Miss Laura Houtz entertained delightfully Thursday afternoon for Miss Bess Barker, of Portland, Oregon, and Miss Ura Kelley, of Omaha. She will entertain forty of her friends this afternoon. Miss Houtz has proved herself to be a most charming hostess.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity gave a farewell banquet in their rooms at 1134 N street on Tuesday evening. It was the final spread before the spring separation. In spite of the partially farewell character of the spread, for some of the boys go, not to return, the speeches were witty, full of good fellowship and hope for the future. The toasts and toasters were introduced by J. S. Corby. E. B. Sawyer responded to "Sigma Alpha Epsilon day at the Tennessee Centennial." The other toasts were given by the following members: "The Present Chapter," George K. Bartlett; "The Future Chapter," Will Green; "The Alumni," John Farwell; "Purple and Gold," A. S. White; "The Ladies," Bud Harmon; "Good Night," Cliff Griggs.

Chancellor and Mrs. MacLean received the university seniors and the senior classes of the industrial and academic colleges at their home Tuesday evening. Music was furnished by Prof. Hagenow's orchestra. Mrs. MacLean was assisted by the wives of the deans and the members of the faculty. Refreshments were served by the ladies. President Philbrick of the senior classes stood at the head of the receiving party and introduced the guests upon their arrival to Chancellor and Mrs. MacLean who introduced them in turn to the other members of the receiving line which consisted at different times of the several members of the faculty and their wives. After a general social time Dean Sherman invited the company up to the hall, where a quasi faculty meeting was organized, Dean Sherman presiding. The meeting was opened by Tabor Teal who made a few well chosen remarks on "The Senior, an Artificial Person," emphasizing especially the need of the cultivation of the heart. Hugh Walker responded to "The Relation of the Senior Class to the Faculty." Miss Flora Bullock gave an interesting talk on "Sheep Sorrel, Seniors and Afterwards." Harry G. Shedd extolled the "Last Class Meeting of '97." W. H. Oury in "The End of the Beginning."

dwelt upon the loyalty to the institution that seniors ought to show. Mr. Oury's remarks were timely and much to the point. The toasts were greatly enjoyed because of the bright, sparkling good humor which characterized them. Miss Mary L. Jones gave a very instructive and interesting history of library schools in the United States and the development of the new library school at the university of Illinois at Champaign whither she is expecting to go soon. Chancellor MacLean then closed the meeting at the request of Dean Sherman in a very pleasing talk, emphasizing the need of culture of the heart.

DEEMER-HUNTSINGER.

At noon on Wednesday two weddings were celebrated in the same block. Two wedding parties were stormed with rice, four travellers started on an unknown road. The brides were Miss Huntsinger and Miss Buckstaff. Mr. Deemer and Miss Huntsinger were married by the Rev. Hindman, at the home of the bride's parents, 726 South Sixteenth. The ceremony was performed in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends. The rooms were prettily adorned with many flowers. After congratulations the party enjoyed a tasteful wedding luncheon.

Mr. Deemer is with the Curtis & Van Denberg company and is also with his father, J. A. Deemer, in business for himself. He is a rising young business man, known not only in Lincoln, but throughout much of Nebraska, where he travelled before removing here. His bride is a daughter of S. K. Huntsinger, cashier of the Missouri Pacific. She is known to a large circle in Lincoln as an admirable young lady. She has been instructor in stenography in the Chamberlain academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Deemer left Wednesday evening for Denver and the mountains for a brief trip.

The I. C's. charmingly entertained their friends, Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Henrietta Hawley. Dancing, cards and social conversation furnished pleasing amusement. During the evening some Mischievous boys stole two cakes through the kitchen window, but returned the plates with thanks late on in the evening. Those present were: Misses Bannister, Bess Baker, of Portland, Ore., Brown, of Ottawa, Syford, Tuttle, Mc Lennan, Hallett, Latta, Mosher, Seidell, Shamp,

At Syracuse, where Dr. and Mrs. Silver visited the Doctor's family, the sisters, brothers, cousins and aunts accompanied them to the station with traditional sedateness, but just as the train left they buried them in showers of blessings and rice. After that of course all the people on the car thought them just married and the newly wed have not been wedded long enough to stand scrutiny with stoicism. To escape Lincoln only to be caught by Syracuse chagrined the doctor, whose success had made him over-confident and less watchful. They sailed from Montreal on May 31 and expect to arrive in London on the 5th or 6th of July.

