

Library Day.

On Friday, October 22nd, Library Day will be observed in an appropriate manner by the city library. A day near the date of the discovery of the country by Columbus was set aside by the American Library association, at their meeting in 1893, in order to encourage and stimulate the interest in libraries, more particularly in those of small towns, and was observed in the beginning by each patron bringing a book on that day. But as Lincoln already has many books on the shelves of her public library, no gifts are asked from the hands of visitors, only their appreciative presence.

As it is impossible to allow the general public access to the book shelves, it has been thought by the library manager, that many people underrate the resources of the city library; and this opportunity is taken to present the books in such a manner, that a number on a given topic can be seen and handled together.

The works relating to Art will be collected on a table, those from the main shelves, as well as the illustrated books of the reference room, and will be under the charge of Mrs. McConnell, who will gladly show them to those interested, and will also explain the pictures hanging on the walls.

At another table, Mrs. L. C. Richards will preside over the books relating to Shakespeare and Browning and their works.

The children's books and pictures will be under the direction of Mrs. H. H. Wilson. All the books which could possibly interest children will be gathered here; books on history, biography, science, fiction, with pictures of flowers, animals and birds.

Mrs. L. L. H. Austin will have charge of the books on American history, all the works relating to Columbus and the discovery of America, also those on the Colonial Period.

The rooms will be appropriately decorated with flags and palms, and a hearty welcome will be extended to all.

You are quite safe in doing this because our service from Chicago, Peoria, St. Louis, and Kansas City, in fact all eastern, southeastern and southern cities is just as good as our service to those points. And that, as everyone who is acquainted with it will testify, is the best there is.
