Social and Personal

The following concerning an Omaha pair lately married is taken from an eastern paper:

A curious case of mental aberration occurred at St. Paul a few days ago. It resulted in the arrest and temporary confinement in a decidedly dirty police station of a worthy young man, scion of a wealthy and exclusive Chicago family. He had been married in Omaha a few days before to the daughter of an Omaha speculator. The bride, besides being an heiress and a beauty of the daintiest blonde type, is the possessor of an exquisite soprano voice, and enjoys a popularity as wide as her acquaintance. The match was regarded on all sides as a peculiarly felicitous one, the couple having been companions in childhood, when both families resided in the south, and lovers as life's springtime broadened into summer. A trip to London and the continent had been arranged for the honeymoon, after which the Chicagoan was to become a partner in his father's interests. A thoroughly well-appointed establishment awaited the return of the pair from their post nuptial journey. There appeared no sign of a cloud on life's horizon as the pair set out from Omaha en route to Chicago, where some days were to be spent with the bridegroom's parents before the run east was continued. As the train steamed out of the depot a telegram was handed the Chicagoan, who, believing it to be merely another congratulatory message from one of his friends, thrust it into his pocket, and did not open it until an hour later. Then, to his dismay, he found that it chronicled the sudden and dangerous illness of his father. When the bride was informed of this the news seemed to affect her seriously. She became hysterical, and her husband, growing alarmed, secured the services of a doctor in Sioux City, who accompanied the train to St. Paul. By the doctor's advice the young matron was left there to recuperate while the husband hurried to his father's bedside. Before he arrived the old gentleman had recovered from an attack of apoplexy that had created alarm for his safety, and was out of danger. Meanwhile the physician had placed the young woman under hypnotic control in order to relieve the hysteria from which she was suffering. When her husband entered the room she screamed, the hotel authorities were aroused and arrested the young man, who, just as he was being dragged to the jail, remembered the physician and had him called. The doctor explained everything, took the spell off the wife, wife recognized husband and he, although not happy, had presence of mind enough not to kick the doctor, who was the cause of all his woe.

Where some Lincoln people will spend the summer:—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith will spend the latter part of the summer in Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Lew Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Houtz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burr will spend several weeks at Lake Okiboji. Miss Cora Hardy leaves Wednesday for Ottawa Beach, near Chicago, and later she goes to Rochester, N. Y., where she will spend the remainder of the summer. Mr. and Mrs. I. S. P. Weeks and family leave the first of July for Boston. Prof. and Mrs. Sherman and family left yesterday for a summer in Colorado.

Miss Rita Rakestraw, of Salem, Oregon, and Miss Ethel Watkins, of Omaha are the guests of Mrs. Aaron Pickup, of 1000 L street.

Married, on Wednesday evening, June 23, at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Miss Elma Angelina Pike to Mr. Harry Thomas Bowen. At 8 o'clock the bride and groom preceded by the two little flower girls, Helen Easterday and Lola Bowen, the ushers, Messrs. J. E. Cauger, Al Bowen, Edward Pike and Fred Easterday, and the maid of honor, Miss Minnie Bowen, and the best man, Mr. William Easterday, entered the church, to the Lohengrin wedding march. The bride looked lovely in a gown of white silk and thread lace, a wedding veil and bride's roses. Miss Bowen's gown was white mousseline de soie and she carried a bouquet of meteor roses. The party halted before a group of palms and under a wedding bell. After the ceremony by the Rev. G. H. Albright, the wedding guests were received at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pike, 2835 S street. The house was filled with roses and carnations and happiness besides the friends, Miss Spalding, of Omaha, caught the brides bouquet. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Bowen went directly to their new home at 2035 P street, where they will be at home to their friends after July 10. Mr. Bowen has been deputy city clerk for some time and he has made many friends. He is not at all tainted with the officialism which is apt to stiffen the manners of an older man. His associates in the city and county gave him and his bride some very handsome presents as a token of good feeling and best wishes. The bride is a very pretty girl, who has made many friends.

Members of the Alumnae of Brownell Hall gave a reception at the parish house of Trinity Cathedral in Omaha to Dr. and Mrs. Doherty. As many of the names which were inscribed on the memorial addressed to him on this occasion of his last commencement at Brownell Hall are familiar to Lincoln people, the memorial and some of the names are appended:

We, members of the Alumnae association of Brownell Hall, desire to express our sincere regret that you are about to sever your relationship with the school in which you have labored so long and faithfully. We feel deeply the constant love and devotion with which you have blessed that home, with untiring labors by day and faithful prayer by night, and we wish to assure you of our loving gratitude and appreciation.

Dear friend and beloved teacher, by your never failing sympathy and personal interest, you have given a divine impulse to the lives of us all, even from the very first in the list, an impulse which will extend far into the future so that our children's children will call you blessed.