Mrs. Laura Houtz gave a large kensington on Thursday afternoon at her home on Eighteenth and M, for her guests, Miss Baker, of Portland, Oregon, and Miss Kelly, of Omaha. A number of debutantes sang: Misses Lansing, Raymond, Kelly, Whedon, and afterwards Miss Maule Oakley. Miss Houtz entertains again this afternoon. Miss Kelly will return to Omaha on Monday.

Mrs. C. L. Burr gave a kensington from 3 to 6 p. m. for the Kappa Alpha Theta and a few friends on Thursday. They played guessing games.

The guests were:
Misses Leola Vance,
" Grace McMillan,
" Jean Tuttle,
" Anna Barr,
" Dena Loomis,
" Emily Weeks,
" Nell Randall,
" Lyda Millar,
" Edith Schwartz,
" Jessicka Morgan,
" Blanche Hargreaves,
" Olive Latta,
" Emma Outcalt,
Mrs. W. E. Hardy,
" C. L. Todd,
Miss Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carter returned from Omaha on Wednesday where they have been making a ten days' visit.

Prof. L. C. Walker has returned with his bride.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Harris of Chicago are visiting relatives in the city.

George N. Foresman, who used to be here and was a "friend to his friends and his friends' friends," is taking up old associations where he left them off several years ago.

Mrs. L. A. McCandless has gone to Nebraska City to visit friends a week or so.

The Patriarchs held a party at the beach last night. Each member was permitted to invite two couples. Barring the weather, which was a little chilly, the party was a great success.

The chemistry department gave a banquet in the chemical laboratory hall on Thursday night, with the usual crucible and test tube service. The guests were thirty-six in number, and the waiter girls were the feminine members of the freshman class.

The Lancaster County Farmers' club had a picnic on Thursday at the state farm. Mr. and Mrs. Will Peryn, who have charge of the farm, with Professors Card, Lyon and F. W. Taylor, received the university guests.

Ex Queen Liliuokalani has just published a book of original songs for distribution among her friends, many of whom have enjoyed the opportunity of listening to the music upon the rare occasions when the deposed Queen has elected to entertain in her apartments at the Cairo, in Washington. Whether she will eventually make a financial venture by the sale of her book depends upon the notice the volume may attract; any addition to Liliuokalani's depleted exchequer will prove most welcome.

The ministers of the city held a banquet in the parlors of the First Baptist church. The tables were placed in the form of a triangle with the base open. They were decorated with flowers by Mrs. Barr Parker and the young ladies of Mr. Noble's Sunday school class. The banqueters were: Chancellor MacLean, Rev. and Mrs. Lewis Gregory, Rev. and Mrs. John Doane, Rev. Arthur Frost Newell, Dr. and Mrs. Shepherd, Rev. Robert Chipperfield, Dr. and Mrs. Hindman, Rev. and Mrs. T. M. Stauffer, Rev. Peter Munson, Rev. and Mrs. L. P. Ludden, Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Kirshenstein, Dr. and Mrs. F. S. Stein, Rev. and Mrs. O. A. Elliott, Prof. and Mrs. Fred W. Wood, Rev. Samuel Cochran, Dean and Mrs. Lowe of the Wesleyan university, Dr. and Mrs. H. O. Rowlands. Dr. Shepherd introduced the speakers and announced the toasts. He had the first and last word and his welcome and speeding kept things moving. Chancellor MacLean was the first speaker. His subject was "Clerical Cerebration." Rev. Lewis Gregory spoke on a subject which, his twenty years before the Congregationalists in Lincoln should make him a master of viz: "Church Life in Lincoln." Dr. F. S. Stein's subject was, "The Minister and Public Questions." His remarks showed that he knew what was going on and what people were thinking about, as well as his own opinion of the subjects and his relation to them. "The Model Wife for a Minister," by Dr. John Doane, was handled, considering that his own wife sat next to him, with discrimination. Mr. Doane said that the model for every minister should be "his wife." She ought to be a perfect theologian so she could criticize her husband's sermons. She ought to be a missionary a few years before she married so she could be president of the missionary society. Rev. Robert Chipperfield spoke on "The Reveries of a Ministerial Bachelor." Mr. Chipper-
