Novelty Wool Dress Goods

Often as we have said it before, it will bear repeating—our stock of dress goods surpasses that of any other house in Nebraska. We are not complaining about the business we have in that department, but we want more. We think we deserve more for we are showing a larger assortment of choice new dress fabrics than all other Lincoln stores combined. Come and see for yourself.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

KENNEDY—CUNNINGHAM.

Married, on Wednesday at 11:30 in the morning at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. Howard Kennedy, Jr., of Omaha, to Miss Mary R. Cunningham. The bride is the organist of the First Presbyterian church of Omaha. She was formerly the organist of the Presbyterian church here and in that capacity enlarged the circle of her friends. In the larger sphere to which she has been called in Omaha she has been quite as successful. She is a pretty and a very sweet girl and her friends in Lincoln can congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy with sincerity.

The Rev. S. B. McCormick of the First Presbyterian church of Omaha, assisted by Dr. Hindman, performed the marriage ceremony. The home was filled with members of both families and the most intimate friends. The wedding breakfast was a gay little feast, from 12 to 1, just before Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy started on their wedding journey. They mean to take a boat as soon as they reach the Mississippi and sail down to New Orleans. After May 1 they will be at home in Omaha, at 113 North Twenty-fifth street. The ceremony was a very pretty one. Miss Charlotte Clark played the wedding march. Miss Frances Cunningham, the bride's sister, was maid of honor and Miss Ethelwyne Kennedy, the groom's sister, and Miss Clara Wigton, both of Omaha, were bridesmaids, while little Helen Hall was a blythe flower girl. The best man was Mr. J. H. Adams of Omaha. It was a pink wedding. Pink carnations and pink roses were everywhere. The bride was lovely in white mousseline de soie over cream colored silk.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Chapin celebrated their seventh anniversary Friday evening with the christening of their three pretty children, Helen, Lillian and Harriet. Dr. Hindman performed the ceremony at eight o'clock in the presence of about fifty guests. The remainder of the evening was spent in social conversation. The following guests were present: Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Hindman, Messrs. and Mesdames W. A. Preston, W. H. McCreery, A. T. Van Brunt, M. E. Van Brunt, A. G. Billmeyer, E. A. Becker, Wallace Crandell, C. I. Jones, C. S. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Wilkinson; Misses Clara Parks and Eulass; Mesdames M. E. Van Brunt and Mrs. Davis of Seward; Messrs. W. H. Gerhart and Earl McCreery and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Chapin of Crete.

The regular monthly missionary meeting of the First Presbyterian church, which was turned into a general praise meeting and reception, was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Hindman Wednesday afternoon. Over two hundred ladies were seated in the spacious parlors to listen to an excellent program. The president, Mrs. Patton, gave the charge of the meeting to Mrs. M. D. Welch, who introduced the following well received numbers: A vocal solo, "Children's Home," by Mrs. Ward; "The Spirit of Missions," Miss Wild; vocal solo, "Light in the Darkness," Miss Eleanor Raymond; "Alaska, the Country and Its People," Mrs. Stein, and a few choice remarks by Dr. Hindman.

A collection of the blessing bags found the sum of thirty-seven dollars in them, besides the annual subscriptions, which have mostly been paid into the treasury. Refreshments and a general reception followed. Meteor and La France roses decorated the parlors and dining room. Altogether it was a social and financial success and was largely due to the host and hostess, Dr. and Mrs. Hindman.

The week's gatherings of the different circles represented by the names in these columns are Lenten in character and numbers and in many cases the meetings have been accidental. If anyone find the name of a host or hostess who is indebted to him for hospitality, The Courier asks him to reflect upon the accidental, informal, altogether unpremeditated character of the crime against himself.

Miss Alta Wilson will entertain a few ladies at the Woman's club rooms next Friday.
