendered an instrumental trio artistically. An interesting recitation by Miss Rena Alderman, a stirring organ voluntary by Miss Givens and an address which pleased the children by Dr. Hindman completed the entertainment. The church was packed with children and adults.

Miss Anna Dick, modiste, has moved her rooms to 1318 O street.
