PUPILS PLAY.

The pupils of Miss Schofield of the university school of music, or as many of them as would venture out in the inclement weather of Wednesday evening, were received by a highly appreciative group of listeners at the chapel who seemed much interested in the progress of the performers. Four grades of pupils took part, beginning with the very youngest, Helen Richardson and Katherine Kimball, Mable Fossler and Helen Wilson. These little people and all others played from memory. In the next class was Grace Edmiston. The intermediate and advanced grade, Sara Barron, Mary Kittering and Ethel Galley were heard. The work displayed was most creditable and showed how these earnest students are making noticeable progress to even the casual listeners. It is hoped that the program, which is appended, may be repeated.

PART I. Primary.

Waltz for four hands, op. 120—Gurlitt; Helen Richardson, Katherine Kimball.
