Societies met January 26th with Mrs. Hall. Twenty-one members responded to roll call. Mrs. Beebe gave a thoughtful and most carefully prepared paper on "Mistress and Maid." The ladies showed keenest appreciation of the subject and the treatment thereof, as was evidenced by their animated discussion. Mrs. Beebe has had unusual opportunities for research. Among them a residence of some months in Chicago, where she had conversations with Miss Adams and a chance to see the practical working of her projects. The strongest points brought out in the paper were the intensity of feeling against domestic service among girls and the fact of their isolation in it, despite efforts of the best of mistresses. The principal factors in the solution of the problem were building of club houses and institution of training classes. The club will meet with Mrs. Lees, 1704 D street, February 9th. Mrs. Hartley will lead, her subject being "What Undertakings for the Benefit of the Public Can Best be Managed by the Municipality?"

A PLEASANT CLUB MEETING AT PLATTSMOUTH.

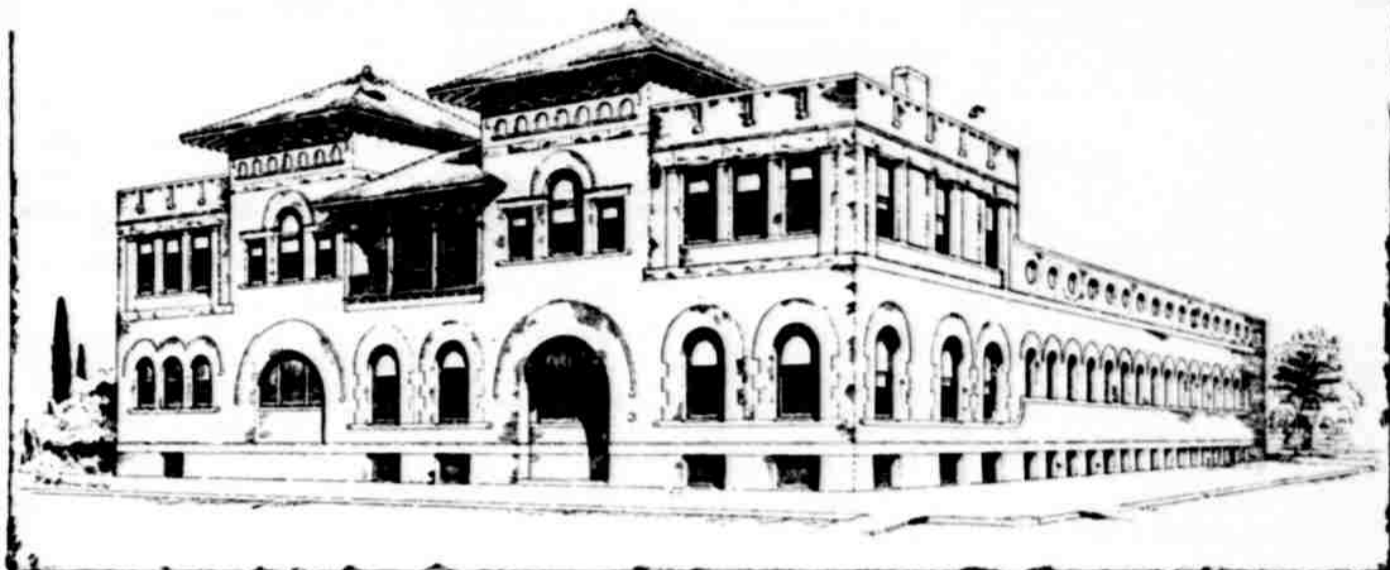

The Woman's club held a most enjoyable meeting last evening at the hospitable home of Mrs. Walker. Mrs. Stoutenborough being unable to be present, Mrs. Butler presided. After the usual routine business, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Travis, leader of the department of English literature, who had prepared a most interesting program.

Roll call was responded to by quotations from Dryden. A delightful paper, "Dryden—Character Sketch and Works," was read by Mrs. Morissy and listened to with great attention.

Miss Gass followed with a very witty and bright discussion of the "Influences that Surrounded Dryden and Produced His Style of Writing." Miss Gass' paper showed careful preparation and was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Streight next read a paper on "John Bunyan." She described him as somewhat erratic, but a man of great talents, as evinced by his several works, chief of which, "Pilgrim's Progress," Cowper has immortalized in his beautiful poem, which the length of this article precludes inserting.

Mrs. Unruh read briefly from his "Progress," while Mrs. Waugh closed the program with a paper written by Sulpho-Saline Sanitarium, Cor. 14th and M.

All Kinds of Baths—Scientific, Masseurs. A Deep Sea Pool, 50x142 feet.

DRS. EVERETT, Managing Physicians.

Mrs. Eads on "Sir Isaac Newton," which was replete with historical events and exceedingly interesting.

The New Book Review Club met with Mrs. Stonebreaker Wednesday, January 27. The members nearly all together, making a very charming circle. After welcoming our guests the minutes of last meeting were read and approved. A novel treat was in store for us through the kindness of Mr. Penney. A gramophone which brought marches, two-steps and banjo solos into our midst in a most delightful manner.

A letter from Mrs. Peattie was read by Mrs. A. A. Scott which gave us a very interesting peep into her busy earnest life. Mrs. Stephen Hoover gave us her book, "A Mountain Woman," which is full of rare pictures, tender pathos and keen humor, like the fair author. Many of her sketches are like rare etchings, artistic lines, shades and lights, tell stories of character which are touching and true of many sad human hearts, whether west in our own state, or north or south. Mrs. P— is a charming woman with interesting talents and a true womanly soul. We wish her success and much happiness in her new field of work.

Our toasts were of Nansen, bills just passed in our own senate, what congress ought to do for our banks, theatre hats should come off, the seat of the United States, our own flag in England, how to reread a book, musical talent in this country, the new opera Isis, the genius of Thoreau.

Adjourned to meet February 10.

President New Book Review Club.

$100 DOLLARS REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.
