

at his favorite bar, and the plan explained to him. He was very slow to understand and it was necessary to go over it a second time. At last light appeared to break on his mind. He drew himself up and looked the editor squarely in the face. "Wot t'ell?" said he; "youse wants me to feed me face at table alongside o' dis gent an' den turn right around an' knock him, eh? Wot do youse take me fer? Go fall into de bay, willyer?" And that is how the great enterprise went a-gley.

Miss Katherine Brooks gave a kaffe klatsch on Tuesday afternoon for her guests, Miss Somers and Miss Smith of Fremont. The parlors were tastefully decorated with roses and daffodils. Her guests were:

Mrs. Irving G. Chapin gave a most delightful kensington on Tuesday afternoon. "Poetry" was the entertainment for the occasion. Each guest was given two words which must be included in one verse or more of poetry. Some poems made startling rhymes, some were very witty and others really quite poetic. Three judges were chosen who gave Mrs. Candy's poem first place, and Mrs. Hutchins' second. Dainty refreshments were served. The guests were:

Chancellor and Mrs. MacLean entertained about seventy-five of the law students, and the faculty and their wives on Wednesday evening. Mr. C. A. Robbins introduced the guests, who were cordially received by the chancellor and Mrs. MacLean, Mrs. J. H. MacLean, Judge and Mrs. Reese, Judge

Harrison and Mr. Wilson. Mrs. MacLean was assisted in serving by Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. Wilson. After the reception the guests retired to the hall on the third floor to hear the program which had been prepared. The Hagenow quartet delighted the audience, as usual, with several well chosen selections. The chancellor first addressed the guests, then resigned the chair to Dean Reese. He called upon Chief Justice Harrison first, who spoke brilliantly and to the point. Dr. Lowery did himself credit next. Judge Ryan spoke with dignity and freedom and was much enjoyed. Messrs. Grovener, Beal, Robbins, Wilson, Dennison and Berge each made a short speech, full of wit and humor, yet carrying weight withal. This evening was thoroughly enjoyable to all present.

Nebraska Alpha of Phi Delta Theta gave their fourth annual banquet at their chapter home on Saturday evening. Every preparation had been made to have this event a memorable one, and it is needless to say that the effort was successful. Business men of this fraternity who live in the city, and out of town members added their support. The always artistic home was decorated with cut flowers, the white carnation, the flower of the fraternity, predominated. After the sumptuous banquet Mr. W. H. Oury, toastmaster, called for the following responses.

- "The Alumni," Thomas Creigh.
- "The Old Hall," C. H. Von Mansfelde.
- "The House," A. C. Wecheus.
- "Phi Delta Theta," R. S. Mueller.
- "Phoebe," K. C. Randall.
- "Giria," Phil Russell.
- "The Phi Pedagogue," H. C. Parmelee.
- "The Faculty," Dr. Wolcott.
- "A Hunting We Will Go," R. W. Haggard.

- "Psyche," H. A. Tukey.
- "Me an' Hastie," I. F. Roddy.
- "My College Days," Gen. G. R. Webster.
- "The Phis in Public Life," Hon. J. M. Lambertson.

The responses were bright and witty and full of good cheer. A number of telegrams and letters were read from T. E. Wing and J. C. Jones of New York, and other members who are out of the city. The responses were bright and witty and full of good cheer. The guests from abroad were:

- Hayward, Nebraska City.
- Creigh, Linquist, Palmer, O. Funke, Omaha.
- Spooner, Council Bluffs.
- Parmelee, Beatrice.

- Those in Lincoln were:

| J. Stebbins. | |

The Delta Gamma fraternity was entertained most delightfully on Saturday by Mrs. Maurice Deutsch, one of the charter members of the fraternity. It was in celebration of the founding of this chapter in Nebraska. A special car was chartered and the young ladies left early in the morning in order to have a whole day of fun. The home of Mrs. Deutsch had been tastefully decorated with roses and palms. The banquet table was especially beautiful. Each guest received a cream yellow rose, the flower of the fraternity. The
